INTRODUCTORY NOTICE

OTHELLO.

JOHANNES

Printed by Verlagsanstalt und Druckerei A.-G. (vormals J. F. Richter) in Hamburg.

INTRODUCTORY NOTICE.

Othello was first printed in Quarto in 1622 with the following title: 'The Tragœdy of Othello, The Moore of Venice. As it hath beene diuerse times acted at the Globe, and at the Blackfriars, by his Maiesties Seruants. Written by William Shakespeare. London, Printed by N. O. for Thomas Walkley, and are to be sold at his shop, at the Eagle and Child, in Brittans Bursse. 1622.' A commendatory preface is added by the publisher. The text of this edition is apparently founded on an earlier acting copy, as it contains many oaths and expletives omitted by the later editions. A second Quarto, published in 1630, seems to have been printed from a copy of Q₁, which had received additions and corrections in manuscript. The folio text is independent from either Quarto.

The earliest authentic notice of the performance of the tragedy is in The Accounts of the Revels, which show that it was played at court Nov. 1st, 1604. It must therefore have been written before this date.

The story of Othello is to be found in Cinthio's Hecatommithi (Dec. III. Novel 3). The novel, however, not only differs considerably from the play in incident, but Cinthio's characters have no names with the exception of Desdemona. The names of Othello and Iago occur in Reynold's God's revenge against Adultery, in which the expedition of the Turks against Cyprus is related. The accounts of the cannibals and 'men whose heads do grow beneath their shoulders' are taken from Sir Walter Raleigh's narrative of the Discovery of Guiana.

DRAMATIS PERSONÆ.

DUKE OF VENICE.

BRABANTIO, a senator.

Other Senators.

GRATIANO, brother to Brabantio.

LODOVICO, kinsman to Brabantio.

OTHELLO, a noble Moor in the service of the Venetian state.

CASSIO, his lieutenant.

IAGO, his ancient.

RODERIGO, a Venetian gentleman.

MONTANO, Othello's predecessor in the government of Cyprus.

Clown, servant to Othello.

DESDEMONA, daughter to Brabantio and wife to Othello.

EMILIA, wife to Iago.

BIANCA, mistress to Cassio.

Sailor, Messenger, Herald, Officers, Gentlemen,
Musicians, and Attendants.

SCENE: Venice: a Sea-port in Cyprus.

ACT I.

SCENE I. Venice. A street.

Enter RODERIGO and IAGO.

Rod. Tush, never tell me: I take it much unkindly
That thou, Iago, who hast had my purse
As if the strings were thine, shouldst know of this,—

Iago. 'Sblood, but you will not hear me:—
5 If ever I did dream of such a matter,
Abhor me.

Rod. Thou told'st me thou didst hold him in thy hate.

Iago. Despise me, if I do not. Three great ones of the city,
In personal suit to make me his lieutenant,
10 Off-capp'd to him: and, by the faith of man,
I know my price, I am worth no worse a place:—

Acts and Scenes are marked throughout in Ff; in Qq only at the beginning of Acts II, III, IV, and V. — Roderigo Ff (so throughout!). ¹ Tush, om. - But he, as loving his own pride and purposes,
 Evades them, with a bombast circumstance
 Horribly stuff'd with epithets of war;
 15 And, in conclusion,
 Nonsuits my mediators; for, 'Certes,' says he,
 'I have already chose my officer.'
 And what was he?
 Forsooth, a great arithmetician,
 20 One Michael Cassio, a Florentine,
 A fellow almost damn'd in a fair wife;
 That never set a squadron in the field,
 Nor the division of a battle knows
 More than a spinster; unless the bookish theoric,
 25 Wherein the toged consuls can propose
 As masterly as he: mere prattle, without practice,
 Is all his soldiership. But he, Sir, had the election:
 And I—of whom his eyes had seen the proof
 At Rhodes, at Cyprus, and on other grounds
 30 Christian and heathen—must be be-lee'd and calm'd
 By debtor and creditor: this counter-caster,
 He, in good time, must his lieutenant be,
 And I—God bless the mark!—his Moorship's ancient.
- Rod.* By heaven, I rather would have been his hangman.
- 35 Iago. Why, there's no remedy; 'tis the curse of service,
 Preferment goes by letter and affection,
 And not by old gradation, where each second
 Stood heir to the first. Now, Sir, be judge yourself,

Whether I in any just term am affin'd
40 To love the Moor.

Rod. I would not follow him then.

Iago. O, Sir, content you;
I follow him to serve my turn upon him:
We cannot all be masters, nor all masters
Cannot be truly follow'd. You shall mark
45 Many a duteous and knee-crooking knave,
That, doting on his own obsequious bondage,
Wears out his time, much like his master's ass,
For nought but provender; and when he's old, cashier'd:
Whip me such honest knaves. Others there are 50 Who, trimm'd in forms and visages of duty,
Keep yet their hearts attending on themselves,
And, throwing but shows of service on their lords,
Do well thrive by them, and when they have lin'd their coats

Do themselves homage: these fellows have some soul;
55 And such ~~a~~ one do I profess myself.

For, Sir,
It is as sure as you are Roderigo,
Were I the Moor, I would not be Iago:
In following him, I follow but myself;
Heaven is my judge, not I for love and duty,
60 But seeming so, for my peculiar end:
For when my outward action doth demonstrate
The native act and figure of my heart
In compliment extern, 'tis not long after
But I will wear my heart upon my sleeve
65 For daws to peck at: I am not what I am.

Rod. What a full fortune does the thick-lips owe,
If he can carry't thus!

Iago. Call up her father,

Rouse him:—make after him, poison his delight,
 Proclaim him in the streets; incense her kinsmen:
 70 And, though he in a fertile climate dwell,
 Plague him with flies: though that his joy be joy,
 Yet throw such changes of vexation on't,
 As it may lose some colour.

Rod. Here is her father's house; I'll call aloud.

75 Iago. Do, with like timorous accent and dire yell
 As when, by night and negligence, the fire
 Is spied in populous cities.

Rod. What, ho, Brabantio! Signior Brabantio, ho!

Iago. Awake! what, ho, Brabantio! thieves! thieves!

80 Look to your house, your daughter, and your bags!
 Thieves! thieves!

BRABANTIO appears above, at a window.

Bra. What is the reason of this terrible summons?
 What is the matter there?

Rod. Signior, is all your family within?

85 Iago. Are your doors lock'd?

Bra. Why, wherefore ask you this?

Iago. 'Zounds, Sir, you're robb'd; for shame, put on your gown;

Your heart is burst, you have lost half your soul;
 Even now, now, very now, an old black ram
 Is tugging your white ewe. Arise, arise;
 90 Awake the snorting citizens with the bell,
 Or else the devil will make a grandsire of you:
 Arise, I say.

⁷⁰ An though S. Walker conj. (Crit. Exam. II. 156). ⁷² chances Ff. ⁷⁹ thieves twice in Ff. ⁸¹ Brabantio at a window. Qq, Bra. above Ff. ^{82,83} In Ff the first line ends at terrible ||. ⁸⁶ Zounds Q¹, om. the rest. — you are Qq, y'are Ff.

Bra. What, have you lost your wits?

Rod. Most reverend Signior, do you know my voice?

Bra. Not I: what are you?

95 Rod. My name is Roderigo.

Bra. The worser welcome:

I have charg'd thee not to haunt about my doors:

In honest plainness thou hast heard me say

My daughter is not for thee: and now, in madness,

Being full of supper and distempering draughts,

100 Upon malicious bravery, dost thou come

To start my quiet;—

Rod. Sir, Sir, Sir,—

Bra. But thou must needs be sure

My spirit and my place have in them power

To make this bitter to thee.

Rod. Patience, good Sir.

105 Bra. What tell'st thou me of robbing? this is Venice;
My house is not a grange.

Rod. Most grave Brabantio;

In simple and pure soul I come to you.

Iago. 'Zounds, Sir, you are one of those that will not serve God, if the devil bid you. Because we come 110 to do you service, and you think we are ruffians, you'll have your daughter covered with a Barbary horse; you'll have your nephews neigh to you; you'll have coursers for cousins, and gennets for germans.

115 Bra. What profane wretch art thou?

Iago. I am one, Sir, that comes to tell you your daughter and the Moor are now making the beast with two backs.

Bra. Thou art a villain.

Iago. You are—a senator.

120 Bra. This thou shalt answer: I know thee, Roderigo.

Rod. Sir, I will answer any thing. But, I beseech
you,

If't be your pleasure and most wise consent,
As partly I find it is, that your fair daughter,
At this odd-even and dull watch o' the night,
125 Transported, with no worse nor better guard
But with a knave of common hire, a gondolier,
To the gross claps of a lascivious Moor,—
If this be known to you, and your allowance,
We then have done you bold and saucy wrongs;
130 But if you know not this, my manners tell me
We have your wrong rebuke. Do not believe
That, from the sense of all civility,
I thus would play and trifle with your reverence:
Your daughter,—if you have not given her leave,— 135 I say again, hath made a gross revolt;
Tying her duty, beauty, wit, and fortunes
In an extravagant and wheeling stranger
Of here and every where. Straight satisfy yourself:
If she be in her chamber or your house,
140 Let loose on me the justice of the state
For thus deluding you.

Bra. Strike on the tinder, ho!
Give me a taper!—call up all my people!—
This accident is not unlike my dream:
Belief of it oppresses me already.—
145 Light, I say! light! [Exit above.]

Iago. Farewell; for I must leave you:
It seems not meet, nor wholesome to my place,

122-138 Om. Q¹. 124 odd-even hyphened by Malone, odd steven Steevens conj., odd hour Cartwright conj., even at this odd Beckett conj. 126 Gundelier FfQ³Q³; pronounce as a disyllable, and see Walker, Sh.'s Versification, p. 218; Abbott, Sh. Gr., § 497.
145 [Exit.] F¹, om. the rest.

To be produc'd—as, if I stay, I shall—
 Against the Moor: for, I do know, the state—
 However this may gall him with some check—
 150 Cannot with safety cast him; for he's embark'd
 With such loud reason to the Cyprus wars,
 Which even now stands in act, that, for their souls,
 Another of his fathom they have none,
 To lead their business: in which regard,
 155 Though I do hate him as I do hell-pains,
 Yet, for necessity of present life,
 I must show out a flag and sign of love,
 Which is indeed but sign. That you shall surely find him,
 Lead to the Sagittary the raised search;
 160 And there will I be with him. So, farewell. [Exit.]

Enter, below, BRABANTIO, and Servants with torches.

Bra. It is too true an evil: gone she is;
 And what's to come of my despised time
 Is nought but bitterness.—Now, Roderigo,
 Where didst thou see her?—O unhappy girl!—
 165 With the Moor, say'st thou?—Who would be a father!—
 How didst thou know 'twas she?—O, she deceives me
 Past thought!—What said she to you?—Get more tapers;
 Raise all my kindred.—Are they married, think you?

Rod. Truly, I think they are.

170 Bra. O heaven!—How got she out?—O treason of the blood!—

By what you see them act. Is there not charms
By which the property of youth and maidhood
May be abus'd? Have you not read, Roderigo, 175 Of some such thing?

Rod. Yes, Sir, I have indeed.

Bra. Call up my brother.—O, would you had had her!—

Some one way, some another.—Do you know
Where we may apprehend her and the Moor?

Rod. I think I can discover him, if you please 180 To get good guard, and go along with me.

Bra. Pray you, lead on. At every house I'll call;
I may command at most.—Get weapons, ho!
And raise some special officers of night.—
On, good Roderigo;—I'll deserve your pains. [Exeunt.]

SCENE II. Another street.

Enter OTHELLO, IAGO, and Attendants with torches.

Iago. Though in the trade of war I have slain men,
Yet do I hold it very stuff o' the conscience
To do no cóntriv'd murder: I lack iniquity
Sometimes to do me service: nine or ten times
5 I had thought to have yerck'd him here under the ribs.

Oth. 'Tis better as it is.

Iago. Nay, but he prated,
And spoke such scurvy and provoking terms
Against your honour,
That, with the little godliness I have,

¹⁷² Are the later folios. ¹⁸³ might FfQ²Q³. ¹⁸⁴ I will Ff.
⁴ Sometime Ff. ^{8,9} As in Pope; one line in QqFf.

10 I did full hard forbear him. But, I pray you, Sir,
 Are you fast married? Be assur'd of this,
 That the magnifico is much belov'd,
 And hath, in his effect, a voice potential
 As double as the duke's: he will divorce you;
 15 Or put upon you what restraint and grievance
 The law—with all his might to enforce it on—
 Will give him cable.

Oth. Let him do his spite:
 My services which I have done the signiory
 Shall out-tongue his complaints. 'Tis yet to know,—
 20 Which, when I know that boasting is an honour,
 I shall promulgate,—I fetch my life and being
 From men of royal siege; and my demerits
 May speak unbonneted to as proud a fortune
 As this that I have reach'd: for know, Iago,
 25 But that I love the gentle Desdemona,
 I would not my unhoused free condition
 Put into circumscription and confine
 For the sea's worth. But, look! what lights come yond?

Iago. Those are the raised father and his friends:
 30 You were best go in.

Oth. Not I; I must be found:
 My parts, my title, and my perfect soul
 Shall manifest me rightly. Is it they?

Iago. By Janus, I think no.

Enter CASSIO, and certain Officers with torches.

Oth. The servants of the duke, and my lieutenant.—

35 The goodness of the night upon you, friends!
What is the news?

Cas. The duke does greet you, general,
And he requires your haste-post-haste appearance,
Even on the instant.

Oth. What is the matter, think you?

Cas. Something from Cyprus, as I may divine:
40 It is a business of some heat: the galleys
Have sent a dozen sequent messengers
This very night at one another's heels;
And many of the consuls, rais'd and met,
Are at the duke's already: you have been hotly call'd for;

45 When, being not at your lodging to be found,
The senate hath sent about three several quests
To search you out.

Oth. 'Tis well I am found by you.
I will but spend a word here in the house,
And go with you. [Exit.]

Cas. Ancient, what makes he here?

50 Iago. 'Faith, he to-night hath boarded a land carack:
If it prove lawful prize, he's made for ever.

Cas. I do not understand.

Iago. He's married.

Cas. To who?

Re-enter OTHELLO.

Iago. Marry, to—Come, captain, will you go?

Oth. Have with you.

Cas. Here comes another troop to seek for you.

He comes to bad intent.

Enter BRABANTIO, RODERIGO, and Officers with torches and weapons.

Oth. Holla! stand there!

Rod. Signior, it is the Moor.

Bra. Down with him, thief!

[They draw on both sides.]

Iago. You, Roderigo! come, Sir, I am for you.

Oth. Keep up your bright swords, for the dew will rust them.

Good signior, you shall more command with years
Than with your weapons.

Bra. O thou foul thief, where hast thou stow'd my daughter?

Damn'd as thou art, thou hast enchanted her;

65 For I'll refer me to all things of sense,

If she in chains of magic were not bound,

Whether a maid so tender, fair, and happy,

So opposite to marriage that she shunn'd

The wealthy curled darlings of our nation,

70 Would ever have, to incur a general mock,

Run from her guardage to the sooty bosom

Of such a thing as thou,—to fear, not to delight.

Judge me the world, if 'tis not gross in sense

That thou hast practis'd on her with foul charms,

75 Abus'd her delicate youth with drugs or minerals

That weakens motion:—I'll have't disputed on:

'Tis probable and palpable to thinking.
I therefore apprehend and do attach thee,
For an abuser of the world, a practiser
Of arts inhibited and out of warrant.—

80 Lay hold upon him: if he do resist,
Subdue him at his peril.

Oth. Hold your hands,
Both you of my inclining, and the rest:
Were it my cue to fight, I should have known it
Without a prompter.—Where will you that I go 85 To answer this your charge?

Bra. To prison; till fit time
Of law, and course of direct session,
Call thee to answer.

Oth. What if I do obey?
How may the duke be therewith satisfied,
Whose messengers are here about my side,
90 Upon some present business of the state
To bring me to him?

First Off. 'Tis true, most worthy Signior;
The duke 's in council, and your noble self,
I am sure, is sent for.

Bra. How! the duke in council?
In this time of the night!—Bring him away:
95 Mine's not an idle cause: the duke himself,
Or any of my brothers of the state,
Cannot but feel this wrong as 'twere their own;
For if such actions may have passage free,
Bond-slaves and pagans shall our statesmen be.

SCENE III. A council-chamber.

*The DUKE and Senators sitting at a table;
Officers attending.*

Duke. There is no composition in these news
That gives them credit.

First Sen. Indeed, they are disproportion'd;
My letters say a hundred and seven galleys.

Duke. And mine, a hundred and forty.

Sec. Sen. And mine, two hundred:
5 But though they jump not on a just account,—
As in these cases, where the aim reports,
'Tis oft with difference,—yet do they all confirm
A Turkish fleet, and bearing up to Cyprus.

Duke. Nay, it is possible enough to judgment:
10 I do not so secure me in the error,
But the main article I do approve
In fearful sense.

Sailor. [Within] What, ho! what, ho! what, ho!

First Off. A messenger from the galleys.

Enter a Sailor.

Duke. Now,—what's the business?

Sail. The Turkish preparation makes for Rhodes;
15 So was I bid report here to the state
By Signior Angelo.

Duke. How say you by this change?

First Sen.

This cannot be,

By no assay of reason: 'tis a pageant,
To keep us in false gaze. When we consider
20 The importancy of Cyprus to the Turk;
And let ourselves again but understand,
That as it more concerns the Turk than Rhodes,
So may he with more facile question bear it,
For that it stands not in such warlike brace,
25 But altogether lacks the abilities
That Rhodes is dress'd in:—if we make thought of this,
We must not think the Turk is so unskilful
To leave that latest which concerns him first,
Neglecting an attempt of ease and gain,
30 To wake and wage a danger profitless.

Duke. Nay, in all confidence, he's not for Rhodes.

First Off. Here is more news.

Enter a Messenger.

Mess. The Ottomites, reverend and gracious,
Steering with due course towards the isle of Rhodes,
35 Have there injointed them with an after fleet.

First Sen. Ay, so I thought. How many, as you guess?

Mess. Of thirty sail: and now they do re-stem
Their backward course, bearing with frank appearance
Their purposes toward Cyprus. Signior Montano,
40 Your trusty and most valiant servitor,
With his free duty recommends you thus,
And prays you to believe him.

Duke. 'Tis certain, then, for Cyprus.

Enter BRABANTIO, OTHELLO, IAGO, RODERIGO, and Officers.

Duke. Valiant Othello, we must straight employ you Against the general enemy Ottoman.—

50 [To Brabantio] I did not see you; welcome, gentle Signior;

We lack'd your counsel and your help to-night.

Bra. So did I yours. Good your Grace, pardon me; Neither my place, nor aught I heard of business, Hath rais'd me from my bed; nor doth the general care 55 Take hold on me, for my particular grief Is of so flood-gate and o'erbearing nature That it engulfs and swallows other sorrows, And it is still itself.

Duke. Why, what's the matter?

Bra. My daughter! O, my daughter!

Duke and Sen. Dead?

And you of her, the bloody book of law
You shall yourself read in the bitter letter
After your own sense, yea, though our proper son
70 Stood in your action.

Bra. Humbly I thank your Grace.
Here is the man, this Moor, whom now, it seems,
Your special mandate for the state-affairs
Hath hither brought.

Duke and Sen. We are very sorry for't.

Duke. [To Othello] What, in your own part, can you say to this?

75 Bra. Nothing, but this is so.

Oth. Most potent, grave, and reverend Signiors,
My very noble and approv'd good masters,
That I have ta'en away this old man's daughter,
It is most true; true, I have married her:
80 The very head and front of my offending
Hath this extent, no more. Rude am I in my speech,
And little bless'd with the soft phrase of peace;
For since these arms of mine had seven years' pith,
Till now some nine moons wasted, they have us'd
85 Their dearest action in the tented field;
And little of this great world can I speak,
More than pertains to feats of broil and battle;
And therefore little shall I grace my cause
In speaking for myself. Yet, by your gracious patience, 90 I will a round unvarnish'd tale deliver
Of my whole course of love; what drugs, what charms,

What conjuration, and what mighty magic,—
For such proceeding I am charg'd withal,—
I won his daughter.

Bra. A maiden never bold;
95 Of spirit so still and quiet, that her motion
Blush'd at herself; and she—in spite of nature,
Of years, of country, credit, every thing—
To fall in love with what she fear'd to look on!
It is a judgment maim'd and most imperfect
100 That will confess perfection so could err
Against all rules of nature; and must be driven
To find out practices of cunning hell,
Why this should be. I therefore vouch again,
That with some mixtures powerful o'er the blood,
105 Or with some dram conjur'd to this effect,
He wrought upon her.

Duke. To vouch this, is no proof,
Without more wider and more overt test
Than these thin habits and poor likelihoods
Of modern seeming do prefer against him.

110 First Sen. But, Othello, speak:
Did you by indirect and forced courses
Subdue and poison this young maid's affections?
Or came it by request and such fair question
As soul to soul affordeth?

Oth. I do beseech you,
115 Send for the lady to the Sagittary,
And let her speak of me before her father:
If you do find me foul in her report,
The trust, the office, I do hold of you,
Not only take away, but let your sentence
120 Even fall upon my life.

Duke. Fetch Desdemona hither.

I do confess the vices of my blood,
So justly to your grave ears I'll present
125 How I did thrive in this fair lady's love,
And she in mine.

Duke. Say it, Othello.

Oth. Her father lov'd me; oft invited me;
Still question'd me the story of my life,
130 From year to year,—the battles, sieges, fortunes,
That I have pass'd.
I ran it through, even from my boyish days
To the very moment that he bade me tell it:
Wherein I spake of most disastrous chances,
135 Of moving accidents by flood and field,
Of hair-breadth scapes i' the imminent deadly breach;
Of being taken by the insolent foe
And sold to slavery; of my redemption thence
And portance in my travels' history:
140 Wherein of antres vast and deserts idle,
Rough quarries, rocks and hills whose heads touch heaven,
It was my hint to speak,—such was the process;
And of the Cannibals that each other eat,
The Anthropophagi, and men whose heads
145 Do grow beneath their shoulders. This to hear
Would Desdemona seriously incline:

But still the house-affairs would draw her thence;
Which ever as she could with haste dispatch,
She'd come again, and with a greedy ear
150 Devour up my discourse:—which I observing,
Took once a pliant hour; and found good means
To draw from her a prayer of earnest heart
That I would all my pilgrimage dilate,
Whereof by parcels she had something heard,
155 But not intentively: I did consent,
And often did beguile her of her tears,
When I did speak of some distressful stroke
That my youth suffer'd. My story being done,
She gave me for my pains a world of sighs:
160 She swore,—in faith, 'twas strange, 'twas passing strange,
'Twas pitiful, 'twas wondrous pitiful:
She wish'd she had not heard it; yet she wish'd
That heaven had made her such a man: she thank'd me;
And bade me, if I had a friend that lov'd her,
165 I should but teach him how to tell my story,
And that would woo her. Upon this hint I spake:
She lov'd me for the dangers I had pass'd;
And I lov'd her that she did pity them.
This only is the witchcraft I have us'd:—
170 Here comes the lady; let her witness it.

Des. My noble father,
 I do perceive here a divided duty:
 To you I am bound for life and education;
 My life and education both do learn me
 How to respect you; you are the lord of duty,— 185 I am hitherto your daughter: but here's my husband;
 And so much duty as my mother show'd
 To you, preferring you before her father,
 So much I challenge that I may profess
 Due to the Moor my lord.

Bra. God be with you! I have done.
 190 Please it your Grace, on to the state-affairs:
 I had rather to adopt a child than get it.—
 Come hither, Moor:
 I here do give thee that with all my heart
 Which, but thou hast already, with all my heart
 195 I would keep from thee.—For your sake, jewel,
 I am glad at soul I have no other child;
 For thy escape would teach me tyranny,
 To hang clogs on them.—I have done, my lord.

Duke. Let me speak like yourself; and lay a sentence,
 200 Which, as a grise or step, may help these lovers
 Into your favour.

 By seeing the worst, which late on hopes depended.

To mourn a mischief that is past and gone 205 Is the next way to draw new mischief on.
 What cannot be preserv'd when fortune takes Patience her injury a mockery makes.
 The robb'd that smiles steals something from the thief;
 He robs himself that spends a bootless grief.

210 Bra. So let the Turk of Cyprus us beguile;
 We lose it not, so long as we can smile.
 He bears the sentence well that nothing bears
 But the free comfort which from thence he hears;
 But he bears both the sentence and the sorrow
 115 That, to pay grief, must of poor patience borrow.
 These sentences, to sugar, or to gall,
 Being strong on both sides, are equivocal:
 But words are words; I never yet did hear
 That the bruis'd heart was pierced through the ear.—

220 I humbly beseech you, proceed to the affairs of state.

Duke. The Turk with a most mighty preparation makes for Cyprus:—Othello, the fortitude of the place is best known to you; and though we have there a substitute of most allowed sufficiency, yet opinion, a 225 sovereign mistress of effects, throws a more safer voice on you: you must therefore be content to slubber the gloss of your new fortunes with this more stubborn and boisterous expedition.

230 Oth. The tyrant custom, most grave senators,
 Hath made the flinty and steel couch of war
 My thrice-driven bed of down: I do agnize

Rod. It is silliness to live when to live is torment; 310 and then have we a prescription to die when death is our physician.

Iago. O villanous! I have looked upon the world for four times seven years; and since I could distinguish betwixt a benefit and an injury, I never found man that 315 knew how to love himself. Ere I would say, I would drown myself for the love of a guinea-hen, I would change

Iago. Virtue! a fig! 'tis in ourselves that we are thus or thus. Our bodies are our gardens; to the which our wills are gardeners; so that if we will plant nettles, or 325 sow lettuce, set hyssop, and weed up thyme; supply it with one gender of herbs, or distract it with many; either to have it sterile with idleness, or manured with industry; why, the power and corrigible authority of this
 330 lies in our wills. If the balance of our lives had not one scale of reason to poise another of sensuality, the blood and baseness of our natures would conduct us to most preposterous conclusions: but we have reason to 335 cool our raging motions, our carnal stings, our unbitted lusts; wereof I take this that you call love to be a sect or scion.

Rod. It cannot be.

Iago. It is merely a lust of the blood and a permission
 340 of the will. Come, be a man: drown thyself! drown cats and blind puppies. I have professed me thy friend, and I confess me knit to thy deserving with cables of perdurable toughness; I could never better stead thee
 345 than now. Put money in thy purse; follow thou the wars; defeat thy favour with an usurped beard; I say, put money in thy purse. It cannot be that Desdemona should long continue her love to the Moor,—put money
 350 in thy purse,—nor he his to her: it was a violent commencement, and thou shalt see an answerable sequestration;—put but money in thy purse.—These Moors are changeable in their wills:—fill thy purse with money:—the food that to him now is as luscious as locusts, shall 355 be to him shortly as bitter as coloquintida. She must change for youth: when she is sated with his body, she will find the error of her choice: she must have change, 365 tribe of hell, thou shalt enjoy her; therefore make money.

 A pox of drowning thyself! it is clean out of the way:
 seek thou rather to be hanged in compassing thy joy than to be drowned and go without her.

Rod. Wilt thou be fast to my hopes, if I depend on Iago. Thou art sure of me:—go, make money:—I have told thee often, and I re-tell thee again and again,

 I hate the Moor: my cause is hearted; thine hath no

I cannot, 'twixt the heaven and the main,
Descry a sail.

A fuller blast ne'er shook our battlements:
If it hath ruffian'd so upon the sea,
What ribs of oak, when mountains melt on them,
Can hold the mortise? What shall we hear of this?

10 Sec. Gent. A segregation of the Turkish fleet:
For do but stand upon the foaming shore,
The chidden billow seems to pelt the clouds;
The wind-shak'd surge, with high and monstrous mane,
Seems to cast water on the burning bear,

20 Third Gent. News, lads! our wars are done.
The desperate tempest hath so bang'd the Turks,
That their designment halts: a noble ship of Venice
Hath seen a grievous wreck and sufferance
On most part of their fleet.

25 Mon. How! is this true?

Third Gent. The ship is here put in,
A Veronesa; Michael Cassio,
Lieutenant to the warlike Moor Othello,
Is come on shore: the Moor himself at sea,
And is in full commission here for Cyprus.

30 Mon. I am glad on't; 'tis a worthy governor.

Third Gent. But this same Cassio,—though he speak

Third Gent. Come, let's do so;
For every minute is expectancy
Of more arrivance.

Enter CASSIO.

Cas. Thanks, you the valiant of this warlike isle,
That so approve the Moor! O, let the heavens
45 Give him defence against the elements,
For I have lost him on a dangerous sea.

Mon. Is he well shipp'd?

Cas. His bark is stoutly timber'd, and his pilot
Of very expert and approv'd allowance;
50 Therefore my hopes, not surfeited to death,
Stand in bold cure.

[A cry within 'A sail, a sail, a sail!']

Enter a fourth Gentleman.

Cas. What noise?

Fourth Gent. The town is empty; on the brow o' the sea

Stand ranks of people, and they cry 'A sail!'

55 Cas. My hopes do shape him for the governor.

[Guns heard.]

Sec. Gent. They do discharge their shot of courtesy:
Our friends at least.

Cas. I pray you, Sir, go forth,
And give us truth who 'tis that is arriv'd.

Sec. Gent. I shall.

That paragon's description and wild fame;
One that excels the quirks of blazoning pens,
And in the essential vesture of creation
65 Does tire the ingener.

Re-enter second Gentleman.

How now! who has put in?

Sec. Gent. 'Tis one Iago, ancient to the general.

Cas. Has had most favourable and happy speed:
Tempests themselves, high seas and howling winds,
The gutter'd rocks and congregated sands,—
70 Traitors ensteep'd to enclog the guiltless keel,—
As having sense of beauty, do omit
Their mortal natures, letting go safely by
The divine Desdemona.

Mon. What is she?

Cas. She that I spake of, our great captain's captain,
75 Left in the conduct of the bold Iago,
Whose footing here anticipates our thoughts
A se'nnight's speed.—Great Jove, Othello guard,
And swell his sail with thine own powerful breath,
That he may bless this bay with his tall ship,

Give renew'd fire to our extincted spirits,

Des. I thank you, valiant Cassio.
What tidings can you tell me of my lord?

Cas. He is not yet arriv'd: nor know I aught
90 But that he's well, and will be shortly here.

Des. O, but I fear—How lost you company?

Cas. The great contention of the sea and skies
Parted our fellowship:—but, hark! a sail.

95 Sec. Gent. They give their greeting to the citadel:
This likewise is a friend.

Cas. See for the news.—[Exit Gentleman.

Mistress:—

Let it not gall your patience, good Iago,
That I extend my manners; 'tis my breeding

Iago. Sir, would she give you so much of her lips
As of her tongue she oft bestows on me,
You'd have enough.

Bells in your parlours, wild-cats in your kitchens,
Saints in your injuries, devils being offended, Players in your housewifery, and housewives in your beds.

Des. O, fie upon thee, slanderer!

115 Iago. Nay, it is true, or else I am a Turk:
You rise to play, and go to bed to work.

Emil. You shall not write my praise.

Iago. No, let me not.

Des. What wouldst thou write of me, if thou shouldst praise me?

Iago. O gentle lady, do not put me to't;
120 For I am nothing, if not critical.

Des. Come on, assay.—There's one gone to the harbour?

Iago. Ay, Madam.

Des. I am not merry; but I do beguile
The thing I am, by seeming otherwise.
125 Come, how wouldst thou praise me?

Iago. I am about it; but, indeed, my invention
Comes from my pate as birdlime does from frize,—
It plucks out brains and all: but my Muse labours,
And thus she is deliver'd.

Iago. If she be black, and thereto have a wit,
She'll find a white that shall her blackness fit.

135 Des. Worse and worse.

Emil. How if fair and foolish?

Iago. She never yet was foolish that was fair;
For even her folly help'd her to an heir.

Des. These are old fond paradoxes to make fools 140 laugh i' the alehouse. What miserable praise hast thou for her that's foul and foolish?

Iago. There's none so foul and foolish thereunto,
But does foul pranks which fair and wise ones do.

Des. O heavy ignorance!—thou praisest the worst 145 best. But what praise couldst thou bestow on a deserving woman indeed,—one that, in the authority of her merit, did justly put on the vouch of very malice itself?

Iago. She that was ever fair, and never proud,
150 Had tongue at will, and yet was never loud,
Never lack'd gold, and yet went never gay,
Fled from her wish, and yet said 'Now I may;
She that, being anger'd, her revenge being nigh,
Bade her wrong stay, and her displeasure fly;
155 She that in wisdom never was so frail

She that could think, and ne'er disclose her mind;
See suitors following, and not look behind;
She was a wight, if ever such wight were,— 160 Des. To do what?

Iago. To suckle fools and chronicle small beer.

learn of him, Emilia, though he be thy husband.—How 170 as great a fly as Cassio. Ay, smile upon her, do; I will gyve thee in thine own courtship. You say true; 'tis so, indeed: if such tricks as these strip you out of your lieutenantry, it had been better you had not kissed 175 your three fingers so oft, which now again you are most apt to play the sir in. Very good; well kissed! an excellent courtesy! 'tis so, indeed. Yet again your fingers to your lips? would they were clyster-pipes for your 180 sake! [Trumpet within.—The Moor! I know his trumpet.

Cas. 'Tis truly so.

Des. Let's meet him and receive him.

Cas. Lo, where he comes!

Enter OTHELLO and Attendants.

Oth. O my fair warrior!

Des. My dear Othello!

185 Oth. It gives me wonder great as my content
 To see you here before me. O my soul's joy!
 If after every tempest come such calms,
 May the winds blow till they have waken'd death!
 And let the labouring bark climb hills of seas
 190 Olympus-high, and duck again as low
 As hell's from heaven! If it were now to die,
 'Twere now to be most happy; for, I fear,
 My soul hath her content so absolute,
 That not another comfort like to this 195 Succeeds in unknown fate.

But that our loves and comforts should increase,

That e'er our hearts shall make!

Iago. [Aside] O, you are well tun'd now!
But I'll set down the pegs that make this music,
As honest as I am.

Oth. Come, let us to the castle.—
News, friends; our wars are done, the Turks are drown'd.
205 How does my old acquaintance of this isle?—
Honey, you shall be well desir'd in Cyprus;
I have found great love amongst them. O my sweet,
I prattle out of fashion, and I dote
In mine own comforts.—I prithee, good Iago,
210 Go to the bay and disembark my coffers:
Bring thou the master to the citadel;
He is a good one, and his worthiness
Does challenge much respect.—Come, Desdemona,
Once more, well met at Cyprus.

215 Iago. Do thou meet me presently at the harbour.
Come hither. If thou be'st valiant,—as, they say, base men being in love have then a nobility in their natures more than is native to them,—list me. The lieutenant

Iago. Lay thy finger thus, and let thy soul be instructed. Mark me with what violence she first loved 225 the Moor, but for bragging and telling her fantastical lies: and will she love him still for prating? let not thy discreet heart think it. Her eye must be fed; and what delight shall she have to look on the devil? When the blood is made dull with the act of sport, there should 230 be—again to inflame it and to give satiety a fresh appetite—loveliness in favour, sympathy in years, manners and beauties; all which the Moor is defective in: now, for want of these required conveniences, her delicate
 235 tenderness will find itself abused, begin to heave the gorge, disrelish and abhor the Moor; very nature will instruct her in it, and compel her to some second choice. Now, Sir, this granted,—as it is a most pregnant and
 240 unforced position,—who stands so eminent in the degree of this fortune as Cassio does? a knave very voluble; no further conscionable than in putting on the mere form of civil and humane seeming, for the better compassing
 245 of his salt and most hidden loose affection? why, none: a slipper and subtle knave; a finder out of occasions; that has an eye can stamp and counterfeit advantages, though true advantage never present itself: a devilish
 250 knave! Besides, the knave is handsome, young, and hath all those requisites in him that folly and green minds look after: a pestilent complete knave; and the woman hath found him already.

Rod. I cannot believe that in her; she's full of most 255 blessed condition.

Iago. Lechery, by this hand; an index and obscure prologue to the history of lust and foul thoughts. They 265 met so near with their lips, that their breaths embraced together. Villanous thoughts, Roderigo! when these mutualities so marshal the way, hard at hand comes the master and main exercise, the incorporate conclusion; 270 rish!—But, Sir, be you ruled by me: I have brought you from Venice. Watch you to-night; for the command, I'll lay't upon you: Cassio knows you not:—I'll not be far from you: do you find some occasion to anger 275 Cassio, either by speaking too loud, or tainting his discipline; or from what other course you please, which the time shall more favourably minister.

Rod. Well.

Iago. Sir, he is rash and very sudden in choler, and 280 haply may strike at you: provoke him, that he may; for even out of that will I cause these of Cyprus to mutiny; whose qualification shall come into no true taste again but by the displanting of Cassio. So shall you have a 285 shorter journey to your desires, by the means I shall then have to prefer them; and the impediment most profitably removed, without the which there were no expectation of our prosperity.

Rod. I will do this, if you can bring it to any op-
290 portunity.

Iago. I warrant thee. Meet me by and by at the citadel: I must fetch his necessaries ashore. Farewell.

Rod. Adieu.

The Moor,—howbeit that I endure him not—
 Is of a constant, loving, noble nature;
 And I dare think he'll prove to Desdemona

 Not out of absolute lust,—though peradventure
 I stand accountant for as great a sin,—
 But partly led to diet my revenge,
 For that I do suspect the lusty Moor
 305 Hath leap'd into my seat: the thought whereof
 Doth, like a poisonous mineral, gnaw my inwards;
 And nothing can or shall content my soul
 Till I am even'd with him, wife for wife;
 Or failing so, yet that I put the Moor
 310 At least into a jealousy so strong
 That judgment cannot cure. Which thing to do,
 If this poor trash of Venice, whom I trash
 For his quick hunting, stand the putting on,

Cas. Welcome, Iago; we must to the watch.

Iago. Not this hour, lieutenant; 'tis not yet ten o' the clock. Our general cast us thus early for the love 15 of his Desdemona; who let us not therefore blame: he hath not yet made wanton the night with her; and she is sport for Jove.

Cas. She's a most exquisite lady.

Iago. And, I'll warrant her, full of game.

20 Cas. Indeed, she's a most fresh and delicate creature.

Iago. What an eye she has! methinks it sounds a parley to provocation.

25 Cas. An inviting eye; and yet methinks right modest.

Iago. And when she speaks, is it not an alarum to love?

Cas. She is indeed perfection.

Iago. Well, happiness to their sheets! Come, lieutenant,
30 I have a stoup of wine; and here without are a brace of Cyprus gallants that would fain have a measure to the health of black Othello.

Cas. Not to-night, good Iago: I have very poor and 35 unhappy brains for drinking: I could well wish courtesy would invent some other custom of entertainment.

Iago. O, they are our friends; but one cup: I'll drink for you.

40 Cas. I have drunk but one cup to-night, and that was craftily qualified too, and, behold, what innovation it makes here: I am unfortunate in the infirmity, and dare not task my weakness with any more.

50 Iago. If I can fasten but one cup upon him,
With that which he hath drunk to-night already,
He'll be as full of quarrel and offence
As my young mistress' dog. Now, my sick fool Rode-rigo,

Whom love hath turn'd almost the wrong side out,
55 To Desdemona hath to-night carous'd

Potations pottle-deep; and he's to watch:

Three lads of Cyprus—noble swelling spirits,

That hold their honours in a wary distance,

The very elements of this warlike isle—

60 Have I to-night fluster'd with flowing cups,

And they watch too. Now, 'mongst this flock of drunkards,

Am I to put our Cassio in some action

That may offend the isle:—but here they come:

If consequence do but approve my dream,

65 My boat sails freely, both with wind and stream.

Iago. I learned it in England, where, indeed, they are most potent in potting: your Dane, your German, 80 and your swag-bellied Hollander,—Drink, ho!—are nothing to your English.

Cas. Is your Englishman so expert in his drinking?

Iago. Why, he drinks you, with facility, your Dane
85 dead drunk; he sweats not to overthrow your Almain; he gives your Hollander a vomit, ere the next pottle can be filled.

Cas. To the health of our general!

90 Mon. I am for it, lieutenant; and I'll do you justice.

Iago. O sweet England!

King Stephen was a worthy peer,

His breeches cost him but a crown;

He held them sixpence all too dear,

95 With that he call'd the tailor lown.

He was a wight of high renown,

And thou art but of low degree:

Mon. To the platform, masters; come, let's set the

He is a soldier fit to stand by Cæsar
And give direction: and do but see his vice;
'Tis to his virtue a just equinox,

It were an honest action to say
So to the Moor.

I do love Cassio well; and would do much
To cure him of this evil—But, hark! what noise?

Oth. Why, how now, ho! from whence ariseth this?
 170 Are we turn'd Turks, and to ourselves do that
 Which heaven hath forbid the Ottomites?
 For Christian shame, put by this barbarous brawl:
 He that stirs next to carve for his own rage
 Holds his soul light; he dies upon his motion.—
 175 Silence that dreadful bell! it frights the isle
 From her propriety.—What is the matter, masters?
 Honest Iago, that looks dead with grieving,
 Speak, who began this? on thy love, I charge thee.

Iago. I do not know:—friends all but now, even now,
 180 In quarter, and in terms like bride and groom
 Devesting them for bed; and then, but now—
 As if some planet had unwitted men—
 Swords out, and tilting one at other's breast,
 In opposition bloody. I cannot speak
 185 Any beginning to this peevish odds;
 And would in action glorious I had lost
 Those legs that brought me to a part of it!

Oth. How comes it, Michael, you are thus forgot?

Cas. I pray you, pardon me; I cannot speak.

190 Oth. Worthy Montano, you were wont be civil;
 The gravity and stillness of your youth
 The world hath noted, and your name is great
 In mouths of wisest censure: what's the matter,
 That you unlace your reputation thus,
 195 And spend your rich opinion for the name
 Of a night-brawler? give me answer to it.

Mon. Worthy Othello, I am hurt to danger:
 Your officer, Iago, can inform you—
 While I spare speech, which something now offends me—
 200 Of all that I do know: nor know I aught
 By me that's said or done amiss this night;

Oth.

Now, by heaven,

205 My blood begins my safer guides to rule;
And passion, having my best judgment collied,
Assays to lead the way:—if I once stir,
Or do but lift this arm, the best of you
Shall sink in my rebuke. Give me to know 210 How this foul rout began, who set it on;
And he that is approv'd in this offence,
Though he had twinn'd with me, both at a birth,
Shall lose me.—What! in a town of war,
Yet wild, the people's hearts brimful of fear,
215 To manage private and domestic quarrel,
In night, and on the court and guard of safety!
'Tis monstrous.—Iago, who began 't?

Mon. If partially affin'd, or leagu'd in office,
Thou dost deliver more or less than truth,

220 Thou art no soldier.

Iago.

Touch me not so near:

I had rather have this tongue cut from my mouth
Than it should do offence to Michael Cassio;
Yet, I persuade myself, to speak the truth
Shall nothing wrong him.—Thus it is, general.
225 Montano and myself being in speech,
There comes a fellow crying out for help;
And Cassio following him with determin'd sword,
To execute upon him. Sir, this gentleman
Steps in to Cassio, and entreats his pause:
230 Myself the crying fellow did pursue,
Lest by his clamour—as it so fell out—
The town might fall in fright: he, swift of foot,

²⁰⁶ could Qq. ²¹³ lose Rowe, loose QqFf. ²¹⁷ Pronounce

 For that I heard the clink and fall of swords,
 235 And Cassio high in oath; which till to-night
 I ne'er might say before. When I came back,—
 For this was brief,—I found them close together,
 At blow and thrust; even as again they were
 When you yourself did part them.
 240 More of this matter cannot I report:—
 But men are men; the best sometimes forget:—
 Though Cassio did some little wrong to him,—
 As men in rage strike those that wish them best,—
 Yet surely Cassio, I believe, receiv'd
 245 From him that fled some strange indignity,
 Which patience could not pass.

Oth. I know, Iago,
 Thy honesty and love doth mince this matter,
 Making it light to Cassio.—Cassio, I love thee;
 But never more be officer of mine.—

Re-enter DESDEMONA, attended.

250 Look, if my gentle love be not rais'd up —
 I'll make thee an example.

Des. What's the matter?

Oth. All's well now, sweeting; come away to bed.—
 Sir, for your hurts, myself will be your surgeon:
 Lead him off. [To Montano, who is led off.]

Iago. What, are you hurt, lieutenant?

260 Cas. Ay, past all surgery.

Iago. Marry, heaven forbid!

Cas. Reputation, reputation, reputation! O, I have lost my reputation! I have lost the immortal part of myself, and what remains is bestial.—My reputation, Iago, 265 my reputation!

Iago. As I am an honest man, I thought you had received some bodily wound; there is more sense in that than in reputation. Reputation is an idle and most false imposition; oft got without merit, and lost without deserving: you have lost no reputation at all, unless you 270 repute yourself such a loser. What, man! there are ways to recover the general again: you are but now cast in his mood, a punishment more in policy than in malice; even so as one would beat his offenceless dog 275 to affright an imperious lion: sue to him again, and he's yours.

Cas. I will rather sue to be despised than to deceive so good a commander with so slight, so drunken, and 280 so indiscreet an officer. Drunk? and speak parrot? and squabble? swagger? swear? and discourse fustian with one's own shadow?—O thou invisible spirit of wine, if thou hast no name to be known by, let us call thee devil!

285 Iago. What was he that you followed with your sword? What had he done to you?

Cas. I know not.

Iago. Is't possible?

men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains! that we should, with joy, pleasance, revel, and applause, transform ourselves into beasts!

295 Iago. Why, but you are now well enough: how came you thus recovered?

Cas. It hath pleased the devil drunkenness to give place to the devil wrath: one unperfectness shows me 300 another, to make me frankly despise myself.

Iago. Come, you are too severe a moraler: as the time, the place, and the condition of this country stands,
I could heartily wish this had not befallen; but, since it
305 is as it is, mend it for your own good.

Cas. I will ask him for my place again;—he shall tell me I am a drunkard! Had I as many mouths as Hydra, such an answer would stop them all. To be 310 now a sensible man, by and by a fool, and presently a beast! O strange!—Every inordinate cup is unblessed, and the ingredient is a devil.

Iago. Come, come, good wine is a good familiar crea-315 ture, if it be well used: exclaim no more against it. And, good lieutenant, I think you think I love you.

Cas. I have well approved it, Sir.—I drunk!

Iago. You or any man living may be drunk at a time, man. I'll tell you what you shall do. Our general's 320 wife is now the general;—I may say so in this respect, for that he hath devoted and given up himself to the contemplation, mark, and denotement of her parts and graces:—confess yourself freely to her; importune her 325 help to put you in your place again: she is of so free, so kind, so apt, so blessed a disposition, she holds it a vice in her goodness not to do more than she is requested: this broken joint between you and her husband entreat her to splinter; and, my fortunes against any 330 lay worth naming, this crack of your love shall grow stronger than it was before.

Cas. You advise me well.

Iago. I protest, in the sincerity of love and honest kindness.

335 Cas. I think it freely; and betimes in the morning I will beseech the virtuous Desdemona to undertake for me: I am desperate of my fortunes if they check me here.

Iago. You are in the right. Good night, lieutenant;
 340 I must to the watch.

Cas. Good night, honest Iago. [Exit.

Iago. And what's he, then, that says I play the villain?
 When this advice is free I give and honest,
 Probal to thinking, and, indeed, the course
 345 To win the Moor again? For 'tis most easy
 The inclining Desdemona to subdue
 In any honest suit: she's fram'd as fruitful
 As the free elements. And then for her
 To win the Moor,—were't to renounce his baptism,
 350 All seals and symbols of redeemed sin,
 His soul is so enfetter'd to her love,
 That she may make, unmake, do what she list,
 Even as her appetite shall play the god
 With his weak function. How am I, then, a villain
 355 To counsel Cassio to this parallel course,
 Directly to his good? Divinity of hell!
 When devils will the blackest sins put on,
 They do suggest at first with heavenly shows,
 As I do now: for whiles this honest fool

 So will I turn her virtue into pitch;
 And out of her own goodness make the net
 That shall enmesh them all.

Re-enter RODERIGO.

How now, Roderigo!

Rod. I do follow here in the chase, not like a hound 370 that hunts, but one that fills up the cry. My money is almost spent; I have been to-night exceedingly well cudgelled; and I think the issue will be—I shall have so much experience for my pains; and so, with no money 375 at all, and a little more wit, return again to Venice.

Iago. How poor are they that have not patience!
 What wound did ever heal but by degrees?
 Thou know'st we work by wit, and not by witchcraft;
 And wit depends on dilatory time.
 380 Does't not go well? Cassio hath beaten thee,
 And thou, by that small hurt, hast cashier'd Cassio:
 Though other things grow fair against the sun,
 Yet fruits that blossom first will first be ripe:
 Content thyself awhile.—By the mass, 'tis morning;
 385 Pleasure and action make the hours seem short.—
 Retire thee; go where thou art billeted:

And she speaks for you stoutly: the Moor replies,
That he you hurt is of great fame in Cyprus
And great affinity, and that in wholesome wisdom
50 He might not but refuse you; but he protests he loves
you,

And needs no other suitor but his likings
To take the safest occasion by the front
To bring you in again.

Cas. Yet, I beseech you,—
If you think fit, or that it may be done,—

Or breed itself so out of circumstance,
That, I being absent, and my place supplied,
My general will forget my love and service.

Des. Do not doubt that; before Emilia here
20 I give thee warrant of thy place: assure thee,
If I do vow a friendship, I'll perform it

 If I have any grace or power to move you,
 His present reconciliation take;
 For if he be not one that truly loves you,
 That errs in ignorance, and not in cunning,

Des. But shall't be shortly?

Oth. The sooner, sweet, for you.

Des. Shall't be to-night at supper?

Oth. No, not to-night.

Des. To-morrow dinner, then?

Oth. I shall not dine at home;
 I meet the captains at the citadel.

 To bring him in! Trust me, I could do much,— 75 Oth. Prithee, no more: let him come when he will;
 I will deny thee nothing.

Des. Why, this is not a boon;
 'Tis as I should entreat you wear your gloves,
 Or feed on nourishing dishes, or keep you warm,
 Or sue to you to do a peculiar profit
 80 To your own person: nay, when I have a suit
 Wherein I mean to touch your love indeed,
 It shall be full of poise and difficult weight,
 And fearful to be granted.

Oth. I will deny thee nothing:
 Whereon, I do beseech thee, grant me this,

Des. Shall I deny you? no: farewell, my lord.

Oth. Farewell, my Desdemona: I'll come to thee

Too hideous to be shown.—Thou dost mean something:
I heard thee say even now, thou lik'dst not that,
110 When Cassio left my wife: what didst not like?
And when I told thee he was of my counsel
In my whole course of wooing, thou criedst 'Indeed!'
And didst contract and purse thy brow together,
As if thou then hadst shut up in thy brain
115 Some horrible conceit: if thou dost love me,
Show me thy thought.

 135 I am not bound to that all slaves are free to.
 Utter my thoughts? Why, say they are vild and false,—
 As where's that palace whereinto foul things
 Sometimes intrude not? who has a breast so pure,
 But some uncleanly apprehensions
 140 Keep leets and law-days, and in session sit
 With meditations lawful?

Oth. Thou dost conspire against thy friend, Iago,
 If thou but think'st him wrong'd, and mak'st his ear
 A stranger to thy thoughts.

Iago. I do beseech you—

 As, I confess, it is my nature's plague

 Out of his scattering and unsure observance
 It were not for your quiet nor your good,
 Nor for my manhood, honesty, or wisdom,
 To let you know my thoughts.

Oth. What dost thou mean?

155 Iago. Good name in man and woman, dear my lord,
 Is the immediate jewel of their souls:
 Who steals my purse steals trash; 'tis something, nothing:

'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands;
 But he that filches from me my good name
 160 Robs me of that which not enriches him,
 And makes me poor indeed.

Oth. By heaven, I'll know thy thoughts!

Iago. You cannot, if my heart were in your hand;
 Nor shall not, whilst 'tis in my custody.

Oth. Ha!

165 Iago. O, beware, my lord, of jealousy;
 It is the green-ey'd monster, which doth mock
 The meat it feeds on: that cuckold lives in bliss
 Who, certain of his fate, loves not his wronger;
 But, O, what damned minutes tells he o'er 170 Who dotes, yet doubts, suspects, yet strongly loves!

Oth. O misery!

Think'st thou I'd make a life of jealousy,
To follow still the changes of the moon
With fresh suspicions? No; to be once in doubt 180 Is once to be resolv'd: exchange me for a goat,
When I shall turn the business of my soul
To such exsufflicate and blown surmises,
Matching thy inference. 'Tis not to make me jealous
To say my wife is fair, feeds well, loves company,
185 Is free of speech, sings, plays, and dances well;
Where virtue is, these are more virtuous:
Nor from mine own weak merits will I draw
The smallest fear or doubt of her revolt;
For she had eyes, and chose me. No, Iago;
190 I'll see before I doubt; when I doubt, prove;
And, on the proof, there is no more but this,—
Away at once with love or jealousy!

Iago. I am glad of it; for now I shall have reason
To show the love and duty that I bear you
195 With franker spirit: therefore, as I am bound,
Receive it from me;—I speak not yet of proof.
Look to your wife; observe her well with Cassio;
Wear your eye thus, not jealous nor secure:
I would not have your free and noble nature,
200 Out of self-bounty, be abus'd; look to't:
I know our country disposition well;
In Venice they do let heaven see the pranks
They dare not show their husbands; their best conscience
Is—not to leave't undone, but keep't unknown.

 Hot, hot, and moist: this hand of yours requires

 Much castigation, exercise devout;
 For here's a young and sweating devil here,
 That commonly rebels. 'Tis a good hand,
 A frank one.

Des. You may, indeed, say so;
 45 For 'twas that hand that gave away my heart.

Oth. A liberal hand: the hearts of old gave hands;
 But our new heraldry is hands, not hearts.

Des. I cannot speak of this. Come now, your promise.

 The worms were hallow'd that did breed the silk;
 And it was dy'd in mummy which the skilful

Des. Indeed! is't true?

Oth. Most veritable; therefore look to't well.

Des. Then would to God that I had never seen't!

Oth. Ha! wherefore?

Des. Why do you speak so startingly and rash?

80 Oth. Is't lost? is't gone? speak, is it out o' the way?

Des. Heaven bless us!

Oth. Say you?

Des. It is not lost; but what an if it were?

Oth. How!

85 Des. I say, it is not lost.

Oth. Fetch't, let me see't.

Des. Why, so I can, Sir, but I will not now.
 This is a trick to put me from my suit:
 Pray you, let Cassio be receiv'd again.

Oth. Fetch me the handkerchief: my mind misgives.

Oth. The handkerchief!

Des. I pray, talk me of Cassio.

Oth. The handkerchief!

Des. A man that all his time
Hath founded his good fortunes on your love,

95 Shar'd dangers with you,—

Oth. The handkerchief!

Des. In sooth, you are to blame.

Oth. Away!

[Exit.

Emil. Is not this man jealous?

100 Des. I ne'er saw this before.

Sure, there's some wonder in this handkerchief:
I am most unhappy in the loss of it.

Emil. 'Tis not a year or two shows us a man:
They are all but stomachs, and we all but food;
105 They eat us hungerly, and when they are full,
They belch us.—Look you,—Cassio and my husband!

Enter CASSIO and IAGO.

Iago. There is no other way; 'tis she must do't:
And, lo, the happiness! go, and importune her.

Des. How now, good Cassio! what's the news with you?

110 Cas. Madam, my former suit: I do beseech you
That by your virtuous means I may again
Exist, and be a member of his love
Whom I with all the office of my heart
Entirely honour: I would not be delay'd.

That nor my service past, nor present sorrows,

Nor purpos'd merit in futurity,
 Can ransom me into his love again,
 But to know so must be my benefit;
 120 So shall I clothe me in a forc'd content,
 And shut myself up in some other course,
 To fortune's alms.

Des. Alas, thrice-gentle Cassio!
 My advocacy is not now in tune;
 My lord is not my lord; nor should I know him,
 125 Were he in favour as in humour alter'd.
 So help me every spirit sanctified,
 As I have spoken for you all my best,
 And stood within the blank of his displeasure
 For my free speech; you must awhile be patient:
 130 What I can do I will; and more I will
 Than for myself I dare: let that suffice you.

Iago. Is my lord angry?

Emil. He went hence but now,
 And certainly in strange unquietness.

Iago. Can he be angry? I have seen the cannon,
 135 When it hath blown his ranks into the air,
 And, like the devil, from his very arm
 Puff'd his own brother;—and can he be angry?
 Something of moment, then: I will go meet him:
 There's matter in't indeed, if he be angry.

140 Des. I prithee, do so. [Exit Iago.]

Something, sure, of state,—
 Either from Venice, or some unhatch'd practice
 Made démonstrable here in Cyprus to him,—
 Hath puddled his clear spirit; and in such cases
 Men's natures wrangle with inferior things,
 145 Though great ones are their object. 'Tis even so;

 Nor of them look for such observancy

 I was—unhandsome warrior as I am,—
 Arraigning his unkindness with my soul;
 But now I find I had suborn'd the witness,
 And he's indited falsely.

155 Emil. Pray heaven it be state-matters, as you think,
 And no conception nor no jealous toy
 Concerning you.

Des. Alas the day, I never gave him cause!

Emil. But jealous souls will not be answer'd so;
 160 They are not ever jealous for the cause,
 But jealous for they are jealous: 'tis a monster
 Begot upon itself, born on itself.

Des. Heaven keep that monster from Othello's mind!

Emil. Lady, amen.

165 Des. I will go seek him.—Cassio, walk here-about:
 If I do find him fit, I'll move your suit,
 And seek to effect it to my uttermost.

Cas. I humbly thank your ladyship.

170 How is it with you, my most fair Bianca?

I' faith, sweet love, I was coming to your house.

Bian. And I was going to your lodging, Cassio.
What, keep a week away? seven days and nights?
Eight score eight hours? and lovers' absent hours,
175 More tedious than the dial eight score times?
O weary reckoning!

Cas. Pardon me, Bianca:

I have this while with leaden thoughts been press'd;
But I shall, in a more continue time,
Strike off this score of absence. Sweet Bianca,

[Giving her Desdemona's handkerchief.

180 Take me this work out.

Bian. O Cassio, whence came this?

This is some token from a newer friend:

To the felt absence now I feel a cause:

Is't come to this? Well, well.

Cas. Go to, woman!

Throw your vild guesses in the devil's teeth,
185 From whence you have them. You are jealous now
That this is from some mistress, some remembrance:
No, in good troth, Bianca.

Bian. Why, whose is it?

Cas. I know not, sweet: I found it in my chamber.
I like the work well: ere it be demanded,—
190 As like enough it will,—I'd have it copied:
Take it, and do't; and leave me for this time.

Bian. Leave you! wherefore?

ACT IV.

SCENE I. Cyprus. Before the castle.Enter OTHELLO and IAGO.Iago. Will you think so?Oth. Think so, Iago!Iago. What,

To kiss in private?

Oth. An unauthoriz'd kiss.Iago. Or to be naked with her friend in bed
An hour or more, not meaning any harm?5 Oth. Naked in bed, Iago, and not mean harm!

It is hipocrisy against the devil:

They that mean virtuously and yet do so,

The devil their virtue tempts, and they tempt heaven.

Iago. So they do nothing, 'tis a venial slip:

10 But if I give my wife a handkerchief,—

Oth. What then?Iago. Why, then, 'tis hers, my lord; and, being hers,
She may, I think, bestow't on any man.Oth. She is protectress of her honour too:

Scene not marked in Q¹. ^{1,2} What . . . private? Arr. as by Capell; one line in Ff. ⁹ If they Ff.

15 May she give that?

Iago. Her honour is an essence that's not seen;
They have it very oft that have it not:
But, for the handkerchief,—

Oth. By heaven, I would most gladly have forgot it:—

20 Thou said'st,—O, it comes o'er my memory,
As doth the raven o'er the infected house,
Boding to all,—he had my handkerchief.

Iago. Ay, what of that?

Oth. That's not so good now.

Iago.

What,

If I had said I had seen him do you wrong?

25 Or heard him say,—as knaves be such abroad,
Who having, by their own importunate suit,
Or voluntary dotage of some mistress,
Convinced or supplied them, cannot choose
But they must blab—

Oth. Hath he said any thing?

30 Iago. He hath, my lord; but be you well assur'd,
No more than he'll unswear.

Oth. What hath he said?

Iago. 'Faith, that he did—I know not what he did.

Oth. What? what?

Iago. Lie—

Oth. With her?

Iago. With her, on her; what you will.

35 Oth. Lie with her! lie on her!—We say lie on her, when they belie her.—Lie with her! Zounds, that's fulsome.—Handkerchief—confessions—handkerchief!—To confess, and be hanged for his labour;—first, to be hanged, and then to confess.—I tremble at it. Nature

45 Iago. Work on,
My medicine, work! Thus credulous fools are caught;
And many worthy and chaste dames even thus,
All guiltless, meet reproach.—What, ho! my lord!
My lord, I say! Othello!

Enter CASSIO.

How now, Cassio!

50 Cas. What's the matter?

Iago. My lord is fall'n into an epilepsy:
This is his second fit; he had one yesterday.

Cas. Rub him about the temples.

Iago. No, forbear;
The lethargy must have his quiet course:
55 If not, he foams at mouth, and by and by Breaks out to savage madness. Look, he stirs:
Do you withdraw yourself a little while,
He will recover straight: when he is gone,
I would on great occasion speak with you. [Exit Cassio.]
60 How is it, general? have you not hurt your head?

Oth. Dost thou mock me?

Iago. I mock you! no, by heaven.
Would you would bear your fortune like a man!

Oth. A horned man's a monster and a beast.

Iago. There's many a beast, then, in a populous city,
65 And many a civil monster.

Oth. Did he confess it?

Iago. Good Sir, be a man;
Think every bearded fellow that's but yok'd
May draw with you: there's millions now alive
That nightly lie in those unproper beds
70 Which they dare swear peculiar: your case is better.
O, 'tis the spite of hell, the fiend's arch-mock,
To lip a wanton in a sécure couch,
And to suppose her chaste! No, let me know;
And knowing what I am, I know what she shall be.

75 Oth. O, thou art wise; 'tis certain.

Iago. Stand you awhile apart;
Confine yourself but in a patient list.
Whilst you were here o'erwhelmed with your grief,—
A passion most unsuiting such a man,—
Cassio came hither: I shifted him away,
80 And laid good 'scuse upon your ecstasy,
Bade him anon return, and here speak with me;
The which he promis'd. Do but encave yourself,
And mark the fleers, the gibes, and notable scorns,
That dwell in every region of his face;
85 For I will make him tell the tale anew,—
Where, how, how oft, how long ago, and when
He hath, and is again to cope your wife:
I say, but mark his gesture. Marry, patience;
Or I shall say you are all in all in spleen,
90 And nothing of a man.

Oth. Dost thou hear, Iago?
I will be found most cunning in my patience;
But—dost thou hear?—most bloody.

Iago. That's not amiss:
But yet keep time in all. Will you withdraw?

Now will I question Cassio of Bianca,
 95 A housewife that, by selling her desires,
 Buys herself bread and clothes: it is a creature
 That dotes on Cassio,—as 'tis the strumpet's plague
 To beguile many and be beguil'd by one:—
 He, when he hears of her, cannot refrain
 100 From the excess of laughter:—Here he comes:—

Re-enter CASSIO.

As he shall smile, Othello shall go mad;
 And his unbookish jealousy must construe
 Poor Cassio's smiles, gestures, and light behaviour,
 Quite in the wrong. How do you now, lieutenant?

105 Cas. The worser that you give me the addition
 Whose want even kills me.

Iago. Ply Desdemona well, and you are sure on't.
 [Speaking lower] Now, if this suit lay in Bianca's power,
 How quickly should you speed!

Cas. Alas, poor caitiff!

110 Oth. Look, how he laughs already!

Iago. I never knew a woman love man so.

Cas. Alas, poor rogue! I think, i' faith, she loves me.

Oth. Now he denies it faintly, and laughs it out.

Iago. Do you hear, Cassio?

Oth. Now he importunes him

115 To tell it o'er:—go to: well said, well said.

Iago. She gives it out that you shall marry her:
 Do you intend it?

Cas. Ha, ha, ha!

Iago. 'Faith, the cry goes that you shall marry her.

Cas. Prithee, say true.

Iago. I am a very villain else.

130 Oth. Have you scored me? Well.

Cas. This is the monkey's own giving out: she is persuaded I will marry her, out of her own love and flattery, not out of my promise.

135 Oth. Iago beckons me; now he begins the story.

Cas. She was here even now; she haunts me in every place. I was, the other day, talking on the sea-bank with certain Venetians; and thither comes the bauble,
140 and, by this hand, she falls me thus about my neck,—

Oth. Crying 'O dear Cassio!' as it were: his gesture imports it.

Cas. So hangs, and lolls, and weeps upon me; so hales and pulls me:—ha, ha, ha!

145 Oth. Now he tells how she plucked him to my chamber. O, I see that nose of yours, but not that dog I shall throw it to.

Cas. Well, I must leave her company.

Iago. Before me! look, where she comes.

 160 work? There,—give it your hobby-horse: wheresoever you had it, I'll take out no work on't.

Cas. How now, my sweet Bianca! how now! how now!

165 Oth. By heaven, that should be my handkerchief!

Bian. An you'll come to supper to-night, you may; an you will not, come when you are next prepared for.

Cas. Prithee, come; will you?

Iago. Go to; say no more. [Exit Cassio.

Oth. [Advancing] How shall I murder him, Iago?

Iago. Nay, that's not your way.

Oth. Hang her! I do but say what she is:—so delicate with her needle!—an admirable musician! O, she 200 will sing the savageness out of a bear!—of so high and plenteous wit and invention!—

Iago. She's the worse for all this.

Oth. O, a thousand thousand times:—and then, of so gentle a condition!

205 Iago. Ay, too gentle.

Oth. Nay, that's certain:—but yet the pity of it, Iago! O Iago, the pity of it, Iago!

Iago. If you are so fond over her iniquity, give her patent to offend; for, if it touch not you, it comes near

Oth. I will chop her into messes:—cuckold me!

Iago. O, 'tis foul in her.

Oth. Get me some poison, Iago; this night:—I'll not expostulate with her, lest her body and beauty unprovide my mind again:—this night, Iago.

220 Iago. Do it not with poison, strangle her in her bed, even the bed she hath contaminated.

Oth. Good, good: the justice of it pleases: very good.

Des. A most unhappy one: I would do much
To atone them, for the love I bear to Cassio.

245 Oth. Fire and brimstone!

Des. My lord?

Oth. Are you wise?

Des. What, is he angry?

Lod. May be the letter mov'd him;
For, as I think, they do command him home,

Oth. [Striking her] Devil!

Des. I have not deserv'd this.

Lod. My lord, this would not be believ'd in Venice,
Though I should swear I saw't: 'tis very much:
255 Make her amends; she weeps.

Oth. O devil, devil!

If that the earth could teem with woman's tears,
Each drop she falls would prove a crocodile.—
Out of my sight!

Des. I will not stay to offend you. [Going.]

Lod. Truly, an obedient lady:—

260 I do beseech your lordship, call her back.

Oth. Mistress!

Des. My lord?

Oth. What would you with her, Sir?

Lod. Who, I, my lord?

Oth. Ay; you did wish that I would make her turn:
Sir, she can turn, and turn, and yet go on,
265 And turn again; and she can weep, Sir, weep;
And she's obedient, as you say,—obedient,—
Very obedient.—Proceed you in your tears.—
Concerning this, Sir,—O well-painted passion!—
I am commanded home.—Get you away;
270 I'll send for you anon.—Sir, I obey the mandate,
And will return to Venice.—Hence, avaunt!

275 Lod. Is this the noble Moor whom our full senate
 Call all in all sufficient?—Is this the nature
 Whom passion could not shake? whose solid virtue
 The shot of accident, nor dart of chance,
 Could neither graze nor pierce?

Iago. He is much chang'd.

280 Lod. Are his wits safe? is he not light of brain?

Iago. He's that he is: I may not breathe my censure.
 What he might be,—if, what he might he is not,—
 I would to heaven he were!

Lod. What, strike his wife!

Iago. 'Faith, that was not so well; yet would I knew 285 That stroke would prove the worst!

Lod. Is it his use?
 Or did the letters work upon his blood,
 And new-create this fault?

Iago. Alas, alas!
 It is not honesty in me to speak
 What I have seen and known. You shall observe him;
 290 And his own courses will denote him so,
 That I may save my speech: do but go after,
 And mark how he continues.

Lod. I am sorry that I am deceiv'd in him. [Exeunt.

SCENE II. A room in the castle.

Enter OTHELLO and EMILIA.

Oth. You have seen nothing, then?

Emil. Nor ever heard, nor ever did suspect.

²⁷⁴ Goats and monkeys! a separate line in Ff. ²⁸¹ breath F¹Q²
 F²Q³. ²⁸⁷ his Ff.

Oth. Yes, you have seen Cassio and she together.

Emil. But then I saw no harm, and then I heard
5 Each syllable that breath made up between them.

Oth. What, did they never whisper?

Emil. Never, my lord.

Oth. Nor send you out o' the way?

Emil. Never.

Oth. To fetch her fan, her gloves, her mask, nor nothing?

10 Emil. Never, my lord.

Oth. That's strange.

Emil. I durst, my lord, to wager she is honest,
Lay down my soul at stake: if you think other,
Remove your thought,—it doth abuse your bosom.
15 If any wretch have put this in your head,
Let heaven requite it with the serpent's curse!
For, if she be not honest, chaste, and true,
There's no man happy; the purest of their wives
Is foul as slander.

Oth. Bid her come hither:—go.

[Exit Emilia.]

20 She says enough;—yet she's a simple bawd
That cannot say as much. This is a subtle whore,
A closet lock and key of villanous secrets:
And yet she'll kneel and pray; I have seen her do't.

Enter DESDEMONA with EMILIA.

Des. My lord, what is your will?

Oth. Pray, chuck, come hither.

25 Des. What is your pleasure?

Oth. Let me see your eyes;

Des. What horrible fancy's this?

Oth. [To Emilia] Some of your function, Mistress;
Leave procreants alone, and shut the door;
Cough, or cry 'hem,' if any body come:

30 Your mystery, your mystery;—nay, dispatch.

[Exit Emilia.]

Des. Upon my knees, what doth your speech import?
I understand a fury in your words,
But not the words.

Oth. Why, what art thou?

Des. Your wife, my lord; your true and loyal wife.

35 Oth. Come, swear it, damn thyself;

Lest, being like one of heaven, the devils themselves
Should fear to seize thee: therefore be double damn'd;—
Swear thou art honest.

Des. Heaven doth truly know it.

Oth. Heaven truly knows that thou art false as hell.

40 Des. To whom, my lord? with whom? how am I false?

Oth. O Desdemona!—away! away! away!

Des. Alas the heavy day!—Why do you weep?

Am I the motive of these tears, my lord?

If haply you my father do suspect

45 An instrument of this your calling back,

Lay not your blame on me: if you have lost him,

Why, I have lost him too.

Oth. Had it pleas'd heaven
To try me with affliction; had they rain'd
All kinds of sores and shames on my bare head;

 Given to captivity me and my utmost hopes;
 I should have found in some place of my soul
 A drop of patience: but, alas, to make me
 A fixed figure for the time of scorn
 55 To point his slow unmoving finger at!—
 Yet could I bear that too; well, very well:
 But there, where I have garner'd up my heart,
 Where either I must live, or bear no life,—
 The fountain from the which my current runs,
 60 Or else dries up; to be discarded thence!
 Or keep it as a cistern for foul toads
 To knot and gender in!—Turn thy complexion there,
 Patience, thou young and rose-lipp'd cherubin,—
 Ay, there, look grim as hell!

65 Des. I hope my noble lord esteems me honest.

Oth. O, ay; as summer flies are in the shambles,
 That quicken even with blowing. O thou weed,
 Who art so lovely fair, and smell'st so sweet,
 That the sense aches at thee,—would thou hadst ne'er been born!

70 Des. Alas, what ignorant sin have I committed?

Oth. Was this fair paper, this most goodly book,
 Made to write 'whore' upon? What committed!
 Committed!—O thou public commoner!
 I should make very forges of my cheeks,
 75 That would to cinders burn up modesty,
 Did I but speak thy deeds.—What committed!
 Heaven stops the nose at it, and the moon winks;
 The bawdy wind, that kisses all it meets,

Impudent strumpet!

Des. By heaven, you do me wrong.

Oth. Are not you a strumpet?

Des. No, as I am a Christian:

If to preserve this vessel for my lord

From any other foul unlawful touch,

85 Be not to be a strumpet, I am none.

Oth. What, not a whore?

Des. No, as I shall be sav'd.

Oth. Is't possible?

Des. O, heaven forgive us!

Oth. I cry you mercy, then:

I took you for that cunning whore of Venice

90 That married with Othello.—[Raising his voice] You,

Mistress,

That have the office opposite to Saint Peter,

And keep the gate of hell!

Re-enter EMILIA.

You, you, ay, you!

We have done our course; there's money for your pains:

I pray you, turn the key, and keep our counsel. [Exit.

95 Emil. Alas, what does this gentleman conceive?—

How do you, Madam? how do you, my good lady?

Des. 'Faith, half asleep.

Emil. Good Madam, what's the matter with my lord?

Des. With who?

100 Emil. Why, with my lord, Madam.

⁸¹ Impudent strumpet! As in Capell; at end of l. 81 in Qq, om. Ff. ⁹⁰ [Raising . . .] first add. Cam. Des. Who is thy lord?

Emil. He that is yours, sweet lady.

Des. I have none: do not talk to me, Emilia;
I cannot weep; nor answer have I none,
But what should go by water. Prithee, to-night
105 Lay on my bed my wedding sheets,—remember;—
And call thy husband hither.

Emil. Here's a change indeed! [Exit.

Des. 'Tis meet I should be us'd so, very meet.
How have I been behav'd, that he might stick
The small'st opinion on my least misuse?

Re-enter EMILIA with IAGO.

110 Iago. What is your pleasure, Madam? How is't with you?

Des. I cannot tell. Those that do teach young babes
Do it with gentle means and easy tasks:
He might have chid me so; for, in good faith,
I am a child to chiding.

Iago. What's the matter, lady?

115 Emil. Alas, Iago, my lord hath so bewhor'd her,
Thrown such despite and heavy terms upon her,
As true hearts cannot bear.

Des. Am I that name, Iago?

Iago. What name, fair lady?

Des. Such as she says my lord did say I was.

120 Emil. He call'd her whore: a beggar in his drink
Could not have laid such terms upon his callat.

Iago. Why did he so?

Des. I do not know; I am sure I am none such.

Iago. Do not weep, do not weep:—alas the day!

Her father, and her country, and her friends,
To be call'd whore? would it not make one weep?

Des. It is my wretched fortune.

Iago. Beshrew him for't!
How comes this trick upon him?

Des. Nay, heaven doth know.

130 Emil. I will be hang'd, if some eternal villain,
Some busy and insinuating rogue,
Some cogging, cozening slave, to get some office,
Have not devis'd this slander; I'll be hang'd else.

Iago. Fie, there is no such man; it is impossible.

135 Des. If any such there be, heaven pardon him!

Emil. A halter pardon him! and hell gnaw his bones!
Why should he call her whore? who keeps her company?

What place? what time? what form? what likelihood?
The Moor's abus'd by some most villanous knave,
140 Some base notorious knave, some scurvy fellow:—
O heaven, that such companions thou'ldst unfold,
And put in every honest hand a whip
To lash the rascals naked through the world
Even from the east to the west!

Iago. Speak within door.

145 Emil. O, fie upon them! Some such squire he was
That turn'd your wit the seamy side without,
And made you to suspect me with the Moor.

Iago. You are a fool; go to.

Des. O good Iago,
What shall I do to win my lord again?

I know not how I lost him. Here I kneel:—

 Either in discourse of thought or actual deed;
 Or that mine eyes, mine ears, or any sense,
 155 Delighted them in any other form;
 Or that I do not yet, and ever did,
 And ever will—though he do shake me off
 To beggarly divorcement—love him dearly,
 Comfort forswear me! Unkindness may do much;
 160 And his unkindness may defeat my life,
 But never taint my love. I cannot say 'whore',—
 It does abhor me now I speak the word;
 To do the act that might the addition earn
 Not the world's mass of vanity could make me.
 165 Iago. I pray you, be content; 'tis but his humour:
 The business of the state does him offence,
 And he does chide with you.

Des. If 'twere no other,—

Iago. 'Tis but so, I warrant.

[Trumpets within.]

Hark, how these instruments summon to supper!
 170 The messengers of Venice stay the meat:
 Go in, and weep not; all things shall be well.
 [Exeunt Desdemona and Emilia.]

Enter RODERIGO.

How now, Roderigo!

Rod. I do not find that thou dealest justly with me.

Iago. Will you hear me, Roderigo?

Rod. 'Faith, I have heard too much; for your words and performances are no kin together.

Iago. You charge me most unjustly.

Rod. With nought but truth. I have wasted myself out of my means. The jewels you have had from me to deliver to Desdemona would half have corrupted a votarist: you have told me she hath received them, and returned me expectations and comforts of sudden respect and acquaintance; but I find none.

Iago. Well; go to; very well.

Rod. Very well! go to! I cannot go to, man; nor 'tis not very well: by this hand, I say 'tis very scurvy, and begin to find myself fopped in it.

Iago. Very well.

Rod. I tell you 'tis not very well. I will make myself known to Desdemona: if she will return me my jewels, I will give over my suit, and repent my unlawful solicitation; if not, assure yourself I will seek satisfaction of you.

Iago. You have said now.

Rod. Ay, and said nothing but what I protest intendment of doing.

Iago. Why, now I see there's mettle in thee; and even from this instant do build on thee a better opinion than ever before. Give me thy hand, Roderigo: thou hast taken against me a most just exception; but yet, I protest, I have dealt most directly in thy affair.

Rod. It hath not appeared.

Iago. I grant, indeed, it hath not appeared; and your 215 suspicion is not without wit and judgment. But, Rode-rigo, if thou hast that in thee indeed, which I have greater reason to believe now than ever,—I mean purpose, courage, and valour,—this night show it: if thou 220 the next night following enjoy not Desdemona, take me from this world with treachery, and devise engines for my life.

Rod. Well, what is it? is it within reason and compass?

225 Iago. Sir, there is especial commission come from Venice to depute Cassio in Othello's place.

Rod. Is that true? why, then Othello and Desdemona return again to Venice.

Iago. O, no; he goes into Mauritania, and takes away 230 with him the fair Desdemona, unless his abode be lingered here by some accident: wherein none can be so determinate as the removing of Cassio.

Rod. How do you mean, removing of him?

235 Iago. Why, by making him incapable of Othello's place,—knocking out his brains.

Rod. And that you would have me to do?

Iago. Ay, if you dare do yourself a profit and a right.
 He sups to-night with a harlotry, and thither will I go 240 to him:—he knows not yet of his honourable fortune.
 If you will watch his going thence,—which I will fashion to fall out between twelve and one,—you may take him at your pleasure: I will be near to second your attempt, 245 and he shall fall between us. Come, stand not amazed at it, but go along with me; I will show you such a necessity in his death, that you shall think yourself bound to put it on him. It is now high supper-time, and the 250 night grows to waste: about it.

SCENE III. Another room in the castle.

Enter OTHELLO, LODOVICO, DESDEMONA, EMILIA, and Attendants.

Lod. I do beseech you, Sir, trouble yourself no further.

Oth. O, pardon me; 'twill do me good to walk.

Lod. Madam, good night; I humbly thank your ladyship.

Des. Your honour is most welcome.

Oth. Will you walk, Sir?

5 O.—Desdemona,—

Des. My lord?

Oth. Get you to bed on the instant; I will be returned forthwith: dismiss your attendant there: look it be done.

10 Des. I will, my lord.

[Exeunt Othello, Lodovico, and Attendants.]

Emil. How goes it now? he looks gentler than he did.

Des. He says he will return incontinent:
He hath commanded me to go to bed,
And bade me to dismiss you.

Emil. Dismiss me!

20 That even his stubbornness, his checks, his frowns,— Prithee, unpin me,—have grace and favour in them.

Emil. I have laid those sheets you bade me on the bed.

Des. All's one.—Good faith, how foolish are our minds!—

If I do die before thee, prithee, shroud me
25 In one of those same sheets.

Emil. Come, come, you talk.

Des. My mother had a maid call'd Barbara:
She was in love; and he she lov'd prov'd mad,
And did forsake her: she had a song of 'willow';
An old thing 'twas, but it express'd her fortune,
30 And she died singing it: that song to-night
Will not go from my mind; I have much to do,
But to go hang my head all at one side,
And sing it like poor Barbara.—Prithee, dispatch.

Emil. Shall I go fetch your night-gown?

Des. No, unpin me here.—
35 This Lodovico is a proper man.

Emil. A very handsome man.

Des. He speaks well.

Emil. I know a lady in Venice would have walked 40 barefoot to Palestine for a touch of his nether lip.

 So, get thee gone; good night. Mine eyes do itch;
 Doth that bode weeping?
 Emil. 'Tis neither here nor there.
 60 Des. I have heard it said so.—O, these men, these men!—
 Dost thou in conscience think,—tell me, Emilia,—

Des. No, by this heavenly light!

Emil. Nor I neither by this heavenly light; I might do't as well i' the dark.

Des. Wouldst thou do such a deed for all the world?

Emil. The world's a huge thing: it is a great price 70 For a small vice.

Des. In troth, I think thou wouldst not.

Emil. In troth, I think I should; and undo't when I had done. Marry, I would not do such a thing for a joint-ring, nor for measures of lawn, nor for gowns, petticoats, nor caps, nor any petty exhibition; but, for 75 the whole world,—why, who would not make her husband a cuckold to make him a monarch? I should venture purgatory for't.

Des. Beshrew me, if I would do such a wrong
For the whole world.

80 Emil. Why, the wrong is but a wrong i' the world; and having the world for your labour, 'tis a wrong in your own world, and you might quickly make it right.

Des. I do not think there is any such woman.

85 Emil. Yes, a dozen; and as many to the vantage as would store the world they played for.

But I do think it is their husbands' faults

If wives do fall: say that they slack their duties,
And pour our treasures into foreign laps;

90 Or else break out in peevish jealousies,
Throwing restraint upon us; or say they strike us,
Or scant our former having in despite;
Why, we have galls; and though we have some grace,
Yet have we some revenge. Let husbands know

95 Their wives have sense like them: they see, and smell,
And have their palates both for sweet and sour,

When they change us for others? Is it sport?

It is so too:—and have not we affections,
Desires for sport, and frailty, as men have?
Then let them use us well: else let them know,

Iago. Here, stand behind this bulk; straight will he come:

Wear thy good rapier bare, and put it home:
Quick, quick; fear nothing; I'll be at thy elbow:
It makes us, or it mars us; think on that,

5 And fix most firm thy resolution.

Rod. Be near at hand; I may miscarry in't.

Iago. Here, at thy hand: be bold, and take thy stand.
[Retires.]

Rod. I have no great devotion to the deed;
And yet he hath given me satisfying reasons:—
10 'Tis but a man gone:—forth, my sword: he dies.

Every way makes my gain: live Roderigo,

 Of gold and jewels that I bobb'd from him,
 As gifts to Desdemona;
 It must not be: if Cassio do remain,
 He hath a daily beauty in his life
 20 That makes me ugly: and, besides, the Moor
 May unfold me to him; there stand I in much peril:
 No, he must die;—be't so: I hear him coming.

Enter CASSIO.

Rod. I know his gait, 'tis he.—Villain, thou diest!
[Makes a pass at Cassio.]

Cas. That thrust had been mine enemy indeed,
 25 But that my coat is better than thou know'st:
 I will make proof of thine.

Rod. O, I am slain!

Rod. O wretched villain!

Lod. Two or three groan:—it is a heavy night:
 These may be counterfeits: let's think't unsafe
 To come in to the cry without more help.

Lod. Hark!

Gra. Here's one comes in his shirt, with light and Iago. Who's there? whose noise is this that cries on murther?

Lod. We do not know.

Iago. Did not you hear a cry?

Cas. I think that one of them is hereabout,
And cannot make away.

Iago. O treacherous villains!—

What are you there? come in, and give some help.

Rod. O damn'd Iago! O inhuman dog!

Lod. As you shall prove us, praise us.

Iago. Signior Lodovico?

Lod. He, Sir.

Iago. I cry you mercy. Here's Cassio hurt by villains.

Iago. Cassio hath here been set on in the dark
By Roderigo, and fellows that are scap'd:
He's almost slain, and Roderigo dead.

115 Emil. Alas, good gentleman! alas, good Cassio!

Iago. This is the fruit of whoring.—Prithee, Emilia,
Go know of Cassio where he supp'd to-night.—

Des. Ay, my lord.

Oth. If you bethink yourself of any crime
Unreconcil'd as yet to heaven and grace,
Solicit for it straight.

Des. Alas, my lord, what do you mean by that?

30 Oth. Well, do it, and be brief; I will walk by:

I would not kill thy unprepared spirit;

No,—heaven forfend!—I would not kill thy soul.

Des. Talk you of killing?

Oth. Ay, I do.

Des. Then heaven have mercy on me.

Oth. Amen, with all my heart!

Oth. Sweet soul, take heed,
 Take heed of perjury; thou art on thy death-bed.

Des. Ay, but not yet to die.

Oth. Yes, presently:
 Therefore confess thee freely of thy sin;
 For to deny each article with oath

 That I do groan withal. Thou art to die.

Des. Then Lord have mercy on me!

Oth. I say, amen.

Des. And have you mercy too!—I never did

If she come in, she'll sure speak to my wife:

Upon my soul, a lie; a wicked lie:—
She false with Cassio!—did you say with Cassio?

Iago. With Cassio, Mistress. Go to, charm your Emil. I will not charm my tongue; I am bound to Shore his old thread in twain: did he live now,

This sight would make him do a desperate turn,

Yea, curse his better angel from his side,

And fall to reprobance.

210 Oth. 'Tis pitiful; but yet Iago knows

That she with Cassio hath the act of shame

A thousand times committed; Cassio confess'd it:

And she did gratify his amorous works

With that recognizance and pledge of love

215 Which I first gave her; I saw it in his hand:

It was a handkerchief, an antique token

My father gave my mother.

Emil. O heaven! O heavenly powers!

305 Lod. What, not to pray?

Gra. Torments will ope your lips.

Oth. Well, thou dost best.

Lod. Sir, you shall understand what hath befall'n,
Which, as I think, you know not. Here is a letter
Found in the pocket of the slain Roderigo;
310 And here another: the one of them imports
The death of Cassio to be undertook
By Roderigo.

Oth. O villain!

Cas. Most heathenish and most gross!

Lod. Now here's another discontented paper,
315 Found in his pocket too; and this, it seems,
Roderigo meant to have sent this damned villain;
But that, belike, Iago in the interim
Came in and satisfied him.

Oth. O the pernicious caitiff!—
How came you, Cassio, by that handkerchief
320 That was my wife's?

Cas. I found it in my chamber:
And he himself confess'd but even now
That there he dropp'd it for a special purpose
Which wrought to his desire.

Oth. O fool! fool! fool!

330 Lod. You must forsake this room, and go with us:
 Your power and your command is taken off,
 And Cassio rules in Cyprus. For this slave,
 If there be any cunning cruelty
 That can torment him much and hold him long,
 335 It shall be his. You shall close prisoner rest,

 Their medicinable gum. Set you down this;

 Where a malignant and a turban'd Turk

INTRODUCTORY NOTICE.

ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA.

INTRODUCTORY NOTICE.

Edward Blount, afterwards one of the publishers of the First Folio, entered in the Stationers' Registers on May 20th, 1608, 'A Booke called Anthony and Cleopatra', an entry which, most probably, refers to our author's play. With an unanimity almost unparalleled in Shaksperian questions, all critics agree in supposing the play to have been composed only a very short time before that date. Indeed, all tests of internal as well as external evidence point to the later period of Shakspeare's dramatic production.

Antony and Cleopatra is not known to have appeared in print before its publication in the folio of 1623. In the latter it occupies pages 340-368 in the division of 'Tragedies'. It is rather well printed, and the textual difficulties are comparatively few and slight.

For the materials the dramatist is indebted to North's Plutarch (Life of Antonius), to which he adheres with remarkable closeness, though his creative genius has touched all the personages of the source with wonderfully characteristic strokes.¹ To Jodelle's Captive Cleopatra, on the other hand, to Garnier's Tragedie of Antonie (translated by the Countess of Pembroke), or to Daniel's Cleopatra Shakspeare owed nothing.

As a dramatic work Antony and Cleopatra ranks very high; many critics do not refrain from considering it to be the most perfect of all Shaksperian dramas. A very good estimate and analysis of the play has been given by H. Corson, in his Introduction to the Study of Shakespeare (Boston 1889, p. 252-315), to which our reader is referred.

SCENE: In several parts of the Roman empire.

ACT I.

SCENE I. Alexandria. A room in Cleopatra's palace.

Enter DEMETRIUS and PHILO.

Phi. Nay, but this dotage of our general's O'erflows the measure: those his goodly eyes,
That o'er the files and musters of the war
Have glow'd like plated Mars, now bend, now turn,
5 The office and devotion of their view
Upon a tawny front: his captain's heart,
Which in the scuffles of great fights hath burst
The buckles on his breast, reneges all temper,
And is become the bellows and the fan
10 To cool a gipsy's lust.

Flourish. Enter ANTONY, CLEOPATRA, her Ladies, the Train, with Eunuchs fanning her.

Look, where they come:
Take but good note, and you shall see in him
The triple pillar of the world transform'd

Actus Primus. Scaena Prima. Ff. ⁴ Two lines in Ff, one in Rowe. ⁸ reneages F¹F²F³, reneges F⁴.

Into a strumpet's fool: behold and see.

Cleo. If it be love indeed, tell me how much.

15 Ant. There's beggary in the love that can be reckon'd.

Cleo. I'll set a bourn how far to be belov'd.

Ant. Then must thou needs find out new heaven, new earth.

Enter an Attendant.

Att. News, my good lord, from Rome.

Ant. Grates me: the sum.

Cleo. Nay, hear them, Antony:

20 Fulvia perchance is angry; or, who knows
If the scarce-bearded Cæsar have not sent
His powerful mandate to you, 'Do this, or this;
Take in that kingdom, and enfranchise that;
Perform't, or else we damn thee.'

Ant. How, my love!

25 Cleo. Perchance! nay, and most like:
You must not stay here longer, your dismissal
Is come from Cæsar; therefore hear it, Antony.—
Where's Fulvia's process? Cæsar's I would say?—both?—
Call in the messengers.—As I'm Egypt's queen,
30 Thou blushest, Antony; and that blood of thine
Is Cæsar's homager: else so thy cheek pays shame
When shrill-tongu'd Fulvia scolds.—The messengers!

Ant. Let Rome in Tiber melt, and the wide arch
Of the rang'd empire fall! Here is my space.
35 Kingdoms are clay: our dungy earth alike
Feeds beast as man: the nobleness of life
Is to do thus; when such a mutual pair [Embracing.

On pain of punishment, the world to weet

Cleo. Excellent falsehood!
 Why did he marry Fulvia, and not love her?
 I'll seem the fool I am not; Antony
 Will be himself.

Ant. But stirr'd by Cleopatra,
 Now, for the love of Love and her soft hours,
 45 Let's not confound the time with conference harsh:
 There's not a minute of our lives should stretch
 Without some pleasure now. What sport to-night?

Cleo. Hear the ambassadors.

Ant. Fie, wrangling queen!
 Whom every thing becomes, to chide, to laugh,
 50 To weep; whose every passion fully strives
 To make itself, in thee, fair and admir'd!
 No messenger, but thine; and all alone
 To-night we'll wander through the streets, and note
 The qualities of people. Come, my queen;
 55 Last night you did desire it:—speak not to us.

[Exeunt Ant. and Cleo. with their train.]

Dem. Is Cæsar with Antonius priz'd so slight?

Phi. Sir, sometimes, when he is not Antony,
 He comes too short of that great property
 Which still should go with Antony.

Dem. I am full sorry
 60 That he approves the common liar, who Thus speaks of him at Rome: but I will hope
 Of better deeds to-morrow. Rest you happy! [Exeunt.]

SCENE II. The same. Another room.

Enter CHARMIAN, IRAS, ALEXAS, and a Soothsayer.

Char. Lord Alexas, sweet Alexas, most any thing
Alexas, almost most absolute Alexas, where's the soothsayer that you praised so to the queen? O, that I knew this husband, which, you say, must charge his horns with 5 garlands!

Alex. Soothsayer!

Sooth. Your will?

Char. Is this the man?—Is't you, Sir, that know things?

Sooth. In nature's infinite book of secrecy
10 A little I can read.

Alex. Show him your hand.

Enter ENOBARBUS.

Eno. Bring in the banquet quickly; wine enough
Cleopatra's health to drink.

Char. Good Sir, give me good fortune.

Sooth. I make not, but foresee.

15 Char. Pray, then, foresee me one.

Sooth. You shall be yet far fairer than you are.

Char. He means in flesh.

Iras. No, you shall paint when you are old.

Char. Wrinkles forbid!

Char. I had rather heat my liver with drinking.

Alex. Nay, hear him.

25 Char. Good now, some excellent fortune! Let me be married to three kings in a forenoon, and widow them all: let me have a child at fifty, to whom Herod of Jewry may do homage: find me to marry me with Octavius
30 Cæsar, and companion me with my mistress.

Sooth. You shall outlive the lady whom you serve.

Char. O excellent! I love long life better than figs.

Sooth. You've seen and prov'd a fairer former fortune tune

Than that which is to approach.

35 Char. Then belike my children shall have no names: prithee, how many boys and wenches must I have?

Sooth. If every of your wishes had a womb,
And fertile every wish, a million.

40 Char. Out, fool! I forgive thee for a witch.

Alex. You think none but your sheets are privy to your wishes.

Char. Nay, come, tell Iras hers.

Alex. We'll know all our fortunes.

45 Eno. Mine, and most of our fortunes, to-night, shall be—drunk to bed.

Iras. There's a palm presages chastity, if nothing else.

50 Char. E'en as the o'erflowing Nilus presageth famine.

Iras. Go, you wild bedfellow, you cannot soothsay.

Char. Nay, if an oily palm be not a fruitful prognostication, I cannot scratch mine ear. Prithee, tell her but 55 a worky-day fortune.

Sooth. Your fortunes are alike.

Iras. But how, but how? give me particulars.

60 Iras. Am I not an inch of fortune better than she?

Char. Well, if you were but an inch of fortune better than I, where would you choose it?

Iras. Not in my husband's nose.

Char. Our worser thoughts heavens mend! Alexas,— 65 come, his fortune, his fortune! O, let him marry a woman that cannot go, sweet Isis, I beseech thee! and let her die too, and give him a worse! and let worse follow worse, till the worst of all follow him laughing to his 70 grave, fifty-fold a cuckold! Good Isis, hear me this prayer, though thou deny me a matter of more weight; good Isis, I beseech thee!

Iras. Amen. Dear goddess, hear that prayer of the people! for, as it is a heart-breaking to see a handsome 75 man loose-wived, so it is a deadly sorrow to behold a foul knave uncuckolded: therefore, dear Isis, keep decorum, and fortune him accordingly!

Char. Amen.

80 Alex. Lo, now, if it lay in their hands to make me a cuckold, they would make themselves whores, but they'd do't!

Eno. Hush! here comes Antony.

Char. Not he; the queen.

Enter CLEOPATRA.

Cleo. Saw you my lord?

Eno. No, lady.

Cleo. Was he not here?

85 Char. No, Madam.

Cleo. He was dispos'd to mirth; but on the sudden
A Roman thought hath struck him.—Enobarbus!

Cleo. We will not look upon him: go with us.

[Exeunt.]

Enter ANTONY with a Messenger and Attendants.

Mess. Fulvia thy wife first came into the field.

Ant. Against my brother Lucius?

Mess. Ay:

95 But soon that war had end, and the time's state
Made friends of them, jointing their force 'gainst Cæsar;
Whose better issue in the war, from Italy,
Upon the first encounter, drave them.

Ant. Well, what worst?

Mess. The nature of bad news infects the teller.

100 Ant. When it concerns the fool or coward. On:
Things that are past are done with me. 'Tis thus;
Who tells me true, though in his tale lie death,
I hear him as he flatter'd.

Mess. Labienus—

Mess. At your noble pleasure. [Exit.

Ant. From Sicyon, ho, the news! Speak there!

First Att. The man from Sicyon,—is there such an Sec. Att. He stays upon your will.

Ant. Let him appear.

120 These strong Egyptian fetters I must break,
 Or lose myself in dotage.

Ant. Forbear me.

There's a great spirit gone! Thus did I desire it:
 What our contempts do often hurl from us,
 We wish it ours again; the present pleasure,

The hand could pluck her back that shov'd her on.
I must from this enchanting queen break off:
Ten thousand harms, more than the ills I know,
My idleness doth hatch. Ho, Enobarbus!

Re-enter ENOBARBUS.

135 Eno. What's your pleasure, Sir?

Ant. I must with haste from hence.

Eno. Why, then, we kill all our women: we see how mortal an unkindness is to them; if they suffer our departure, death's the word.

140 Ant. I must be gone.

Eno. Under a compelling occasion, let women die: it were pity to cast them away for nothing; though, between them and a great cause, they should be esteemed nothing.
145 Cleopatra, catching but the least noise of this, dies instantly; I have seen her die twenty times upon far poorer moment: I do think there is mettle in death, which commits some loving act upon her, she hath such a celerity in dying.

150 Ant. She is cunning past man's thought.

Eno. Alack, Sir, no; her passions are made of nothing but the finest part of pure love: we cannot call her winds and waters sighs and tears; they are greater 155 storms and tempests than almanacs can report: this cannot be cunning in her; if it be, she makes a shower of rain as well as Jove.

Ant. Would I had never seen her!

Eno. O, Sir, you had then left unseen a wonderful 160 piece of work; which not to have been blest withal would have discredited your travel.

Ant. Fulvia is dead.

Eno. Sir?

¹³⁴ How now Ff, Ho Capell (adopted by Dyce). ¹⁴¹ a compelling an occasion Ff, corr. by Rowe.

Ant. Fulvia is dead.

165 Eno. Fulvia?

Ant. Dead.

Eno. Why, Sir, give the gods a thankful sacrifice.
When it pleaseth their deities to take the wife of a man from him, it shows to man the tailors of the earth; 170 comforting therein, that when old robes are worn out, there are members to make new. If there were no more women but Fulvia, then had you indeed a cut, and the case to be lamented: this grief is crowned with 175 consolation; your old smock brings forth a new petticoat: and, indeed, the tears live in an onion that should water this sorrow.

Ant. The business she hath broached in the state
Cannot endure my absence.

180 Eno. And the business you have broached here cannot be without you: especially that of Cleopatra's, which wholly depends on your abode.

Ant. No more light answers. Let our officers
Have notice what we purpose. I shall break
185 The cause of our expedience to the queen,
And get her leave to part. For not alone
The death of Fulvia, with more urgent touches,
Do strongly speak to us; but the letters too
Of many our contriving friends in Rome
190 Petition us at home: Sextus Pompeius
Hath given the dare to Cæsar, and commands
The empire of the sea: our slippery people,
Whose love is never link'd to the deserver
Till his deserts are past, begin to throw
195 Pompey the Great and all his dignities
Upon his son; who, high in name and power,
Higher than both in blood and life, stands up

 To such whose place is under us, requires
 Our quick remove from hence.

Eno. I shall do't. [Exeunt.

SCENE III. The same. Another room.

Enter CLEOPATRA, CHARMIAN, IRAS, and ALEXAS.

Cleo. Where is he?

Char. I did not see him since.

Cleo. See where he is, who's with him, what he does:
 I did not send you: if you find him sad,
 Say I am dancing; if in mirth, report
 5 That I am sudden sick: quick, and return. [Exit Alexas.

Char. Madam, methinks, if you did love him dearly,
 You do not hold the method to enforce
 The like from him.

Cleo. What should I do, I do not?

Char. In each thing give him way, cross him in nothing.

Cleo. I'm sick and sullen.

Ant. I'm sorry to give breathing to my purpose,—

15 Cleo. Help me away, dear Charmian; I shall fall:
It cannot be thus long, the sides of nature
Will not sustain it.

Ant. Now, my dearest queen,—

Cleo. Pray you, stand farther from me.

Ant. What's the matter?

Cleo. I know, by that same eye, there's some good news.

20 What says the married woman?—You may go:
Would she had never given you leave to come!
Let her not say 'tis I that keep you here:
I have no power upon you; hers you are.

Ant. The gods best know,—

Cleo. O, never was there queen
25 So mightily betray'd! yet at the first
I saw the treasons planted.

Ant. Cleopatra,—

Cleo. Why should I think you can be mine and true,
Though you in swearing shake the throned gods,
Who have been false to Fulvia? Riotous madness,
30 To be entangled with those mouth-made vows,
Which break themselves in swearing!

Ant. Most sweet queen,—

Cleo. Nay, pray you, seek no colour for your going,
But bid farewell, and go: when you su'd staying,
Then was the time for words: no going then;

35 Eternity was in our lips and eyes,
Bliss in our brows' bent; none our parts so poor,
But was a race of heaven: they are so still,
Or thou, the greatest soldier of the world,
Art turn'd the greatest liar.

Ant. How now, lady!

40 Cleo. I would I had thy inches; thou shouldst know
There were a heart in Egypt.

Ant. Hear me, queen:

The strong necessity of time commands
Our services awhile; but my full heart
Remains in use with you. Our Italy
45 Shines o'er with civil swords: Sextus Pompeius
Makes his approaches to the port of Rome:
Equality of two domestic powers
Breed scrupulous faction: the hated, grown to strength,
Are newly grown to love: the condemn'd Pompey,
50 Rich in his father's honour, creeps apace
Into the hearts of such as have not thriv'd
Upon the present state, whose numbers threaten;
And quietness, grown sick of rest, would purge
By any desperate change: my more particular,
55 And that which most with you should save my going,
Is Fulvia's death.

Cleo. Though age from folly could not give me free-doom,

It does from childishness: can Fulvia die?

Ant. She's dead, my queen:

60 Look here, and, at thy sovereign leisure, read
The garboils she awak'd; at the last, best:
See when and where she died.

Cleo. O most false love!

Where be the sacred vials thou shouldst fill

⁴³ Servicles F. ⁴⁸ Breeds Pope; see, however, Abbott, § 412.

⁶³ Violles F¹, viols F²F³F⁴, vials Pope.

With sorrowful water? Now I see, I see,
65 In Fulvia's death, how mine receiv'd shall be.

Ant. Quarrel no more, but be prepar'd to know
The purposes I bear; which are, or cease,
As you shall give the advice. By the fire
That quickens Nilus' slime, I go from hence
70 Thy soldier, servant; making peace or war
As thou affect'st.

Cleo. Cut my lace, Charmian, come;
But let it be: I'm quickly ill, and well,
So Antony loves.

Ant. My precious queen, forbear;
And give true evidence to his love, which stands
75 An honourable trial.

Cleo. So Fulvia told me.
I prithee, turn aside, and weep for her;
Then bid adieu to me, and say the tears
Belong to Egypt: good now, play one scene
Of excellent dissembling; and let it look 80 Like perfect honour.

Ant. You'll heat my blood: no more.

Cleo. You can do better yet; but this is meetly.

Ant. Now, by my sword,—

Cleo. And target.—Still he mends;
But this is not the best.—Look, prithee, Charmian,
How this Herculean Roman does become 85 The carriage of his chafe.

Ant. I'll leave you, lady.

Cleo. Courteous lord, one word.
Sir, you and I must part,—but that's not it:
Sir, you and I have lov'd,—but there's not it;
That you know well: something it is I would,— 90 O, my oblivion is a very Antony,
And I am all forgotten.

⁷¹ affects F. ⁸² my om. F¹; inserted in F².

Ant. But that your royalty
Holds idleness your subject, I should take you
For idleness itself.

Cleo. 'Tis sweating labour
To bear such idleness so near the heart
95 As Cleopatra this. But, Sir, forgive me;
Since my becoming kill me, when they do not
Eye well to you: your honour calls you hence;
Therefore be deaf to my unpitied folly,
And all the gods go with you! upon your sword
100 Sit laurel victory! and smooth success
Be strew'd before your feet!

Ant. Let us go. Come;
Our separation so abides, and flies,
That thou, residing here, go'st yet with me,
And I, hence fleeting, here remain with thee.
105 Away! [Exeunt.

It is not Cæsar's natural vice to hate
Our great competitor: from Alexandria
This is the news: he fishes, drinks, and wastes
5 The lamps of night in revel; is not more manlike

More womanly than he; hardly gave audience, or Vouchsaf'd to think he had partners: you shall find there

A man who is the abstract of all faults

10 That all men follow.

Lep. I must not think there are
Evils enow to darken all his goodness:
His faults, in him, seem as the spots of heaven,
More fiery by night's blackness; hereditary,
Rather than purchas'd; what he cannot change,
15 Than what he chooses.

Cæs. You're too indulgent. Let us grant, it is not Amis to tumble on the bed of Ptolemy;
To give a kingdom for a mirth; to sit
And keep the turn of tippling with a slave;
20 To reel the streets at noon, and stand the buffet
With knaves that smell of sweat: say this becomes him,—

As his composure must be rare indeed
Whom these things cannot blemish,—yet must Antony
No way excuse his soils, when we do bear
25 So great weight in his lightness. If he fill'd
His vacancy with his voluptuousness,
Full surfeits, and the dryness of his bones,
Call on him for't: but to confound such time,
That drums him from his sport, and speaks as loud
30 As his own state and ours,—'tis to be chid
As we rate boys, who, being mature in knowledge,
Pawn their experience to their present pleasure,
And so rebel to judgment.

Enter a Messenger.

Lep. Here's more news.

Mess. Thy biddings have been done; and every hour,
 35 Most noble Cæsar, shalt thou have report
 How 'tis abroad. Pompey is strong at sea;
 And it appears he is belov'd of those
 That only have fear'd Cæsar: to the ports
 The discontents repair, and men's reports
 40 Give him much wrong'd.

Cæs. I should have known no less.
 It hath been taught us from the primal state,
 That he which is was wish'd until he were;
 And the ebb'd man, ne'er lov'd till ne'er worth love,
 Comes dear'd by being lack'd. This common body,
 45 Like to a vagabond flag upon the stream,
 Goes to and back, lackeying the varying tide,
 To rot itself with motion.

Mess. Cæsar, I bring thee word,
 Menecrates and Menas, famous pirates,
 Make the sea serve them, which they ear and wound
 50 With keels of every kind: many hot inroads
 They make in Italy; the borders maritime
 Lack blood to think on't, and flush youth revolt:
 No vessel can peep forth, but 'tis as soon
 Taken as seen; for Pompey's name strikes more 55 Than could his war resisted.

Cæs. Antony,
 Leave thy lascivious wassails. When thou once
 Wast beaten from Modena, where thou slew'st

Hirtius and Pansa, consuls, at thy heel
 Did famine follow; whom thou fought'st against,
 60 Though daintily brought up, with patience more
 Than savages could suffer: thou didst drink
 The stale of horses, and the gilded puddle
 Which beasts would cough at: thy palate then did deign
 The roughest berry on the rudest hedge;
 65 Yea, like the stag, when snow the pasture sheets,
 The barks of trees thou browsed'st; on the Alps
 It is reported thou didst eat strange flesh,
 Which some did die to look on: and all this—
 It wounds thine honour that I speak it now—
 70 Was borne so like a soldier, that thy cheek
 So much as lank'd not.

Lep. 'Tis pity of him.

Cæs. Let his shames quickly
 Drive him to Rome: 'tis time we twain
 Did show ourselves i' the field; and to that end
 75 Assemble we immediate council: Pompey
 Thrives in our idleness.

Lep. To-morrow, Cæsar,
 I shall be furnish'd to inform you rightly
 Both what by sea and land I can be able
 To front this present time.

Cæs. Till which encounter,
 80 It is my business too. Farewell.

Lep. Farewell, my lord: what you shall know mean-

SCENE V. Alexandria. Cleopatra's palace.

Enter CLEOPATRA, CHARMIAN, IRAS, and MARDIAN.

Cleo. Charmian!

Char. Madam?

Cleo. Ha, ha!

Give me to drink mandragora.

Char. Why, Madam?

5 Cleo. That I might sleep out this great gap of time
My Antony is away.

Char. You think of him too much.

Cleo. O, 'tis treason!

Char. Madam, I trust, not so.

Cleo. Thou, eunuch Mardian!

Mar. What's your Highness' pleasure?

Cleo. Not now to hear thee sing; I take no pleasure
10 In aught an eunuch has: 'tis well for thee,
That, being unseminar'd, thy freer thoughts
May not fly forth of Egypt. Hast thou affections?

Mar. Yes, gracious Madam.

Cleo. Indeed!

15 Mar. Not in deed, Madam; for I can do nothing
But what indeed is honest to be done:
Yet have I fierce affections, and think
What Venus did with Mars.

Cleo. O Charmian,
Where think'st thou he is now? Stands he, or sits he?
20 Or does he walk? or is he on his horse?
O happy horse, to bear the weight of Antony!
Do bravely, horse! for wot'st thou whom thou mov'st?

The demi-Atlas of this earth, the arm
 And burgonet of men. He's speaking now,
 25 Or murmuring 'Where's my serpent of old Nile?'
 For so he calls me: now I feed myself
 With most delicious poison. Think on me,
 That am with Phœbus' amorous pinches black,
 And wrinkled deep in time? Broad-fronted Cæsar, 30 When thou wast here above the ground, I was
 A morsel for a monarch: and great Pompey
 Would stand and make his eyes grow in my brow;
 There would he anchor his aspect, and die
 With looking on his life.

Enter ALEXAS, from CÆSAR.

Alex. Sovereign of Egypt, hail!

35 Cleo. How much unlike art thou Mark Antony!
 Yet, coming from him, that great medicine hath
 With his tinct gilded thee.
 How goes it with my brave Mark Antony?

Alex. Last thing he did, dear queen,
 40 He kiss'd,—the last of many doubled kisses,—
 This orient pearl. His speech sticks in my heart.

Cleo. Mine ear must pluck it thence.

Alex. 'Good friend,' quoth he,
 'Say, the firm Roman to great Egypt sends
 This treasure of an oyster; at whose foot,
 45 To mend the petty present, I will piece
 Her opulent throne with kingdoms; all the east,
 Say thou, shall call her mistress.' So he nodded,
 And soberly did mount an arm-gaunt steed,

Who neigh'd so high, that what I would have spoke 50 Was beastly dumb'd by him.

Cleo. What, was he sad or merry?

Alex. Like to the time o' the year between the extremes

Of hot and cold, he was nor sad nor merry.

Cleo. O well divided disposition! Note him,
Note him, good Charmian, 'tis the man; but note
him:

55 He was not sad, for he would shine on those
That make their looks by his; he was not merry,
Which seem'd to tell them his remembrance lay
In Egypt with his joy; but between both:
O heavenly mingle! Be'st thou sad or merry,
60 The violence of either thee becomes,
So does it no man else. Met'st thou my posts?

Alex. Ay, Madam, twenty several messengers:
Why do you send so thick?

Cleo. Who's born that day
When I forget to send to Antony,
65 Shall die a beggar.—Ink and paper, Charmian.—
Welcome, my good Alexas.—Did I, Charmian,
Ever love Cæsar so?

Char. O that brave Cæsar!

Cleo. Be chok'd with such another emphasis!
Say, the brave Antony.

Char. The valiant Cæsar!

70 Cleo. By Isis, I will give thee bloody teeth,
If thou with Cæsar paragon again
My man of men.

Char. By your most gracious pardon,
I sing but after you.

ACT II.

SCENE I. Messina. Pompey's house.

Enter POMPEY, MENEKRATES, and MENAS, in warlike manner.

Pom. If the great gods be just, they shall assist
The deeds of justest men.

Mene. Know, worthy Pompey,
That what they do delay, they not deny.

Pom. Whiles we are suitors to their throne, decays
5 The thing we sue for.

Mene. We, ignorant of ourselves,
Beg often our own harms, which the wise powers
Deny us for our good; so find we profit
By losing of our prayers.

Pom. I shall do well:
The people love me, and the sea is mine;
10 My powers are crescent, and my auguring hope
Says it will come to the full. Mark Antony
In Egypt sits at dinner, and will make No wars without doors: Cæsar gets money where He loses hearts: Lepidus flatters both,

Nor either cares for him.

Men.

Cæsar and Lepidus

Are in the field: a mighty strength they carry.

Pom. Where have you this? 'tis false.

Men.

From Silvius, Sir.

Pom. He dreams: I know they are in Rome together,
20 Looking for Antony. But all the charms of love,
Salt Cleopatra, soften thy wan'd lip!
Let witchcraft join with beauty, lust with both!
Tie up the libertine in a field of feasts,
Keep his brain fuming; Epicurean cooks
25 Sharpen with cloyless sauce his appetite;
That sleep and feeding may prorogue his honour
Even till a Lethe'd dulness!

Enter VARRIUS.

How now, Varrius!

Var. This is most certain that I shall deliver:
Mark Antony is every hour in Rome
30 Expected: since he went from Egypt 'tis
A space for farther travel.

Pom. I could have given less matter
A better ear.—Menas, I did not think
This amorous surfeiter would have donn'd his helm
For such a petty war: his soldiership
35 Is twice the other twain: but let us rear
The higher our opinion, that our stirring
Can from the lap of Egypt's widow pluck
The ne'er-lust-wearied Antony.

His brother warr'd upon him; although, I think,
Not mov'd by Antony.

Pom. I know not, Menas,
How lesser enmities may give way to greater.
Were't not that we stand up against them all,
45 'Twere pregnant they should square between themselves;
For they have entertained cause enough
To draw their swords: but how the fear of us
May cement their divisions, and bind up
The petty difference, we yet not know.

Our lives upon to use our strongest hands.
Come, Menas. [Exeunt.

SCENE II. Rome. The house of Lepidus.

Enter ENOBARBUS and LEPIDUS.

Lep. Good Enobarbus, 'tis a worthy deed,
And shall become you well, to entreat your captain
To soft and gentle speech.

Eno. I shall entreat him
To answer like himself: if Cæsar move him,
5 Let Antony look over Cæsar's head
And speak as loud as Mars. By Jupiter,
Were I the wearer of Antonius' beard,
I would not shave't to-day.

Lep. But small to greater matters must give way.

Eno. Not if the small come first.

Lep. Your speech is passion:
 But, pray you, stir no embers up. Here comes
 The noble Antony.

Enter ANTONY and VENTIDIUS.

Eno. And yonder, Cæsar.

Enter CÆSAR, MECÆNAS, and AGRIPPA.

15 Ant. If we compose well here, to Parthia:
 Hark, Ventidius.

Cæs. I do not know,
 Mecænas; ask Agrippa.

Lep. Noble friends,
 That which combin'd us was most great, and let not
 A leaner action rend us. What's amiss,
 20 May it be gently heard: when we debate
 Our trivial difference loud, we do commit
 Murther in healing wounds: then, noble partners,
 The rather, for I earnestly beseech,
 Touch you the sourest points with sweetest terms,
 25 Nor curstness grow to the matter.

Ant. 'Tis spoken well.
 Were we before our armies, and to fight,
 I should do thus.

Cæs. Welcome to Rome.

Ant. Thank you.

Cæs.

Ant.

Sit, Sir.

Cæs.

Nay, then.

Ant. I learn, you take things ill which are not so,
 30 Or being, concern you not.

Cæs.

I must be laugh'd at,
 If, or for nothing or a little, I
 Should say myself offended, and with you
 Chiefly i' the world; more laugh'd at, that I should Once name you derogately, when to sound your name
 35 It not concern'd me.

Ant.

My being in Egypt, Cæsar,
 What was't to you?

Cæs.

No more than my residing here at Rome
 Might be to you in Egypt: yet, if you there
 Did practise on my state, your being in Egypt
 40 Might be my question.

Ant.

How intend you, practis'd?

Cæs.

You may be pleas'd to catch at mine intent
 By what did here befall me. Your wife and brother
 Made wars upon me; and their contestation
 Was theme for you, you were the word of war.

45

Ant.

You do mistake your business; my brother never
 Did urge me in his act: I did inquire it;
 And have my learning from some true reports,
 That drew their swords with you. Did he not rather Discredit my authority with yours;
 50 And make the wars alike against my stomach,
 Having alike your cause? Of this my letters
 Before did satisfy you. If you'll patch a quarrel,
 As matter whole you've not to make it with,
 It must not be with this.

Cæs. You praise yourself
 55 By laying defects of judgment to me; but
 You patch'd up your excuses.

Ant. Not so, not so:
 I know you could not lack, I'm certain on't,
 Very necessity of this thought, that I,
 Your partner in the cause 'gainst which he fought,
 60 Could not with graceful eyes attend those wars
 Which fronted mine own peace. As for my wife,
 I would you had her spirit in such another:
 The third o' the world is yours; which with a snaffle
 You may pace easy, but not such a wife.

65 Eno. Would we had all such wives, that the men might go to wars with the women!

Ant. So much uncurbable, her garboils, Cæsar,
 Made out of her impatience, which not wanted
 Shrewdness of policy too, I grieving grant
 70 Did you too much disquiet: for that you must
 But say, I could not help it.

Cæs. I wrote to you
 When rioting in Alexandria; you
 Did pocket up my letters, and with taunts
 Did gibe my missive out of audience.

Ant. Sir,
 75 He fell upon me ere admitted: then
 Three kings I had newly feasted, and did want
 Of what I was i' the morning: but next day
 I told him of myself; which was as much
 As to have ask'd him pardon. Let this fellow
 80 Be nothing of our strife; if we contend,
 Out of our question wipe him.

Cæs. You have broken

Have tongue to charge me with.

Lep.

Soft, Cæsar!

Ant.

No,

Lepidus, let him speak:

85 The honour is sacred which he talks on now,
Supposing that I lack'd it. But, on, Cæsar;
The article of my oath.

Cæs. To lend me arms and aid when I requir'd them;
The which you both denied.

Ant.

Neglected, rather;

90 And then when poison'd hours had bound me up
From mine own knowledge. As nearly as I may,
I'll play the penitent to you: but mine honesty
Shall not make poor my greatness, nor my power
Work without it. Truth is, that Fulvia,
95 To have me out of Egypt, made wars here;
For which myself, the ignorant motive, do
So far ask pardon as befits mine honour
To stoop in such a case.

Lep.

'Tis noble spoken.

Mec. If it might please you, to enforce no further 100 The griefs between ye: to forget them quite
Were to remember that the present need
Speaks to atone you.

Lep.

Worthily spoke, Mecænas.

Eno. Or, if you borrow one another's love for the instant, you may, when you hear no more words of 105 Pompey, return it again: you shall have time to wrangle in when you have nothing else to do.

Ant. Thou art a soldier only: speak no more.

110 Eno. That truth should be silent I had almost forgot.

Cæs. I do not much dislike the matter, but
The manner of his speech; for't cannot be 115 We shall remain in friendship, our conditions
So differing in their acts. Yet, if I knew
What hoop should hold us stanch, from edge to edge
O' the world I would pursue it.

Agr. Give me leave, Cæsar,—

Cæs. Speak, Agrippa.

120 Agr. Thou hast a sister by the mother's side,
Admir'd Octavia: great Mark Antony
Is now a widower.

Cæs. Say not so, Agrippa:
If Cleopatra heard you, your reproof
Were well deserv'd of rashness.

125 Ant. I am not married, Cæsar: let me hear
Agrippa further speak.

Agr. To hold you in perpetual amity,
To make you brothers, and to knit your hearts
With an unslipping knot, take Antony
130 Octavia to his wife; whose beauty claims
No worse a husband than the best of men;
Whose virtue and whose general graces speak
That which none else can utter. By this marriage,
All little jealousies, which now seem great,
135 And all great fears, which now import their dangers,

Would then be nothing: truths would be tales,
 Where now half tales be truths: her love to both
 Would, each to other, and all loves to both,
 Draw after her. Pardon what I have spoke;
 140 For 'tis a studied, not a present thought,
 By duty ruminated.

Ant. Will Cæsar speak?

Cæs. Not till he hears how Antony is touch'd
 With what is spoke already.

Ant. What power is in Agrippa,
 If I would say, 'Agrippa, be it so,'
 145 To make this good?

Cæs. The power of Cæsar, and His power unto Octavia.

Ant. May I never
 To this good purpose, that so fairly shows,
 Dream of impediment! Let me have thy hand:
 Further this act of grace; and from this hour
 150 The heart of brothers govern in our loves
 And sway our great designs!

Cæs. There is my hand.
 A sister I bequeath you, whom no brother
 Did ever love so dearly: let her live
 To join our kingdoms and our hearts; and never 155 Fly off our loves again!

Lep. Happily, amen!

Ant. I did not think to draw my sword 'gainst Pompey;
 For he hath laid strange courtesies and great
 Of late upon me: I must thank him only,
 Lest my remembrance suffer ill report;
 160 At heel of that, defy him.

Lep. Time calls upon's:
Of us must Pompey presently be sought,
Or else he seeks out us.

Ant. Where lies he?

Cæs. About the Mount Misenum.

Ant. What is his strength by land?

165 Cæs. Great and increasing: but by sea
He is an absolute master.

Ant. So is the fame.

Would we had spoke together! Haste we for it:
Yet, ere we put ourselves in arms, dispatch we
The business we have talk'd of.

Cæs. With most gladness;
170 And do invite you to my sister's view,
Whither straight I'll lead you.

Ant. Let us, Lepidus,
Not lack your company.

Lep. Noble Antony,
Not sickness should detain me.

[Flourish. Exeunt Cæsar, Antony, and Lepidus.]

Mec. Welcome from Egypt, Sir.

175 Eno. Half the heart of Cæsar, worthy Mecænas! My honourable friend, Agrippa!

Agr. Good Enobarbus!

Mec. We have cause to be glad that matters are so 180 well digested. You stayed well by 't in Egypt.

Eno. Ay, Sir; we did sleep day out of countenance, and made the night light with drinking.

Mec. Eight wild-boars roasted whole at a breakfast, 185 and but twelve persons there; is this true?

much more monstrous matter of feast, which worthily deserved noting.

Mec. She's a most triumphant lady, if report be 190 square to her.

Eno. When she first met Mark Antony, she pursed up his heart, upon the river of Cydnus.

Agr. There she appeared indeed; or my reporter devised well for her.

195 Eno. I will tell you.

The barge she sat in, like a burnish'd throne,
Burn'd on the water: the poop was beaten gold;
Purple the sails, and so perfumed that
The winds were love-sick with them; the oars were silver,

200 Which to the tune of flutes kept stroke, and made
The water which they beat to follow faster,
As amorous of their strokes. For her own person,
It beggar'd all description: she did lie
In her pavilion—cloth-of-gold of tissue—

205 O'er-picturing that Venus where we see
The fancy outwork nature: on each side her
Stood pretty dimpled boys, like smiling Cupids,
With divers-colour'd fans, whose wind did seem
To glow the delicate cheeks which they did cool, 210 And what they undid did.

Agr. O, rare for Antony!

Eno. Her gentlewomen, like the Nereides,
So many mermaids, tended her i' the eyes,
And made their bends adornings: at the helm
A seeming mermaid steers: the silken tackle
215 Swell with the touches of those flower-soft hands,

That rarely frame the office. From the barge
 A strange invisible perfume hits the sense
 Of the adjacent wharfs. The city cast
 Her people out upon her; and Antony,
 220 Enthron'd i' the market-place, did sit alone,
 Whistling to the air; which, but for vacancy,
 Had gone to gaze on Cleopatra too,
 And made a gap in nature.

Agr. Rare Egyptian!

Eno. Upon her landing, Antony sent to her,
 225 Invited her to supper: she replied,
 It should be better he became her guest;
 Which she entreated: our courteous Antony,
 Whom ne'er the word of 'No' woman heard speak,
 Being barber'd ten times o'er, goes to the feast,
 230 And for his ordinary pays his heart
 For what his eyes eat only.

Agr. Royal wench!

She made great Cæsar lay his sword to bed:
 He plough'd her, and she cropp'd.

Eno. I saw her once
 Hop forty paces through the public street;
 235 And having lost her breath, she spoke, and panted,
 That she did make defect perfection,
 And, breathless, power breathe forth.

Mec. Now Antony must leave her utterly.

Eno. Never; he will not:
 240 Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale
 Her infinite variety: other women cloy
 The appetites they feed: but she makes hungry
 Where most she satisfies: for vilest things
 Become themselves in her; that the holy priests
 245 Bless her when she is riggish.

²²⁸ hard F. ²³⁷ And, breathless, pour breath forth. Daniel conj.
²³⁹ Neuer he F¹F², Never, he F³F⁴, Never; he Capell.

Mec. If beauty, wisdom, modesty, can settle
The heart of Antony, Octavia is
A blessed lottery to him.

Agr. Let us go.—

Good Enobarbus, make yourself my guest
250 Whilst you abide here.

Eno. Humbly, Sir, I thank you.

[Exeunt.]

SCENE III. The same. Cæsar's house.

Enter ANTONY, CÆSAR, OCTAVIA between them, and Attendants.

Ant. The world and my great office will sometimes Divide me from your bosom.

Octa. All which time
Before the gods my knee shall bow my prayers
To them for you.

Ant. Good night, Sir. My Octavia,
5 Read not my blemishes in the world's report:
I have not kept my square but that to come
Shall all be done by the rule. Good night, dear lady.
Good night, Sir.

Cæs. Good night. [Exeunt Cæsar and Octavia.]

Enter Soothsayer.

10 Ant. Now, sirrah, you do wish yourself in Egypt?

Sooth. Would I had never come from thence, nor you thither!

Ant. If you can, your reason?

Sooth. I see it in my motion, have it not in my tongue: but yet hie you to Egypt again.

15 Ant. Say to me,
Whose fortunes shall rise higher, Cæsar's or mine?

Sooth. Cæsar's.

Therefore, O Antony, stay not by his side:
Thy demon, that's thy spirit which keeps thee, is 20 Noble, courageous, high, unmatchable,
Where Cæsar's is not; but, near him, thy angel Becomes a fear, as being o'erpower'd: therefore Make space enough between you.

Ant. Speak this no more.

Sooth. To none but thee; no more, but when to thee.
25 If thou dost play with him at any game,
Thou'rt sure to lose; and, of that natural luck,
He beats thee 'gainst the odds: thy lustre thickens,
When he shines by: I say again, thy spirit
Is all afraid to govern thee near him;
30 But, he away, 'tis noble.

Ant. Get thee gone:

Say to Ventidius I would speak with him:

[Exit Soothsayer.]

He shall to Parthia.—Be it art or hap,
He hath spoken true: the very dice obey him;
And, in our sports, my better cunning faints
35 Under his chance: if we draw lots, he speeds;
His cocks do win the battle still of mine,
When it is all to nought; and his quails ever
Beat mine, inhoop'd, at odds. I will to Egypt:

Enter VENTIDIUS.

O, come, Ventidius,
You must to Parthia: your commission 's ready;
Follow me, and receive 't. [Exeunt.]

SCENE IV. The same. A street.

Enter LEPIDUS, MECÆNAS, and AGRIPPA.

Lep. Trouble yourselves no further: pray you, hasten
Your generals after.

Agr. Sir, Mark Antony
Will e'en but kiss Octavia, and we'll follow.

Lep. Till I shall see you in your soldier's dress,
5 Which will become you both, farewell.

Mec. We shall,
As I conceive the journey, be at the Mount
Before you, Lepidus.

Lep. Your way is shorter;
My purposes do draw me much about:
You'll win two days upon me.

Mec. }
Agr. } Sir, good success!

SCENE V. Alexandria. Cleopatra's palace.Enter CLEOPATRA, CHARMIAN, IRAS, and ALEXAS.

Cleo. Give me some music; music, moody food
Of us that trade in love.

Attend. The music, ho!

Enter MARDIAN the Eunuch.

Cleo. Let it alone; let's to billiards: come, Charmian.

Char. My arm is sore; best play with Mardian.

5 Cleo. As well a woman with an eunuch play'd
As with a woman.—Come, you'll play with me, Sir?

Mar. As well as I can, Madam.

Cleo. And when good will is show'd, though't come too short,

The actor may plead pardon. I'll none now:

10 Give me mine angle; we'll to the river: there,
My music playing far off, I will betray
Tawny-finn'd fishes; my bended hook shall pierce
Their slimy jaws; and, as I draw them up,
I'll think them every one an Antony,

15 And say 'Ah, ha! you're caught.'

Char. 'Twas merry when
You wager'd on your angling: when your diver
Did hang a salt-fish on his hook, which he
With fervency drew up.

Scene V. Pope, om. Cleo. That time,—O times! —
 I laugh'd him out of patience; and that night
 20 I laugh'd him into patience: and next morn,
 Ere the ninth hour, I drunk him to his bed;
 Then put my tires and mantles on him, whilst
 I wore his sword Philippan.

Enter a Messenger.

O, from Italy!
 Ram thou thy fruitful tidings in mine ears,
 25 That long time have been barren.

Mess. Madam, Madam,—

Cleo. Antony's dead!—If thou say so, villain,
 Thou kill'st thy mistress: but well and free,
 If thou so yield him, there is gold, and here
 My bluest veins to kiss; a hand that kings
 30 Have lipp'd, and trembled kissing.

Mess. First, Madam, he is well.

Cleo. Why, there's more gold.
 But, sirrah, mark, we use
 To say the dead are well: bring it to that,
 The gold I give thee will I melt and pour 35 Down thy ill-uttering throat.

Mess. Good Madam, hear me.

Cleo. Well, go to, I will;
 But there's no goodness in thy face: if Antony
 Be free and healthful,—so tart a favour
 To trumpet such good tidings! If not well,
 40 Thou shouldst come like a Fury crown'd with snakes,
 Not like a formal man.

²⁶⁻²⁸ As in Dyce; four lines, ending dead || Mistris || him || heere ||, in Ff. ²⁶ Anthonyo's F¹, Anthony's F²F³F⁴, Antonius Delius. — thou do say S. Walker conj. (Versif., p. 48). ³⁷ face if F¹, face, if F²F³F⁴, face: if mod. Edd. ³⁸ why so tart Rowe (followed by Dyce.

Mess. Will 't please you hear me?

Cleo. I have a mind to strike thee ere thou speak'st:
Yet, if thou say Antony lives, is well,
Or friends with Cæsar, or not captive to him,
45 I'll set thee in a shower of gold, and hail
Rich pearls upon thee.

Mess. Madam, he's well.

Cleo. Well said.

Mess. And friends with Cæsar.

Cleo. Thou'rt an honest man.

Mess. Cæsar and he are greater friends than ever.

Cleo. Make thee a fortune from me.

Mess. But yet, Madam,—

50 Cleo. I do not like 'But yet,' it does allay
The good precedence; fie upon 'But yet'!
'But yet' is a gaoler to bring forth
Some monstrous malefactor. Prithee, friend,
Pour out the pack of matter to mine ear,
55 The good and bad together: he's friends with Cæsar;
In state of health thou say'st; and thou say'st free.

Mess. Free, Madam! no; I made no such report:
He's bound unto Octavia.

Cleo. For what good turn?

Mess. For the best turn i' the bed.

Cleo. I am pale, Charmian.

60 Mess. Madam, he's married to Octavia.

Cleo. The most infectious pestilence upon thee!

Mess. Good Madam, patience.

Cleo. What say you? Hence,

Smarting in lingering pickle.

Mess.

Gracious Madam,

I that do bring the news made not the match.

Cleo. Say 'tis not so, a province I will give thee,
And make thy fortunes proud: the blow thou hadst
70 Shall make thy peace for moving me to rage;
And I will boot thee with what gift beside Thy modesty can beg.

Mess.

He's married, Madam.

Cleo. Rogue, thou hast liv'd too long.

[Draws a knife.]

Mess.

Nay, then I'll run.

What mean you, Madam? I have made no fault. [Exit.]

75 Char. Good Madam, keep yourself within yourself:
The man is innocent.

Cleo. Some innocents 'scape not the thunderbolt.—
Melt Egypt into Nile! and kindly creatures
Turn all to serpents!—Call the slave again:
80 Though I am mad, I will not bite him: call.

Char. He is afeard to come.

Cleo.

I will not hurt him.

[Exit Charmian.]

These hands do lack nobility, that they strike
A meaner than myself; since I myself
Have given myself the cause.

Re-enter CHARMIAN and Messenger.

Come hither, Sir.

Themselves when they be felt.

Mess. I've done my duty.

Cleo. Is he married?

90 I cannot hate thee worser than I do,
If thou again say 'Yes.'

Mess. He's married, Madam.

Cleo. The gods confound thee! dost thou hold there still?

Mess. Should I lie, Madam?

Cleo. O, I would thou didst,
So half my Egypt were submerg'd, and made
95 A cistern for scal'd snakes! Go, get thee hence:
Hadst thou Narcissus in thy face, to me
Thou wouldst appear most ugly. He is married?

Mess. I crave your Highness' pardon.

Cleo. He is married?

Mess. Take no offence that I would not offend you:
100 To punish me for what you make me do
Seems much unequal: he's married to Octavia.

Cleo. O, that his fault should make a knave of thee,
That art not what thou'rt sure of! Get thee hence:
The merchandise which thou hast brought from Rome
105 Are all too dear for me: lie they upon thy hand,
And be undone by 'em! [Exit Messenger.]

Char. Good your Highness, patience.

Cleo. In praising Antony, I have disprais'd Cæsar.

Char. Many times, Madam.

Cleo. I am paid for't now.
Lead me from hence;

⁸⁸ I have Ff, I've Dyce. ¹⁰³ Many needless conjectures have been made about this much-disputed line; for the different explanations see Rolfe's note ad loc. SCENE VI. Near Misenum.

Flourish. Enter POMPEY and MENAS at one door, with drum and trumpet: at another, CÆSAR, ANTONY, LEPIDUS, ENOBARBUS, MECÆNAS, with Soldiers marching.

Pom. Your hostages I have, so have you mine;
 And we shall talk before we fight.

Cæs. Most meet
 That first we come to words; and therefore have we
 Our written purposes before us sent;
 5 Which, if thou hast consider'd, let us know
 If 'twill tie up thy discontented sword,
 And carry back to Sicily much tall youth
 That else must perish here.

Pom. To you all three,

10 Chief factors for the gods, I do not know
 Wherefore my father should revengers want,
 Having a son and friends; since Julius Cæsar,
 Who at Philippi the good Brutus ghosted,
 There saw you labouring for him. What was't
 15 That mov'd pale Cassius to conspire; and what Made the all-honour'd, honest Roman, Brutus,
 With the arm'd rest, courtiers of beauteous freedom,
 To drench the Capitol; but that they would Have one man but a man? And that is it
 20 Hath made me rig my navy; at whose burthen
 The anger'd ocean foams; with which I meant
 To scourge the ingratitude that spiteful Rome
 Cast on my noble father.

Cæs. Take your time.

Ant. Thou canst not fear us, Pompey, with thy sails;
 25 We'll speak with thee at sea: at land, thou know'st
 How much we do o'er-count thee.

Pom. At land, indeed,
 Thou dost o'er-count me of my father's house:
 But, since the cuckoo builds not for himself,
 Remain in't as thou mayst.

Lep. Be pleas'd to tell us—
 30 For this is from the present—how you take
 The offers we have sent you.

Cæs. There's the point.

Ant. Which do not be entreated to, but weigh
 What it is worth embrac'd.

Pom. Know, then,
 I came before you here a man prepar'd
 To take this offer: but Mark Antony
 Put me to some impatience: though I lose
 The praise of it by telling, you must know,
 45 When Cæsar and your brother were at blows,
 Your mother came to Sicily, and did find
 Her welcome friendly.

Ant. I have heard it, Pompey;
 And am well studied for a liberal thanks
 Which I do owe you.

Pom. Let me have your hand:
 50 I did not think, Sir, to have met you here.

Ant. The beds i' the east are soft; and thanks to
 you,
 That call'd me, timelier than my purpose, hither;
 For I have gain'd by't.

Cæs. Since I saw you last,
 There is a change upon you.

Pom. Well, I know not
 55 What counts harsh fortune casts upon my face;
 But in my bosom shall she never come,
 To make my heart her vassal.

Lep. Well met here.

Pom. I hope so, Lepidus. Thus we are agreed:

I crave our composition may be written,
 60 And seal'd between us.

Cæs. That's the next to do.

Pom. We'll feast each other ere we part; and let's
 Draw lots who shall begin.

Ant. That will I, Pompey.

Pom. No, Antony, take the lot: but, first
 Or last, your fine Egyptian cookery
 65 Shall have the fame. I've heard that Julius Cæsar
 Grew fat with feasting there.

Ant. You have heard much.

Pom. I have fair meanings, Sir.

Ant. And fair words to them.

Pom. Then so much have I heard:
 And I have heard, Apollodorus carried—

70 Eno. No more of that: he did so.

Pom. What, I pray you?

Eno. A certain queen to Cæsar in a mattress.

Pom. I know thee now: how far'st thou, soldier?

Eno. Well;

And well am like to do; for, I perceive,
 Four feasts are toward.

Pom. Let me shake thy hand;
 75 I never hated thee: I've seen thee fight,
 When I have envied thy behaviour.

Eno. Sir,
 I never lov'd you much; but I ha' prais'd ye,
 When you have well deserv'd ten times as much
 As I have said you did.

Pom. Enjoy thy plainness,

Show us the way, Sir.

Come.

Men. [Aside] Thy father, Pompey, would ne'er have 85 made this treaty.—You and I have known, Sir.

Eno. At sea, I think.

Men. We have, Sir.

Eno. You have done well by water.

90 Men. And you by land.

Eno. I will praise any man that will praise me; though it cannot be denied what I have done by land.

Men. Nor what I have done by water.

95 Eno. Yes, something you can deny for your own safety: you have been a great thief by sea.

Men. And you by land.

Eno. There I deny my land service. But give me your hand, Menas: if our eyes had authority, here they 100 might take two thieves kissing.

Men. All men's faces are true, whatsome'er their hands are.

Eno. But there is never a fair woman has a true
105 face.

Men. No slander; they steal hearts.

Eno. We came hither to fight with you.

Men. For my part, I am sorry it is turned to a drinking. Pompey doth this day laugh away his for-110 tune.

Eno. If he do, sure, he cannot weep't back again.

faulty in the Globe ed.).

Men. You've said, Sir. We looked not for Mark
115 Antony here: pray you, is he married to Cleopatra?

Eno. Cæsar's sister is called Octavia.

Men. True, Sir; she was the wife of Caius Marcellus.

Eno. But she is now the wife of Marcus Antonius.

120 Men. Pray ye, Sir?

Eno. 'Tis true.

Men. Then is Cæsar and he for ever knit together.

Eno. If I were bound to divine of this unity, I would 125 not prophesy so.

Men. I think the policy of that purpose made more in the marriage than the love of the parties.

Eno. I think so too. But you shall find, the band that seems to tie their friendship together will be the 130 very strangler of their amity: Octavia is of a holy, cold, and still conversation.

Men. Who would not have his wife so?

Eno. Not he that himself is not so; which is Mark Antony. He will to his Egyptian dish again: then shall 135 the sighs of Octavia blow the fire up in Cæsar; and, as I said before, that which is the strength of their amity shall prove the immediate author of their variance. Antony will use his affection where it is: he married but 140 his occasion here.

Men. And thus it may be. Come, Sir, will you aboard? I have a health for you.

Eno. I shall take it, Sir: we have used our throats in Egypt.

SCENE VII. On board Pompey's galley, off Misenum.

Music plays. Enter two or three Servants with a banquet.

First Serv. Here they'll be, man. Some o' their plants are ill-rooted already; the least wind i' the world will blow them down.

Sec. Serv. Lepidus is high-coloured.

5 First Serv. They have made him drink alms-drink.

Sec. Serv. As they pinch one another by the disposition, he cries out 'No more;' reconciles them to his entreaty, and himself to the drink.

10 First Serv. But it raises the greater war between him and his discretion.

Sec. Serv. Why, this it is to have a name in great men's fellowship: I had as lief have a reed that will do 15 me no service as a partisan I could not heave.

First Serv. To be called into a huge sphere, and not to be seen to move in't, are the holes where eyes should be, which pitifully disaster the cheeks.

A sennet sounded. Enter CÆSAR, ANTONY, LEPIDUS, POMPEY, AGRIPPA, MECÆNAS, ENOBARBUS, MENAS, with other captains.

20 Ant. [To Cæsar] Thus do they, Sir: they take the flow o' the Nile

Lep. Your serpent of Egypt is bred now of your 30 mud by the operation of your sun: so is your crocodile.

Ant. They are so.

Pom. Sit,—and some wine! A health to Lepidus!

35 Lep. I am not so well as I should be, but I'll ne'er out.

Eno. Not till you have slept; I fear me you'll be in till then.

Lep. Nay, certainly, I have heard the Ptolemies' py-have heard that.

thee, captain,

And hear me speak a word.

Pom. [Aside to Men.] Forbear me till anon.
45 This wine for Lepidus!

Lep. What manner o' thing is your crocodile?

Ant. It is shaped, Sir, like itself; and it is as broad as it hath breadth: it is just so high as it is, and moves 50 with it own organs: it lives by that which nourisheth it; and the elements once out of it, it transmigrates.

Lep. What colour is it of?

Ant. Of it own colour too.

Lep. 'Tis a strange serpent.

55 Ant. 'Tis so. And the tears of it are wet.

Cæs. Will this description satisfy him?

Ant. With the health that Pompey gives him, else he is a very epicure.

Pom. [Aside to Men.] Go hang, Sir, hang! Tell me of that? away!

60 Do as I bid you. Where's this cup I call'd for?

Men. [Aside to Pom.] If for the sake of merit thou wilt hear me,

Rise from thy stool.

Pom. [Aside to Men.] I think thou'rt mad. The matter?
[Rises, and walks aside.]

Men. I've ever held my cap off to thy fortunes.

Pom. Thou hast serv'd me with much faith. What's else to say?

65 Be jolly, lords.

Ant. These quick-sands, Lepidus,
Keep of them, or you sink.

Men. Wilt thou be lord of all the world?

Pom. What say'st thou?

Men. Wilt thou be lord of the whole world? That's twice.

Pom. How should that be?

Men. But entertain it,

70 And, though thou think me poor, I am the man
Will give thee all the world.

Pom. Hast thou drunk well?

Men. No, Pompey, I have kept me from the cup.
Thou art, if thou dar'st be, the earthly Jove:

Whate'er the ocean pales, or sky inclips,

75 Is thine, if thou wilt ha 't.

Pom. Show me which way.

Men. These three world-sharers, these competitors,

⁶² th'art Ff, thou'rt Rowe. — [Rises.] om. Ff. ⁶³ I have Ff, I've Dyce.

Are in thy vessel: let me cut the cable;
And, when we are put off, fall to their throats:
All there is thine.

Pom. Ah, this thou shouldst have done,
80 And not have spoke on 't! In me 'tis villany!
In thee 't had been good service. Thou must know,
'Tis not my profit that does lead mine honour;
Mine honour, it. Repent that e'er thy tongue
Hath so betray'd thine act: being done unknown,
85 I should have found it afterwards well done;
But must condemn it now. Desist, and drink.

Men. [Aside] For this,
I'll never follow thy pall'd fortunes more.
Who seeks, and will not take when once 'tis offer'd,
90 Shall never find it more.

Pom. This health to Lepidus!

Ant. Bear him ashore. I'll pledge it for him, Pompey.

Eno. Here's to thee, Menas!

Men. Enobarbus, welcome!

Pom. Fill till the cup be hid.

Eno. There's a strong fellow, Menas.

[Pointing to the Attendant who carries off Lepidus.]

95 Men. Why?

Eno. A' bears the third part of the world, man; see'st not?

Men. The third part, then, is drunk: would it were all,

That it might go on wheels!

100 Eno. Drink thou; increase the reels.

Men. Come.

⁷⁹ All then is Pope (adopted by Dyce). ⁸⁶ paul'd F. ^{87,88} For this . . . more. As by Pope; two lines, the first ending follow ||, in Ff. ⁹¹ Two lines in Ff, one in Pope. ⁹⁴ [Pointing . . .] Steevens. ^{97,98} The . . . wheels. Prose in Ff, verse by Theobald. ⁹⁷ then he is Ff, then is Rowe.

Pom. This is not yet an Alexandrian feast.

Ant. It ripens towards it. Strike the vessels, ho!
Here is to Cæsar!

Cæs. I could well forbear 't.
105 It's monstrous labour, when I wash my brain,
And it grows fouler.

Ant. Be a child o' the time.

Cæs. Possess it, I'll make answer:
But I had rather fast from all four days
Than drink so much in one.

Eno. Ha, my brave emperor! [To Antony.]
110 Shall we dance now the Egyptian Bacchanals,
And celebrate our drink?

Pom. Let's ha 't, good soldier.

Ant. Come, let's all take hands,
Till that the conquering wine hath steep'd our sense
In soft and delicate Lethe.

Eno. All take hands.
115 Make battery to our ears with the loud music:
The while I'll place you: then the boy shall sing;
The holding every man shall bear as loud
As his strong sides can volley.

[Music plays. Enobarbus places them hand in hand.]

THE SONG.

120 Come, thou monarch of the vine,
Plumpy Bacchus with pink eyne!
In thy fats our cares be drown'd,
With thy grapes our hairs be 'crown'd:
Cup us, till the world go round,
125 Cup us, till the world go round!

Cæs. What would you more? Pompey, good night.
Good brother,

Let me request you off: our graver business
 Frowns at this levity.—Gentle lords, let's part;
 You see we've burnt our cheeks: strong Enobarb
 130 Is weaker than the wine; and mine own tongue
 Splits what it speaks: the wild disguise hath almost Antick'd us all. What needs more words? Good night.
 Good Antony, your hand.

Pom. I'll try you on the shore.

Ant. And shall, Sir: give's your hand.

Pom. O Antony,
 135 You have my father's house,—But, what? we're friends.
 Come, down into the boat.

Eno. Take heed you fall not.

[Exeunt all but Enobarbus and Menas.]

Menas, I'll not on shore.

Men. No, to my cabin.

These drums! these trumpets, flutes! what!

Let Neptune hear we bid a loud farewell

140 To these great fellows: sound and be hang'd, sound out!

[Sound a flourish, with drums.]

Eno. Ho! says a'. There's my cap.

A C T III.

SCENE I. A plain in Syria.

Enter VENTIDIUS as it were in triumph, with SILIUS, and other Romans, Officers, and Soldiers; the dead body of PACORUS borne before him.

Ven. Now, darting Parthia, art thou struck: and now
Pleas'd fortune does of Marcus Crassus' death
Make me revenger.—Bear the king's son's body
Before our army. Thy Pacorus, Orodes,
5 Pays this for Marcus Crassus.

Sil. Noble Ventidius,
Whilst yet with Parthian blood thy sword is warm,
The fugitive Parthians follow; spur through Media,
Mesopotamia, and the shelters whither
The routed fly: so thy grand captain Antony 10 Shall set thee on triumphant chariots, and Put garlands on thy head.

Ven. O Silius, Silius,

- I've done enough; a lower place, note well,
 May make too great an act: for learn this, Silius:
 Better to leave undone, than by our deed
 15 Acquire too high a fame when him we serve's away.
 Cæsar and Antony have ever won
 More in their officer than person: Sossius,
 One of my place in Syria, his lieutenant,
 For quick accumulation of renown,
 20 Which he achiev'd by the minute, lost his favour.
 Who does i' the wars more than his captain can Becomes his captain's captain; and ambition,
 The soldier's virtue, rather makes choice of loss,
 Than gain which darkens him.
 25 I could do more to do Antonius good,
 But 'twould offend him; and in his offence
 Should my performance perish.

Sil.

Thou hast, Ventidius, that Without the which a soldier, and his sword,

 Grants scarce distinction. Thou wilt write to Antony?

- 30 Ven. I'll humbly signify what in his name,
 That magical word of war, we have effected;
 How, with his banners and his well-paid ranks,
 The ne'er-yet-beaten horse of Parthia
 We've jaded out o' the field.

Sil.

Where is he now?

- 35 Ven. He purposeth to Athens: whither, with what haste

The weight we must convey with's will permit,
 We shall appear before him. On, there; pass along!

SCENE II. Rome. An ante-chamber in Cæsar's house.

Enter AGRIPPA at one door, ENOBARBUS at another.

Agr. What, are the brothers parted?

Eno. They have dispatch'd with Pompey, he is gone;
The other three are sealing. Octavia weeps
To part from Rome; Cæsar is sad; and Lepidus,
5 Since Pompey's feast, as Menas says, is troubled
With the green sickness.

Agr. 'Tis a noble Lepidus.

Eno. A very fine one: O, how he loves Cæsar!

Agr. Nay, but how dearly he adores Mark Antony!

Eno. Cæsar? Why, he's the Jupiter of men.

10 Agr. What's Antony? The god of Jupiter.

Eno. Spake you of Cæsar? How! the nonpareil!

Agr. O Antony! O thou Arabian bird!

Eno. Would you praise Cæsar, say 'Cæsar:' go no further.

Agr. Indeed, he plied them both with excellent praises.

15 Eno. But he loves Cæsar best; yet he loves Antony:
Ho! hearts, tongues, figures, scribes, bards, poets, cannot Think, speak, cast, write, sing, number, ho!
His love to Antony. But as for Cæsar,
Kneel down, kneel down, and wonder.

Agr. Both he loves.

20 Eno. They are his shards, and he their beetle. [Trumpets within.] So;

This is to horse. Adieu, noble Agrippa.

Agr. Good fortune, worthy soldier; and farewell.

Enter CÆSAR, ANTONY, LEPIDUS, and OCTAVIA.

Ant. No further, Sir.

Cæs. You take from me a great part of myself;
 25 Use me well in't.—Sister, prove such a wife
 As my thoughts make thee, and as my farthest band
 Shall pass on thy approof.—Most noble Antony,
 Let not the piece of virtue, which is set
 Betwixt us as the cément of our love,
 30 To keep it builded, be the ram to batter
 The fortress of it; for better might we Have lov'd without this mean, if on both parts
 This be not cherish'd.

Ant. Make me not offended
 In your distrust.

Cæs. I have said.

Ant. You shall not find,
 35 Though you be therein curious, the least cause
 For what you seem to fear: so, the gods keep you,
 And make the hearts of Romans serve your ends!
 We will here part.

Cæs. Farewell, my dearest sister, fare thee well:
 40 The elements be kind to thee, and make
 Thy spirits all of comfort! fare thee well.

Oct. My noble brother!

Ant. The April's in her eyes: it is love's spring,
 And these the showers to bring it on. Be cheerful.

45 Oct. Sir, look well to my husband's house; and—

Cæs. What,
 Octavia?

Oct. I'll tell you in your ear.

 pronounced as a trisyllable. ^{33,34} Make . . . distrust. As in Rowe;

Ant. Her tongue will not obey her heart, nor can
Her heart inform her tongue,—the swan's down-feather,
That stands upon the swell at full of tide,
50 And neither way inclines.

Eno. [Aside to Agr.] Will Cæsar weep?

Agr. [Aside to Eno.] He has a cloud in 's face.

Eno. [Aside to Agr.] He were the worse for that,
were he a horse;

So is he, being a man.

Agr. [Aside to Eno.] Why, Enobarbus,
When Antony found Julius Cæsar dead,
55 He cried almost to roaring; and he wept
When at Philippi he found Brutus slain.

Eno. [Aside to Agr.] That year, indeed, he was troubled with a rheum;
What willingly he did confound he wail'd,
Believe 't, till I wept too.

Cæs. No, sweet Octavia,
60 You shall hear from me still: the time shall not
Out-go my thinking on you.

Ant. Come, Sir, come;
I'll wrestle with you in my strength of love:
Look, here I have you; thus I let you go,
And give you to the gods.

Cæs. Adieu; be happy.

65 Lep. Let all the number of the stars give light
To thy fair way!

Cæs. Farewell, farewell! [Kisses Octavia.]

Ant. Farewell!

Come hither, Sir.

Alex. Good Majesty,

But when you are well pleas'd.Cleo. That Herod's head
5 I'll have: but how, when Antony is gone
Through whom I might command it?—Come thou near.Mess. Most gracious Majesty,—Cleo. Didst thou behold Octavia?Mess. Ay, dread queen.10 Cleo. Where?Mess. Madam, in Rome; low?Mess. Madam, I heard her speak; she is low-voic'd.Cleo. That's not so good: he cannot like her long.Char. Like her! O Isis! 'tis impossible.

Cleo. I think so, Charmian: dull of tongue, and dwarfish!

20 What majesty is in her gait? Remember,
If e'er thou look'dst on majesty.

Mess. She creeps:
Her motion and her station are as one;
She shows a body rather than a life,
A statue than a breather.

Cleo. Is this certain?

25 Mess. Or I have no observance.

Char. Three in Egypt
Cannot make better note.

Cleo. He's very knowing;
I do perceive 't: there's nothing in her yet:
The fellow has good judgment.

Char. Excellent.

Cleo. Guess at her years, I prithee.

Mess. Madam,
30 She was a widow,—

Cleo. Widow! Charmian, hark.

Mess. And I do think she's thirty.

Cleo. Bear'st thou her face in mind? is't long or round?

Mess. Round even to faultiness.

Cleo. For the most part, too, they're foolish that are so.

35 Her hair, what colour?

Mess. Brown, Madam: and her forehead
As low as she would wish it.

Cleo. There's gold for thee.
Thou must not take my former sharpness ill:

I will employ thee back again; I find thee
 40 Most fit for business: go make thee ready;
 Our letters are prepar'd. [Exit Messenger.]

Char. A proper man.

Cleo. Indeed, he is so: I repent me much
 That so I harried him. Why, methinks, by him,
 This creature's no such thing.

Char. Nothing, Madam.

45 Cleo. The man hath seen some majesty, and should know.

Char. Hath he seen majesty? Isis else defend,
 And serving you so long!

Cleo. I've one thing more to ask him yet, good Charmian:

But 'tis no matter; thou shalt bring him to me
 50 Where I will write. All may be well enough.

Char. I warrant you, Madam. [Exeunt.]

SCENE IV. Athens. A room in Antony's house.

Enter ANTONY and OCTAVIA.

Ant. Nay, nay, Octavia, not only that,—
 That were excusable, that, and thousands more
 Of semblable import,—but he hath wag'd
 New wars 'gainst Pompey; made his will, and read it
 5 To public ear:
 Spoke scantily of me: when perforce he could not
 But pay me terms of honour, cold and sickly

⁴¹ [Exit Messenger.] Hanmer, om. Ff. ^{46,47} Hath . . . long. As in Pope; prose in Ff. ^{47.50} Prose in Ff; as verse first in Rowe.

He vented them; most narrow measure lent me:
 When the best hint was given him, he not took't,
 10 Or did it from his teeth.

Oct. O my good lord,
 Believe not all; or, if you must believe,
 Stomach not all. A more unhappy lady,
 If this division chance, ne'er stood between,
 Praying for both parts:
 15 The good gods will mock me presently,
 When I shall pray, 'O, bless my lord and husband!'
 Undo that prayer, by crying out as loud,
 'O, bless my brother!' Husband win, win brother,
 Prays, and destroys the prayer; no midway
 20 'Twixt these extremes at all.

Ant. Gentle Octavia,
 Let your best love draw to that point, which seeks
 Best to preserve it: if I lose mine honour,
 I lose myself: better I were not yours
 Than yours so branchless. But, as you requested, 25 Yourself shall go between's: the mean time, lady,
 I'll raise the preparation of a war
 Shall stain your brother: make your soonest haste;
 So your desires are yours.

Oct. Thanks to my lord.
 The Jove of power make me most weak, most weak, 30 Your reconciler! Wars 'twixt you twain would be
 As if the world should cleave, and that slain men
 Should solder up the rift.

Ant. When it appears to you where this begins,
 Turn your displeasure that way; for our faults
 35 Can never be so equal, that your love

SCENE V. The same. Another room.

Enter ENOBARBUS and EROS, meeting.

Eno. How now, friend Eros!

Eros. There's strange news come, Sir.

Eno. What, man?

Eros. Cæsar and Lepidus have made wars upon Pom-
 5 pey.

Eno. This is old: what is the success?

Eros. Cæsar, having made use of him in the wars
 'gainst Pompey, presently denied him rivalry; would not let him partake in the glory of the action: and not 10 resting here, accuses him of letters he had formerly wrote to Pompey; upon his own appeal, seizes him: so the poor third is up, till death enlarge his confine.

Eno. Then, world, thou hast a pair of chaps, no more;
 15 And throw between them all the food thou hast,
 They'll grind the one the other. Where's Antony?

Eros. He's walking in the garden—thus; and spurns
 The rush that lies before him; cries, 'Fool Lepidus!'
 And threatens the throat of that his officer
 20 That murder'd Pompey.

Eno. Our great navy's rigg'd.

Eros. For Italy and Cæsar. More, Domitius;

25 Eros. Come, Sir.

SCENE VI. Rome. Cæsar's house.

Enter CÆSAR, AGRIPPA, and MECÆNAS.

Cæs. Contemning Rome, he has done all this, and more,

In Alexandria: here's the manner of't:

I' the market-place, on a tribunal silver'd,

Cleopatra and himself in chairs of gold

5 Were publicly enthron'd: at the feet sat

Cæsarion, whom they call my father's son,

And all the unlawful issue that their lust

Since then hath made between them. Unto her

He gave the stablishment of Egypt; made her

10 Of lower Syria, Cyprus, Lydia,

Absolute queen.

Mec. This in the public eye?

Cæs. I' the common show-place, where they exercise.

His sons he there proclaim'd the kings of kings:

Great Media, Parthia, and Armenia,

15 He gave to Alexander; to Ptolemy he assign'd

Syria, Cilicia, and Phœnicia: she

Mec.

Let Rome be thus

20 Inform'd.

Agr. Who, queasy with his insolence
Already, will their good thoughts call from him.

Cæs. The people know it; and have now receiv'd
His accusations.

Agr.

Who does he accuse?

Cæs. Cæsar: and that, having in Sicily
25 Sextus Pompeius spoil'd, we had not rated him
His part o' the isle: then does he say, he lent me
Some shipping unrestor'd: lastly, he frets
That Lepidus of the triumvirate
Should be depos'd; and, being, that we detain
30 All his revenue.

Agr.

Sir, this should be answer'd.

Cæs. 'Tis done already, and the messenger gone.
I've told him, Lepidus was grown too cruel;
That he his high authority abus'd,
And did deserve his change: for what I've conquer'd,
35 I grant him part; but then, in his Armenia,
And other of his conquer'd kingdoms, I Demand the like.

Mec.

He'll never yield to that.

Cæs. Nor must not, then, be yielded to in this.

Enter OCTAVIA with her train.

Oct. Hail, Cæsar, and my lord! hail, most dear Cæsar!

40 Cæs. That ever I should call thee castaway!

Oct. You have not call'd me so, nor have you cause.

Cæs. Why have you stol'n upon us thus? You come not

Like Cæsar's sister: the wife of Antony
Should have an army for an usher, and 45 The neighs of horse to tell of her approach
Long ere she did appear; the trees by the way
Should have borne men; and expectation fainted,
Longing for what it had not; nay, the dust
Should have ascended to the roof of heaven,
50 Rais'd by your populous troops: but you are come
A market-maid to Rome; and have prevented
The ostentation of our love, which, left unshown,
Is often left unlov'd: we should have met you
By sea and land; supplying every stage
55 With an augmented greeting.

Oct. Good my lord,
To come thus was I not constrain'd, but did it
On my free will. My lord, Mark Antony,
Hearing that you prepar'd for war, acquainted
My grieved ear withal; whereon, I begg'd
60 His pardon for return.

Cæs. Which soon he granted,
Being an obstruct 'tween his lust and him.

Oct. Do not say so, my lord.

Cæs. I have eyes upon him,
And his affairs come to me on the wind.
Where is he now?

Oct. My lord, in Athens.

65 Cæs. No, my most wronged sister; Cleopatra Hath nodded him to her. He hath given his empire
Up to a whore; who now are levying
The kings o' the earth for war: he hath assembled
Bocchus, the king of Libya; Archelaus,
70 Of Cappadocia; Philadelphos, king
Of Paphlagonia; the Thracian king, Adallas;
King Malchus of Arabia; King of Pont;
Herod of Jewry; Mithridates, king
Of Comagene; Polemon and Amyntas,
75 The kings of Mede and Lycaonia,
With a more larger list of sceptres.

Oct. Ay me, most wretched,
That have my heart parted betwixt two friends
That do afflict each other!

Cæs. Welcome hither:
Your letters did withhold our breaking forth;
80 Till we perceiv'd both how you were wrong led,
And we in negligent danger. Cheer your heart:
Be you not troubled with the time, which drives
O'er your content these strong necessities;
But let determin'd things to destiny
85 Hold unbewail'd their way. Welcome to Rome;
Nothing more dear to me. You are abus'd
Beyond the mark of thought: and the high gods,
To do you justice, make them ministers
Of us and those that love you. Best of comfort;
90 And ever welcome to us.

Agr. Welcome, lady.

Mec. Welcome, dear Madam.

Each heart in Rome does love and pity you:

Only the adulterous Antony, most large

In his abominations, turns you off;

95 And gives his potent regiment to a trull,

That noises it against us.

Oct. Is it so, Sir?

Cæs. Most certain. Sister, welcome: pray you,
Be ever known to patience: my dear'st sister! [Exeunt.]

SCENE VII. Near Actium. Antony's camp.

Enter CLEOPATRA and ENOBARBUS.

Cleo. I will be even with thee, doubt it not.

Eno. But why, why, why?

Cleo. Thou hast forspoke my being in these wars,
And say'st it is not fit.

Eno. Well, is it, is it?

5 Cleo. If not denounc'd against us, why should not we
Be there in person?

Eno. [Aside] Well, I could reply:
If we should serve with horse and mares together,
The horse were merely lost; the mares would bear
10 A soldier and his horse.

Cleo. What is't you say?

Eno. Your presence needs must puzzle Antony;
Take from his heart, take from his brain, from's time,
What should not then be spar'd. He is already

Traduc'd for levity; and 'tis said in Rome
 15 That Phótinus an eunuch and your maids
 Manage this war.

Cleo. Sink Rome, and their tongues rot
 That speak against us! A charge we bear i' the war,
 And, as the president of my kingdom, will Appear there for a man. Speak not against it;
 20 I will not stay behind.

Eno. Nay, I have done.
 Here comes the emperor.

Enter ANTONY and CANIDIUS.

Ant. Is it not strange, Canidius,
 That from Tarentum and Brundusium
 He could so quickly cut the Ionian sea,
 And take in Toryne? You have heard on't, sweet?

25 Cleo. Celerity is never more admir'd
 Than by the negligent.

Ant. A good rebuke,
 Which might have well becom'd the best of men,
 To taunt at slackness.—Canidius, we
 Will fight with him by sea.

Cleo. By sea! what else?

30 Can. Why will my lord do so?

Ant. For that he dares us to't.

Eno. So hath my lord dar'd him to single fight.

Can. Ay, and to wage this battle at Pharsalia,
 Where Cæsar fought with Pompey: but these offers,
 Which serve not for his vantage, he shakes off;
 35 And so should you.

Eno. Your ships are not well mann'd;

Your mariners are muleters, reapers, people
Ingross'd by swift impress; in Cæsar's fleet
Are those that often have 'gainst Pompey fought:
Their ships are yare; yours, heavy: no disgrace
40 Shall fall you for refusing him at sea,
Being prepar'd for land.

Ant. By sea, by sea.

Eno. Most worthy Sir, you therein throw away
The absolute soldiership you have by land;
Distract your army, which doth most consist 45 Of war-mark'd footmen; leave unexecuted
Your own renowned knowledge; quite forego
The way which promises assurance; and Give up yourself merely to chance and hazard,
From firm security.

Ant. I'll fight at sea.

50 Cleo. I have sixty sails, Cæsar none better.

Ant. Our overplus of shipping will we burn;
And, with the rest full-mann'd, from the head of Actium
Beat the approaching Cæsar. But if we fail,
We then can do't at land.

Enter a Messenger.

Thy business?

55 Mess. The news is true, my lord; he is descried;
Cæsar has taken Toryne.

Ant. Can he be there in person? 'tis impossible;
Strange that his power should be.—Canidius,
Our nineteen legions thou shalt hold by land,
60 And our twelve thousand horse. We'll to our ship:
Away, my Thetis!

³⁶ Militers F. ⁵² head of Action F¹, heart of Actium F²F³F⁴,

Enter a Soldier.

How now, worthy soldier!

Sold. O noble emperor, do not fight by sea;
Trust not to rotten planks: do you misdoubt
This sword and these my wounds? Let the Egyptians 65 And the Phœnicians go a-ducking: we Have us'd to conquer, standing on the earth,
And fighting foot to foot.

Ant. Well, well: away!

[Exeunt Antony, Cleopatra, and Enobarbus.]

Sold. By Hercules, I think I am i' the right.

Can. Soldier, thou art: but his whole action grows 70 Not in the power on't: so our leader's led,
And we are women's men.

Sold. You keep by land
The legions and the horse whole, do you not?

Can. Marcus Octavius, Marcus Justeius,
Publicola, and Cælius, are for sea:
75 But we keep whole by land. This speed of Cæsar's Carries beyond belief.

Sold. While he was yet in Rome,
His power went out in such distractions as Beguil'd all spies.

Can. Who's his lieutenant, hear you?

Sold. They say, one Taurus.

Can. Well I know the man.

Enter a Messenger.

Enter CÆSAR, and TAURUS, with his army, marching.

Cæs. Taurus!

Taur. My lord?

Cæs. Strike not by land; keep whole: provoke not battle,

Till we have done at sea. Do not exceed 5 The prescript of this scroll: our fortune lies
Upon this jump. [Exeunt.]

SCENE IX. Another part of the plain.

Enter ANTONY and ENOBARBUS.

Ant. Set we our squadrons on yond side o' the hill,
In eye of Cæsar's battle; from which place
We may the number of the ships behold,
And so proceed accordingly. [Exeunt.

CANIDIUS marcheth with his land army one way over the stage; and TAURUS, the lieutenant of CÆSAR, the other way.
After their going in, is heard the noise of a sea-fight.

Alarum. Enter ENOBARBUS.

Eno. Naught, naught, all naught! I can behold no longer:
 The Antoniad, the Egyptian admiral,
 With all their sixty, fly and turn the rudder:
 To see't mine eyes are blasted.

Enter SCARUS.

Scar. Gods and goddesses,
 5 All the whole synod of them!

Eno. What's thy passion?

Scar. The greater cantle of the world is lost
 With very ignorance; we have kiss'd away
 Kingdoms and provinces.

Eno. How appears the fight?

Scar. On our side like the token'd pestilence,
 10 Where death is sure. Yon ribaudred nag of Egypt,—
 Whom leprosy o'ertake!—i' the midst o' the fight,
 When vantage like a pair of twins appear'd,
 Both as the same, or rather ours the elder,
 The breese upon her, like a cow in June,
 15 Hoists sails and flies.

Eno. That I beheld:

Mine eyes did sicken at the sight, and could not Endure a further view.

Scar. She once being loof'd,

The noble ruin of her magic, Antony,
20 Claps on his sea-wing, and, like a doting mallard,
Leaving the fight in height, flies after her:
I never saw an action of such shame;
Experience, manhood, honour, ne'er before
Did violate so itself.

Eno. Alack, alack!

Enter CANIDIUS.

25 Can. Our fortune on the sea is out of breath,
And sinks most lamentably. Had our general
Been what he knew himself, it had gone well:
O, he has given example for our flight,
Most grossly, by his own!

Eno. Ay, are you thereabouts?

30 Why, then, good night indeed.

Can. Toward Peloponnesus are they fled.

Scar. 'Tis easy to't; and there I will attend
What further comes.

Can. To Cæsar will I render
My legions and my horse: six kings already 35 Show me the way of yielding.

Eno. I'll yet follow
The wounded chance of Antony, though my reason
Sits in the wind against me. [Exeunt.

SCENE XI. Alexandria. Cleopatra's palace.Enter ANTONY with Attendants.

Ant. Hark! the land bids me tread no more upon't;
 It is asham'd to bear me! Friends, come hither:
 I am so lated in the world, that I
 Have lost my way for ever: I've a ship
 5 Laden with gold; take that, divide it; fly,
 And make your peace with Cæsar.

All. Fly! not we.

Ant. I've fled myself; and have instructed cowards
 To run and show their shoulders.—Friends, be gone;
 I have myself resolv'd upon a course
 10 Which has no need of you; be gone:
 My treasure's in the harbour, take it.—O,
 I follow'd that I blush to look upon:
 My very hairs do mutiny; for the white
 Reprove the brown for rashness, and they them
 15 For fear and doting.—Friends, be gone: you shall Have letters from me to some friends that will Sweep your way for you. Pray you, look not sad,
 Nor make replies of loathness: take the hint
 Which my despair proclaims; let that be left
 20 Which leaves itself: to the sea-side straightway:
 I will possess you of that ship and treasure.
 Leave me, I pray, a little: pray you now:
 Nay, do so; for, indeed, I've lost command,
 Therefore I pray you: I'll see you by and by.

25 Eros. Nay, gentle Madam, to him, comfort him.

Irás. Do, most dear queen.

Char. Do! why: what else?

Cleo. Let me sit down. O Juno!

Ant. No, no, no, no, no.

30 Eros. See you here, Sir?

Ant. O fie, fie, fie!

Char. Madam!

Irás. Madam, O good empress!

Eros. Sir, Sir,—

35 Ant. Yes, my lord, yes; he at Philippi kept
His sword e'en like a dancer; while I struck
The lean and wrinkled Cassius; and 'twas I
That the mad Brutus ended: he alone
Dealt on lieutenantry, and no practice had 40 In the brave squares of war: yet now—No matter.

Cleo. Ah, stand by.

Eros. The queen, my lord, the queen.

Irás. Go to him, Madam, speak to him:
He is unqualitied with very shame.

45 Cleo. Well then, sustain me: O!

Eros. Most noble Sir, arise; the queen approaches:
Her head's declin'd, and death will seize her, but
Your comfort makes the rescue.

Ant. I have offended reputation,
50 A most unnoble swerving.

Eros. Sir, the queen.

Ant. O, whither hast thou led me, Egypt? See,
How I convey my shame out of thine eyes

Cleo. O my lord, my lord,
55 Forgive my fearful sails! I little thought
You would have follow'd.

Ant. Egypt, thou knew'st too well
My heart was to thy rudder tied by the strings,
And thou shouldst tow me after: o'er my spirit
Thy full supremacy thou knew'st, and that 60 Thy beck might from the bidding of the gods
Command me.

Cleo. O, my pardon!

Ant. Now I must
To the young man send humble treaties, dodge
And palter in the shifts of lowness; who
With half the bulk o' the world play'd as I pleas'd,
65 Making and marring fortunes. You did know
How much you were my conqueror; and that My sword, made weak by my affection, would Obey it on all cause.

Cleo. Pardon, pardon!

Ant. Fall not a tear, I say; one of them rates
70 All that is won and lost: give me a kiss;
Even this repays me.—We sent our schoolmaster;
Is he come back?—Love, I am full of lead.
Some wine, within there, and our viands! Fortune

We scorn her most when most she offers blows.

SCENE XII. Egypt. Cæsar's camp.

Enter CÆSAR, DOLABELLA, THYREUS, with others.

Cæs. Let him appear that's come from Antony.
Know you him?

Dol. Cæsar, 'tis his schoolmaster:
An argument that he is pluck'd, when hither
He sends so poor a pinion of his wing,
5 Which had superfluous kings for messengers
Not many moons gone by.

Enter EUPHRONIUS, ambassador from Antony.

Cæs. Approach, and speak.

Euph. Such as I am, I come from Antony:
I was of late as petty to his ends
As is the morn-dew on the myrtle-leaf
10 To his grand sea.

Cæs. Be't so: declare thine office.

Euph. Lord of his fortunes he salutes thee, and Requires to live in Egypt: which not granted,
He lessens his requests; and to thee sues
To let him breathe between the heavens and earth,
15 A private man in Athens: this for him.
Next, Cleopatra does confess thy greatness;
Submits her to thy might; and of thee craves
The circle of the Ptolemies for her heirs,
Now hazarded to thy grace.

Cæs. For Antony,
20 I have no ears to his request. The queen

 Or take his life there: this if she perform,
 She shall not sue unheard. So to them both.

25 Euph. Fortune pursue thee!

Cæs.

Bring him through the bands.

[Exit Euphronius.]

[To Thyreus] To try thy eloquence, now 'tis time: dispatch;

From Antony win Cleopatra: promise,
 And in our name, what she requires; add more,
 From thine invention, offers: women are not 30 In their best fortunes strong; but want will perjure
 The ne'er-touch'd vestal: try thy cunning, Thyreus;
 Make thine own edict for thy pains, which we
 Will answer as a law.

Thyr.

Cæsar, I go.

Cæs. Observe how Antony becomes his flaw,
 35 And what thou think'st his very action speaks
 In every power that moves.

Thyr.

Cæsar, I shall.

[Exeunt.]

SCENE XIII. Alexandria. Cleopatra's palace.

Enter CLEOPATRA, ENOBARBUS, CHARMIAN, and IRAS.

Cleo. What shall we do, Enobarbus?

Eno.

Think, and die.

Cleo. Is Antony or we in fault for this?

Eno. Antony only, that would make his will

 The itch of his affection should not then
 Have nick'd his captainship; at such a point,
 When half to half the world oppos'd, he being 10 The meered question: 'twas a shame no less
 Than was his loss, to course your flying flags,
 And leave his navy gazing.

Cleo. Prithee, peace.

Enter ANTONY with EUPHRONIUS, the Ambassador.

Ant. Is that his answer?

Euph. Ay, my lord.

15 Ant. The queen shall, then, have courtesy, so she Will yield us up.

Euph. He says so.

Ant. Let her know't.—

To the boy Cæsar send this grizzled head,
 And he will fill thy wishes to the brim
 With principalities.

Cleo. That head, my lord?

20 Ant. To him again: tell him he wears the rose
 Of youth upon him; from which the world should note
 Something particular: his coin, ships, legions,
 May be a coward's; whose ministers would prevail
 Under the service of a child as soon
 25 As i' the command of Cæsar: I dare him therefore To lay his gay comparisons apart,
 And answer me declin'd, sword against sword,

Ourselves alone. I'll write it: follow me.

[Exeunt Antony and Euphronius.]

Eno. [Aside] Yes, like enough, high-battled Cæsar will 30 Unstate his happiness, and be stag'd to the show, Against a sworder! I see men's judgments are
 A parcel of their fortunes; and things outward
 Do draw the inward quality after them,
 To suffer all alike. That he should dream,
 35 Knowing all measures, the full Cæsar will Answer his emptiness! Cæsar, thou hast subdu'd
 His judgment too.

Enter an Attendant.

Att. A messenger from Cæsar.

Cleo. What, no more ceremony?—See, my women!
 Against the blown rose may they stop their nose
 40 That kneel'd unto the buds.—Admit him, Sir.

[Exit Attendant.]

Eno. [Aside] Mine honesty and I begin to square.
 The loyalty well held to fools does make
 Our faith mere folly: yet he that can endure
 To follow with allegiance a fall'n lord
 45 Does conquer him that did his master conquer,
 And earns a place i' the story.

Enter THYREUS.

Cleo. Cæsar's will?

Thyr. Hear it apart.

Cleo. None but friends: say boldly.

Thyr. So, haply, are they friends to Antony.

Eno. He needs as many, Sir, as Cæsar has;

Thyr. So.—

Thus then, thou most renown'd: Cæsar entreats,
Not to consider in what case thou stand'st,
55 Further than he is Cæsar.

Cleo. Go on: right royal.

Thyr. He knows that you embrace not Antony
As you did love, but as you fear'd him.

Cleo. O!

Thyr. The scars upon your honour, therefore, he Does pity, as constrained blemishes,
60 Not as deserv'd.

Cleo. He is a god, and knows
What is most right: mine honour was not yielded,
But conquer'd merely.

Eno. [Aside] To be sure of that,
I will ask Antony.—Sir, Sir, thou art so leaky,
That we must leave thee to thy sinking, for 65 Thy dearest quit thee. [Exit.]

Thyr. Shall I say to Cæsar
What you require of him? for he partly begs
To be desir'd to give. It much would please him,
That of his fortunes you should make a staff
To lean upon: but it would warm his spirits,
70 To hear from me you had left Antony,
And put yourself under his shrowd,
The universal landlord.

Cleo. What's your name?

Thyr. My name is Thyreus.

 75 I kiss his conquering hand: tell him, I'm prompt
 To lay my crown at's feet, and there to kneel:
 Tell him, from his all-obeying breath I hear
 The doom of Egypt.

Thyr. 'Tis your noblest course.
 Wisdom and fortune combating together,
 80 If that the former dare but what it can,
 No chance may shake it. Give me grace to lay
 My duty on your hand.

Cleo. Your Cæsar's father oft,
 When he hath mus'd of taking kingdoms in,
 Bestow'd his lips on that unworthy place,
 85 As it rain'd kisses.

Re-enter ANTONY and ENOBARBUS.

Ant. Favours, by Jove that thunders!
 What art thou, fellow?

Thyr. One that but performs
 The bidding of the fullest man, and worthiest
 To have command obey'd.

Eno. [Aside] You will be whipp'd.

Ant. Approach, there! Ah, you kite! Now, gods and devils!
 90 Authority melts from me: of late, when I cried 'Ho!'
 Like boys unto a muss, kings would start forth,
 And cry 'Your will?' Have you no ears? I am Antony yet.

Enter Attendants.

Take hence this Jack, and whip him.

Eno. [Aside] 'Tis better playing with a lion's whelp
95 Than with an old one dying.

Ant. Moon and stars!
Whip him. Were't twenty of the greatest tributaries
That do acknowledge Cæsar, should I find them
So saucy with the hand of she here,—what's her name,
Since she was Cleopatra? Whip him, fellows,
100 Till, like a boy, you see him cringe his face,
And whine aloud for mercy: take him hence.

Thyr. Mark Antony!

Ant. Tug him away: being whipp'd,
Bring him again: this Jack of Cæsar's shall Bear us an errand to him.

[Exeunt Attendants with Thyreus.]

105 You were half blasted ere I knew you: ha!
Have I my pillow left unpress'd in Rome,
Forborne the getting of a lawful race,
And by a gem of women, to be abus'd
By one that looks on feeders?

Cleo. Good my lord,—

110 Ant. You have been a boggler ever:
But when we in our viciousness grow hard—
O misery on't!—the wise gods seel our eyes;
In our own filth drop our clear judgments; make us
Adore our errors; laugh at's, while we strut
115 To our confusion.

Cleo. O, is't come to this?

Ant. I found you as a morsel cold upon
Dead Cæsar's trencher; nay, you were a fragment
Of Cneius Pompey's; besides what hotter hours,
Unregister'd in vulgar fame, you have 120 Luxuriously pick'd out: for, I am sure,
Though you can guess what temperance should be,

Cleo.

Wherefore is this?

Ant. To let a fellow that will take rewards,
And say 'God quit you!' be familiar with 125 My playfellow, your hand; this kingly seal
And plighter of high hearts! O, that I were Upon the hill of Basan, to outroar
The horned herd! for I have savage cause;
And to proclaim it civilly, were like 130 A halter'd neck which does the hangman thank
For being yare about him.

Re-enter Attendants with THYREUS.

Is he whipp'd?

First Att. Soundly, my lord.

Ant.

Cried he? and begg'd a' pardon?

First Att. He did ask favour.

Ant. If that thy father live, let him repent
135 Thou wast not made his daughter; and be thou sorry
To follow Cæsar in his triumph, since
Thou hast been whipp'd for following him: henceforth
The white hand of a lady fever thee,
Shake thou to look on't. Get thee back to Cæsar,
140 Tell him thy entertainment: look, thou say
He makes me angry with him; for he seems Proud and disdainful, harping on what I am,
Not what he knew I was: he makes me angry;
And at this time most easy 'tis to do 't,
145 When my good stars, that were my former guides,
Have empty left their orbs, and shot their fires
Into the abysm of hell. If he mislike
My speech and what is done, tell him he has Hipparchus, my enfranchised bondman, whom

Cleo. Have you done yet?

Ant. Alack, our terrene moon
 Is now eclips'd; and it portends alone
 155 The fall of Antony!

Cleo. I must stay his time.

Ant. To flatter Cæsar, would you mingle eyes
 With one that ties his points?

Cleo. Not know me yet?

Ant. Cold-hearted toward me?

Cleo. Ah, dear, if I be so,
 From my cold heart let heaven engender hail,
 160 And poison it in the source; and the first stone
 Drop in my neck: as it determines, so
 Dissolve my life! The next Cæsarion smite!
 Till, by degrees, the memory of my womb,
 Together with my brave Egyptians all,
 165 By the discandying of this pelleted storm,
 Lie graveless, till the flies and gnats of Nile
 Have buried them for prey!

Ant. I'm satisfied.

Cæsar sits down in Alexandria; where
 I will oppose his fate. Our force by land
 170 Hath nobly held; our sever'd navy too
 Have knit again, and fleet, threatening most sealike.
 Where hast thou been, my heart? Dost thou hear, lady?
 If from the field I shall return once more
 To kiss these lips, I will appear in blood;
 175 I and my sword will earn our chronicle:
 There's hope in't yet.

Cleo. That's my brave lord!

Ant. I will be treble-sinew'd, hearted, breath'd,
And fight maliciously: for when mine hours
180 Were nice and lucky, men did ransom lives
Of me for jests; but now I'll set my teeth,
And send to darkness all that stop me. Come,
Let's have one other gaudy night: call to me
All my sad captains; fill our bowls once more;
185 Let's mock the midnight bell.

Cleo. It is my birth-day:
I had thought to have held it poor; but, since my lord
Is Antony again, I will be Cleopatra.

Ant. We will yet do well.

Cleo. Call all his noble captains to my lord.

190 Ant. Do so, we'll speak to them; and to-night I'll force
The wine peep through their scars. Come on, my queen;
There's sap in't yet. The next time I do fight,
I'll make death love me; for I will contend
Even with his pestilent scythe.

[Exeunt all but Enobarbus.

195 Eno. Now, he'll outstare the lightning. To be furious,
Is to be frightened out of fear; and in that mood
The dove will peck the estridge; and I see still,
A diminution in our captain's brain
Restores his heart: when valour preys on reason, 200 It eats the sword it fights with. I will seek
Some way to leave him. [Exit.]

SCENE I. Before Alexandria. Cæsar's camp.

Enter CÆSAR, AGRIPPA, and MECÆNAS, with his Army; CÆSAR reading a letter.

Cæs. He calls me boy; and chides, as he had power
To beat me out of Egypt; my messenger
He hath whipp'd with rods; dares me to personal combat,
5 Cæsar to Antony: let the old ruffian know
I have many other ways to die; meantime
Laugh at his challenge.

Mec. Cæsar must think,
When one so great begins to rage, he's hunted
Even to falling. Give him no breath, but now
10 Make boot of his distraction: never anger
Made good guard for itself.

Cæs. Let our best heads
Know, that to-morrow the last of many battles
We mean to fight: within our files there are,
Of those that serv'd Mark Antony but late,

Act IV. Scene I. Rowe, om. Ff. ^{10,11} Let . . . battles. As in Theobald; in Ff l. 10 ends at know ||.

Enough to fetch him in. See it done:
 15 And feast the army; we have store to do't,
 And they have earn'd the waste. Poor Antony!
[Exeunt.

SCENE II. Alexandria. Cleopatra's palace.

Enter ANTONY, CLEOPATRA, ENOBARBUS, CHARMIAN, IRAS, ALEXAS, with others.

Ant. He will not fight with me, Domitius.

Eno. No.

Ant. Why should he not?

Eno. He thinks, being twenty times of better fortune,
 He's twenty men to one.

Ant. To-morrow, soldier,
 5 By sea and land I'll fight: or I will live,
 Or bathe my dying honour in the blood
 Shall make it live again. Woo't thou fight well?

Eno. I'll strike, and cry 'Take all.'

Ant. Well said; come on.
 Call forth my household servants: let's to-night
 10 Be bounteous at our meal.

Enter three or four Servitors.

Give me thy hand,
 Thou hast been rightly honest;—so hast thou;—
 And thou,—and thou,—and thou:—you've serv'd me well,

Cleo. [Aside to Eno.] What means this?

Eno. [Aside to Cleo.] 'Tis one of those odd tricks which sorrow shoots

15 Out of the mind.

Ant. And thou art honest too.

I wish I could be made so many men,
And all of you clapp'd up together in An Antony, that I might do you service
So good as you have done.

All. The gods forbid!

20 Ant. Well, my good fellows, wait on me to-night:
Scant not my cups; and make as much of me
As when mine empire was your fellow too,
And suffer'd my command.

Cleo. [Aside to Eno.] What does he mean?

Eno. [Aside to Cleo.] To make his followers weep.

Ant. Tend me to-night;

25 May be it is the period of your duty:
Haply you shall not see me more; or if,
A mangled shadow: perchance to-morrow
You'll serve another master. I look on you
As one that takes his leave. Mine honest friends,
30 I turn you not away; but, like a master
Married to your good service, stay till death:
Tend me to-night two hours, I ask no more,
And the gods yield you for't!

Eno. What mean you, Sir,
To give them this discomfort? Look, they weep;
35 And I, an ass, am onion-ey'd: for shame,
Transform us not to women.

Ant. Ho, ho, ho!
Now the witch take me, if I meant it thus!
Grace grow where those drops fall! My hearty friends,

13, 14, 23, 24 Marked as 'asi e' by Capell and Johnson.

You take me in too dolorous a sense;
 40 For I spake to you for your comfort; did desire you
 To burn this night with torches: know, my hearts,
 I hope well of to-morrow; and will lead you
 Where rather I'll expect victorious life
 Than death and honour. Let's to supper, come,
 45 And drown consideration. [Exeunt.]

SCENE III. The same. Before the palace.

Enter two Soldiers to their guard.

First Sold. Brother, good night: to-morrow is the day.

Sec. Sold. It will determine one way: fare you well.
 Heard you of nothing strange about the streets?

First Sold. Nothing. What news?

5 Sec. Sold. Belike 'tis but a rumour. Good night to you.

First Sold. Well, Sir, good night.

Enter two other Soldiers.

Sec. Sold. Soldiers, have careful watch.

Third Sold. And you. Good night, good night.

[They place themselves in every corner of the stage.]

Fourth Sold. Here we: and if to-morrow
 10 Our navy thrive, I have an absolute hope
 Our landmen will stand up.

Third Sold. No.

First Sold. Peace, I say!

What should this mean?

Sec. Sold. 'Tis the god Hercules, whom Antony lov'd,
Now leaves him.

First Sold. Walk; let's see if other watchmen
Do hear what we do? [They advance to another post.]

Sec. Sold. How now, masters!

All. [Speaking together] How now!

20 How now! do you hear this?

First Sold. Ay; is't not strange?

Third Sold. Do you hear, masters? do you hear?

First Sold. Follow the noise so far as we have quarter;
Let's see how it will give off.

All. Content. 'Tis strange.

attending.

Cleo.

Nay, I'll help too.

What's this for?

Ant.

Ah, let be, let be! thou art
The armourer of my heart: false, false; this, this.

Cleo. Sooth, la, I'll help: thus it must be.

Ant.

Well, well;

We shall thrive now. Seest thou, my good fellow?
10 Go put on thy defences.

Eros.

Briefly, Sir.

Cleo. Is not this buckled well?

Ant.

Rarely, rarely:

He that unbuckles this, till we do please
To daff't for our repose, shall hear a storm.—
Thou fumblest, Eros; and my queen's a squire
15 More tight at this than thou: dispatch.—O love,
That thou couldst see my wars to-day, and knew'st
The royal occupation! thou shouldst see

Capt. The morn is fair. Good morrow, general.

Ant. 'Tis well blown, lads:

This morning, like the spirit of a youth
That means to be of note, begins betimes.

So, so; come, give me that: this way; well said.

Sold. The gods make this a happy day to Antony!

Ant. Would thou and those thy scars had once prevail'd

To make me fight at land!

Sold. Hadst thou done so,
The kings that have revolted, and the soldier
5 That has this morning left thee, would have still Follow'd thy heels.

Ant. Who's gone this morning?

Sold. Who!
One ever near thee: call for Enobarbus,
He shall not hear thee; or from Cæsar's camp
Say 'I am none of thine.'

Ant. What say'st thou?

Sold. Sir,
10 He is with Cæsar.

Eros. Sir, his chests and treasure
He has not with him.

Ant. Is he gone?

Sold. Most certain.

Ant. Go, Eros, send his treasure after; do it;
Detain no jot, I charge thee: write to him—
I will subscribe—gentle adieus and greetings;

Sold. Enobarbus, Antony
Hath after thee sent all thy treasure, with
His bounty overplus: the messenger
Came on my guard; and at thy tent is now
Unloading of his mules.

Eno. I give it you.

25 Sold. Mock not, Enobarbus.
I tell you true: best you saf'd the bringer
Out of the host; I must attend mine office,

Shall outstrike thought: but thought will do't, I feel.
I fight against thee! No: I will go seek
Some ditch wherein to die; the foul'st best fits

Agr. Retire, we have engag'd ourselves too far:
Cæsar himself has work, and our oppression
Exceeds what we expected. [Exeunt.

Scar. I had a wound here that was like a T,
But now 'tis made an H.

Ant. They do retire.

Scar. We'll beat 'em into bench-holes: I have yet

Enter EROS.

Destroy'd in such a shape.

Cleo.

Ant. He has deserv'd it, were it carbuncled
Like holy Phœbus' car. Give me thy hand:

Like friends long lost.—Triple-turn'd whore! 'tis thou
Hast sold me to this novice; and my heart
15 Makes only wars on thee.—Bid them all fly;
For when I am reveng'd upon my charm,
I have done all. Bid them all fly; begone.

[Exit Scarus.

O sun, thy uprise shall I see no more:
Fortune and Antony part here; even here
20 Do we shake hands. All come to this? The hearts
That spaniel'd me at heels, to whom I gave Their wishes, do discandy, melt their sweets
On blossoming Cæsar; and this pine is bark'd,
That overtopp'd them all. Betray'd I am:
25 O this false soul of Egypt! this grave charm,—
Whose eye beck'd forth my wars, and call'd them home;
Whose bosom was my crownet, my chief end,—
Like a right gipsy, hath, at fast and loose,
Beguil'd me to the very heart of loss.

same ll. 37 and 116). ¹⁰ dislimes Ff, dislimns Theobald.

Yet cannot hold this visible shape, my knave.
 15 I made these wars for Egypt: and the queen,—
 Whose heart I thought I had, for she had mine;
 Which whilst it was mine had annex'd unto 't
 A million moe, now lost,—she, Eros, has Pack'd cards with Cæsar, and false-play'd my glory:
 20 Unto an enemy's triumph.
 Nay, weep not, gentle Eros; there is left us
 Ourselves to end ourselves.

Enter MARDIAN.

O, thy vild lady?
 She has robb'd me of my sword.

Mar. No, Antony;
 My mistress lov'd thee, and her fortunes mingled
 25 With thine entirely.

Ant. Hence, saucy eunuch; peace!
 She hath betray'd me, and shall die the death.

Mar. Death of one person can be paid but once,
 And that she has discharg'd: what thou wouldst do
 Is done unto thy hand: the last she spake
 30 Was 'Antony! most noble Antony!'
 Then in the midst a tearing groan did break
 The name of Antony; it was divided Between her heart and lips: she render'd life,
 Thy name so buried in her.

Ant. Dead, then?

Mar. Dead.

35 Ant. Unarm me, Eros; the long day's task is done,
 And we must sleep. [To Mar.] That thou depart'st
 hence safe,

Does pay thy labour richly; go. [Exit Mardian.]

Off, pluck off:

The seven-fold shield of Ajax cannot keep
The battery from my heart. O, cleave, my sides!

40 Heart, once be stronger than thy continent,
Crack thy frail case!—Apace, Eros, apace.—
No more a soldier: bruised pieces, go;
You have been nobly borne.—From me awhile.

[Exit Eros.]

I will o’ertake thee, Cleopatra, and 45 Weep for my pardon. So it must be, for now

All length is torture: since the torch is out,
Lie down, and stray no farther: now all labour
Mars what it does; yea, very force entangles
Itself with strength: seal then, and all is done.
50 Eros!—I come, my queen:—Eros!—Stay for me:
Where souls do couch on flowers, we’ll hand in hand,
And with our sprightly port make the ghosts gaze:
Dido and her Æneas shall want troops,
And all the haunt be ours.—Come, Eros, Eros!

Re-enter EROS.

55 Eros. What would my lord?

Ant.

Since Cleopatra died,
I’ve liv’d in such dishonour, that the gods
Detest my baseness. I, that with my sword
Quarter’d the world, and o’er green Neptune’s back
With ships made cities, condemn myself to lack 60 The courage of a woman; less noble mind
Than she which by her death our Cæsar tells ‘I’m conqueror of myself.’ Thou art sworn, Eros,
That, when the exigent should come, which now

Is come indeed, when I should see behind me
 65 The inevitable prosecution of Disgrace and horror, that, on my command,
 Thou then wouldst kill me: do 't; the time is come:
 Thou strik'st not me, 'tis Cæsar thou defeat'st.
 Put colour in thy cheek.

Eros. The gods withhold me!

70 Shall I do that which all the Parthian darts.
 Though enemy, lost aim, and could not?

Ant.

Eros,

Wouldst thou be window'd in great Rome, and see
 Thy master thus with pleach'd arms, bending down
 His corrigible neck, his face subdu'd
 75 To penetrative shame, whilst the wheel'd seat
 Of fortunate Cæsar, drawn before him, branded
 His baseness that ensu'd?

Eros. I would not see't.

Ant. Come, then; for with a wound I must be cur'd.
 Draw that thy honest sword, which thou hast worn
 80 Most useful for thy country.

Eros.

O, Sir, pardon me!

Ant. When I did make thee free, swor'st thou not then

To do this when I bade thee? Do it at once;
 Or thy precedent services are all
 But accidents unpurpos'd. Draw, and come.

85 Eros. Turn from me, then, that noble countenance,
 Wherein the worship of the whole world lies.

Ant. Lo thee!

[Turning from him.]

Eros. My sword is drawn.

Ant.

Then let it do at once

The thing why thou hast drawn it.

65-69 The . . . cheek. Divided as by Capell; as four lines, ending horror || kill me || not me || cheek ||, in Ff. ⁸⁷ [Turning . . .] Rowe, om. Ff.

- Eros.* My dear master,
 90 My captain, and my emperor, let me say,
 Before I strike this bloody stroke, farewell.
Ant. 'Tis said, man; and farewell.
Eros. Farewell, great chief. Shall I strike now?
Ant. Now, Eros.
Eros. Why, there then: thus I do escape the sorrow
 95 Of Antony's death. [Kills himself.
Ant. Thrice-nobler than myself!
 Thou teachest me, O valiant Eros, what I should, and thou couldst not. My queen and Eros
 Have by their brave instruction got upon me
 A nobleness in record: but I will be 100 A bridegroom in my death, and run into't
 As to a lover's bed. Come, then; and, Eros, Thy master dies thy scholar: to do thus [Falling on his sword.
 I learn'd of thee. How! not dead? not dead?
 The guard, ho! O, dispatch me!

Enter DERCETAS and Guard.

- First Guard.* What's the noise?
 105 Ant. I've done my work ill, friends: O, make an end
 Of what I have begun.
Sec. Guard. The star is fall'n.
First Guard. And time is at his period.
All. Alas, and woe!
Ant. Let him that loves me strike me dead.
First Guard. Not I.
Sec. Guard. Nor I.
 110 Third Guard. Nor any one. [Exeunt Guard.

Der. Thy death and fortunes bid thy followers fly.
This sword but shown to Cæsar, with this tidings,
Shall enter me with him.

Enter DIOMEDES.

Dio. Where's Antony?

Der. There, Diomed there.

Dio. Lives he?

115 Wilt thou not answer, man? [Exit Dercetas.]

Ant. Art thou there, Diomed? Draw thy sword, and give me

Sufficing strokes for death.

Dio. Most absolute lord,
My mistress Cleopatra sent me to thee.

Ant. When did she send thee?

Dio. Now, my lord.

Ant. Where is she?

120 Dio. Lock'd in her monument. She had a prophesying fear

Of what hath come to pass: for when she saw—
Which never shall be found—you did suspect
She had dispos'd with Cæsar, and that your rage
Would not be purg'd, she sent you word she was dead;
125 But, fearing since how it might work, hath sent Me to proclaim the truth; and I am come,
I dread, too late.

Ant. Too late, good Diomed:—call my guard, I prithee.

Dio. What, ho, the emperor's guard! The guard, what, ho!

130 Come, your lord calls!

114, 115 Lives . . man. Divided as by Steevens; one line in Ff.
129, 130 The guard . . . calls. One line in Ff; arr. as by Pope.

Enter four or five of the Guard of ANTONY.

Ant. Bear me, good friends, where Cleopatra bides;
'Tis the last service that I shall command you.

First Guard. Woe, woe are we, Sir, you may not live to wear

All your true followers out.

All. Most heavy day!

135 Ant. Nay, good my fellows, do not please sharp fate
To grace it with your sorrows: bid that welcome
Which comes to punish us, and we punish it
Seeming to bear it lightly. Take me up:
I've led you oft: carry me now, good friends,
140 And have my thanks for all. [Exeunt, bearing Antony.]

SCENE XV. The same. A monument.

Enter CLEOPATRA, and her maids aloft, with CHARMIAN and IRAS.

Cleo. O Charmian, I will never go from hence.

Char. Be comforted, dear Madam.

Cleo. No, I will not:

All strange and terrible events are welcome,
But comforts we despise; our size of sorrow,
5 Proportion'd to our cause, must be as great
As that which makes it.

¹³⁹ I haue Ff, I've Dyce. ¹⁴⁰ Exit . . . F. Scene XV. Dyce, Enter, below, DIOMEDES.

How now! is he dead?

Dio. His death's upon him, but not dead.
Look out o' th' other side your monument;
His guard have brought him thither.

Enter, below, ANTONY, borne by the Guard.

Cleo. O sun,
10 Burn the great sphere thou mov'st in! darkling stand
The varying shore o' the world.—O Antony,
Antony, Antony! Help, Charmian, help, Iras, help;
Help, friends below; let's draw him hither.

Ant. Peace!
Not Cæsar's valour hath o'erthrown Antony,
15 But Antony's hath triumph'd on itself.

Cleo. So it should be, that none but Antony
Should conquer Antony; but woe 'tis so!

Ant. I am dying, Egypt, dying; only
I here importune death awhile, until 20 Of many thousand kisses the poor last
I lay upon thy lips.

Cleo. I dare not, dear,—
Dear my lord, pardon,—I dare not,
Lest I be taken: not the imperious show
Of the full-fortun'd Cæsar ever shall 25 Be brooch'd with me; if knife, drugs, serpents, have Edge, sting, or operation, I am safe:
Your wife Octavia, with her modest eyes
And still conclusion, shall acquire no honour

30 Help me, my women,—we must draw thee up:
Assist, good friends.

Ant. O, quick, or I am gone.

Cleo. Here's sport indeed! How heavy weighs my lord!

Our strength is all gone into heaviness,
That makes the weight: had I great Juno's power,
35 The strong-wing'd Mercury should fetch thee up,
And set thee by Jove's side. Yet come a little,— Wishers were ever fools,—O, come, come, come;

[They heave Antony aloft to Cleopatra.]

And welcome, welcome! die where thou hast liv'd:
Quicken with kissing: had my lips that power,
40 Thus would I wear them out.

All. A heavy sight!

Ant. I am dying, Egypt, dying:
Give me some wine, and let me speak a little.

Cleo. No, let me speak; and let me rail so high,
That the false housewife Fortune break her wheel,
45 Provok'd by my offence.

Ant. One word, sweet queen:
Of Cæsar seek your honour, with your safety.—O!

Cleo. They do not go together.

Ant. Gentle, hear me:
None about Cæsar trust but Proculeius.

Cleo. My resolution and my hands I'll trust;
50 None about Cæsar.

Ant. The miserable change now at my end
Lament nor sorrow at; but please your thoughts
In feeding them with those my former fortunes
Wherein I liv'd, the greatest prince o' the world,
55 The noblest; and do now not basely die,
Not cowardly put off my helmet to

No better than a sty? O, see, my women, [Antony dies.
The crown o' the earth doth melt. My lord!
O, wither'd is the garland of the war,
65 The soldier's pole is fall'n: young boys and girls
Are level now with men; the odds is gone,
And there is nothing left remarkable
Beneath the visiting moon. [Faints.

Char. O, quietness, lady!

Iras. She is dead too, our sovereign.

Char. Lady!

Iras. Madam!

70 Char. O Madam, Madam, Madam!

Iras. Royal Egypt,
Empress!

Char. Peace, peace, Iras!

Cleo. No more, but e'en a woman, and commanded
By such poor passion as the maid that milks,
75 And does the meanest chares.—It were for me
To throw my sceptre at the injurious gods;
To tell them that this world did equal theirs
Till they had stol'n our jewel. All's but naught;
Patience is sottish, and impatience does
80 Become a dog that's mad: then is it sin
To rush into the secret house of death,
Ere death dare come to us?—How do you, women?
What, what! good cheer! Why, how now, Charmian!

Let's do it after the high Roman fashion,
And make death proud to take us. Come, away:

SCENE I. Alexandria. Cæsar's camp.

Enter CÆSAR, AGRIPPA, DOLABELLA, MECÆNAS, GALLUS, PROCULEIUS, and others, his council of war.

Cæs. Go to him, Dolabella, bid him yield;
Being so frustrate, tell him he mocks
The pauses that he makes.

Dol. Cæsar, I shall. [Exit.

Enter DERCETAS, with the sword of ANTONY.

Cæs. Wherefore is that? and what art thou that dar'st

5 Appear thus to us?

Der. I am call'd Dercetas;
Mark Antony I serv'd, who best was worthy
Best to be serv'd: whilst he stood up and spoke,
He was my master; and I wore my life
To spend upon his haters. If thou please
10 To take me to thee, as I was to him

I'll be to Cæsar; if thou pleasest not,
I yield thee up my life.

Cæs. What is't thou say'st?

Der. I say, O Cæsar, Antony is dead.

Cæs. The breaking of so great a thing should make 15 A greater crack: the round world
Should have shook lions into civil streets,
And citizens to their dens: the death of Antony
Is not a single doom; in the name lay
A moiety of the world.

Der. He is dead, Cæsar;
20 Not by a public minister of justice,
Nor by a hired knife; but that self hand
Which writ his honour in the acts it did,
Hath, with the courage which the heart did lend it,
Splitted the heart. This is his sword;
25 I robb'd his wound of it; behold it stain'd
With his most noble blood.

Cæs. Look you sad, friends?
The gods rebuke me, but it is a tidings
To wash the eyes of kings.

Agr. And strange it is,
That nature must compel us to lament
30 Our most persisted deeds.

Mec. His taints and honours
Wag'd equal with him.

Agr. A rarer spirit never Did steer humanity: but you, gods, will give us
Some faults to make us men. Cæsar is touch'd.

Mec. When such a spacious mirror's set before him,
35 He needs must see himself.

Cæs.

O Antony!

I've follow'd thee to this; but we do lance
 Diseases in our bodies: I must perforce
 Have shown to thee such a declining day,
 Or look on thine; we could not stall together
 40 In the whole world: but yet let me lament,
 With tears as sovereign as the blood of hearts,
 That thou, my brother, my competitor
 In top of all design, my mate in empire,
 Friend and companion in the front of war,
 45 The arm of mine own body, and the heart
 Where mine his thoughts did kindle,—that our stars,
 Unreconcilable, should divide
 Our equalness to this.—Hear me, good friends,—
 But I will tell you at some meeter season:

Enter an Egyptian.

50 The business of this man looks out of him;
 We'll hear him what he says.—Whence are you?

Egyp. A poor Egyptian yet. The queen my mistress,
 Confin'd in all she has, her monument,
 Of thy intents desires instruction,
 55 That she preparedly may frame herself
 To the way she's forc'd to.

Cæs.

Bid her have good heart:

She soon shall know of us, by some of ours,
 How honourable and how kindly we Determine for her; for Cæsar cannot live

Cæs. Come hither, Proculeius. Go and say,
We purpose her no shame: give her what comforts
The quality of her passion shall require,
Lest, in her greatness, by some mortal stroke
65 She do defeat us; for her life in Rome
Would be eternal in our triumph: go,
And with your speediest bring us what she says,
And how you find of her.

Pro. Cæsar, I shall. [Exit.

Cæs. Gallus, go you along. [Exit Gallus.] Where's Dolabella,

70 The second Proculeius?

All. Dolabella!

Cæs. Let him alone, for I remember now
How he's employ'd: he shall in time be ready.
Go with me to my tent; where you shall see
How hardly I was drawn into this war;
75 How calm and gentle I proceeded still
In all my writings: go with me, and see
What I can show in this. [Exeunt.

SCENE II. Alexandria. A room in the monument.

Enter CLEOPATRA, CHARMIAN, and IRAS.

Cleo. My desolation does begin to make
A better life. 'Tis paltry to be Cæsar;
Not being Fortune, he's but Fortune's knave,
A minister of her will: and it is great

Which shackles accidents, and bolts up change;
Which sleeps, and never palates more the dug,
The beggar's nurse and Cæsar's.

Enter, to the gates of the monument, PROCULEIUS, GALLUS, and Soldiers.

Pro. Cæsar sends greeting to the Queen of Egypt;
10 And bids thee study on what fair demands
Thou mean'st to have him grant thee.

Cleo. What's thy name?

Pro. My name is Proculeius.

Cleo. Antony
Did tell me of you, bade me trust you; but I do not greatly care to be deceiv'd,
15 That have no use for trusting. If your master
Would have a queen his beggar, you must tell him,
That majesty, to keep decorum, must
No less beg than a kingdom: if he please
To give me conquer'd Egypt for my son,
20 He gives me so much of mine own, as I
Will kneel to him with thanks.

Pro. Be of good cheer;
You're fall'n into a princely hand, fear nothing:
Make your full reference freely to my lord,
Who is so full of grace, that it flows over
25 On all that need: let me report to him
Your sweet dependency; and you shall find
A conqueror that will pray in aid for kindness,
Where he for grace is kneel'd to.

 A doctrine of obedience; and would gladly
 Look him i' the face.

Pro. This I'll report, dear lady.
 Have comfort, for I know your plight is pitied
 Of him that caus'd it.

35 Gal. You see how easily she may be surpris'd:

[Here Proculeius and two of the Guard ascend the monument by a ladder placed against a window, and, having descended, come behind Cleopatra. Some of the Guard unbar and open the gates.]

[To Proculeius and the Guard] Guard her till Cæsar come.

Iras. Royal queen!

Char. O Cleopatra! thou art taken, queen.

Cleo. Quick, quick, good hands. [Drawing a dagger.]

Pro. Hold, worthy lady, hold:
[Seizes and disarms her.]

40 Do not yourself such wrong, who are in this Reliev'd, but not betray'd.

Cleo. What, of death too,
 That rids our dogs of languish?

Pro. Cleopatra,
 Do not abuse my master's bounty by
 The undoing of yourself: let the world see
 45 His nobleness well acted, which your death
 Will never let come forth.

Come hither, come! come, come, and take a queen
Worth many babes and beggars!

Pro. O temperance, lady!

Cleo. Sir, I will eat no meat, I'll not drink, Sir;
50 If idle talk will once be necessary,
I'll not sleep neither: this mortal house I'll ruin,
Do Cæsar what he can. Know, Sir, that I
Will not wait pinion'd at your master's court;
Nor once be chástis'd with the sober eye
55 Of dull Octavia. Shall they hoist me up
And show me to the shouting varletry
Of censuring Rome? Rather a ditch in Egypt
Be gentle grave unto me! rather on Nilus' mud
Lay me stark nak'd, and let the water-flies
60 Blow me into abhorring! rather make
My country's high pyramides my gibbet,
And hang me up in chains!

Pro. You do extend
These thoughts of horror further than you shall Find cause in Cæsar.

Enter DOLABELLA.

Dol. Proculeius,
65 What thou hast done thy master Cæsar knows,
And he hath sent for thee: for the queen,
I'll take her to my guard.

Pro. So, Dolabella,
It shall content me best: be gentle to her.
[To Cleo.] To Cæsar I will speak what you shall please,
70 If you'll employ me to him.

Cleo. Say, I would die.

Dol. Most noble empress, you have heard of me?

Cleo. I cannot tell.

Dol. Assuredly you know me.

Cleo. No matter, Sir, what I have heard or known.
You laugh when boys or women tell their dreams;
Is't not your trick?

75 Dol. I understand not, Madam.

Cleo. I dream'd there was an Emperor Antony:
O, such another sleep, that I might see
But such another man!

Dol. If it might please ye,—

Cleo. His face was as the heavens; and therein stuck
A sun and moon, which kept their course, and lighted
80 The little O, the earth.

Dol. Most sovereign creature,—

Cleo. His legs bestrid the ocean: his rear'd arm
Crested the world: his voice was propertied
As all the tuned spheres, and that to friends;
But when he meant to quail and shake the orb,
85 He was as rattling thunder. For his bounty,
There was no winter in 't; an autumn 'twas
That grew the more by reaping: his delights
Were dolphin-like; they show'd his back above
The element they liv'd in: in his livery
90 Walk'd crowns and crownets; realms and islands were
As plates dropp'd from his pocket.

Dol. Cleopatra!

Cleo. Think you there was, or might be, such a man
As this I dream'd of?

Dol. Gentle Madam, no.

Cleo. You lie, up to the hearing of the gods.

But, if there be, or ever were, one such,
 It's past the size of dreaming: nature wants stuff
 To vie strange forms with fancy; yet, to imagine
 An Antony, were nature's piece 'gainst fancy, 100 Condemning shadows quite.

Dol. Hear me, good Madam.
 Your loss is as yourself, great; and you bear it
 As answering to the weight: would I might never O'ertake pursu'd success, but I do feel,
 By the rebound of yours, a grief that smites
 105 My very heart at root.

Cleo. I thank you, Sir.
 Know you what Cæsar means to do with me?

Dol. I'm loath to tell you what I would you knew.

Cleo. Nay, pray you, Sir,—

Dol. Though he be honourable,—

Cleo. He'll lead me, then, in triumph?

110 Dol. Madam, he will: I know't.

[*Flourish, and shout within, 'Make way there:
 Cæsar!'*]

Enter CÆSAR, GALLUS, PROCULEIUS, MECÆNAS, SELEUCUS, and others of his Train.

Cæs. Which is the Queen of Egypt?

Dol. It is the emperor, Madam. [Cleopatra kneels.]

Cæs. Arise, you shall not kneel:

115 I pray you, rise; rise, Egypt.

Cleo. Sir, the gods
 Will have it thus; my master and my lord
 I must obey.

⁹⁶ nor F¹F², or F³F⁴. ¹⁰⁴ suites Ff, smites Capell. ^{107, 240} I am Ff, I'm Pope. ¹¹⁵⁻¹¹⁷ Sir . . . obey. As in Pope; two lines, the first ending thus ||, in Ff. ¹¹⁷ must F¹, much F²F³F⁴.

Cæs. Take to you no hard thought:
The record of what injuries you did us,
Though written in our flesh, we shall remember
120 As things but done by chance.

Cleo. Sole Sir o' the world,
I cannot project mine own cause so well
To make it clear; but do confess I have Been laden with like frailties which before
Have often sham'd our sex.

Cæs. Cleopatra, know,
125 We will extenuate rather than enforce:
If you apply yourself to our intents,
Which towards you are most gentle, you shall find
A benefit in this change; but if you seek
To lay on me a cruelty, by taking 130 Antony's course, you shall bereave yourself
Of my good purposes, and put your children
To that destruction which I'll guard them from,
If thereon you rely. I'll take my leave.

Cleo. And may, through all the world: 'tis yours;
and we,
135 Your scutcheons and your signs of conquest, shall Hang in what place you please. Here, my good lord.

Cæs. You shall advise me in all for Cleopatra.

Cleo. This is the brief of money, plate, and jewels,
I am possess'd of: 'tis exactly valu'd;
140 Not petty things admitted. Where's Seleucus?

Sel. Here, Madam.

Cleo. This is my treasurer: let him speak, my lord,
Upon his peril, that I have reserv'd
To myself nothing. Speak the truth, Seleucus.

145 Sel. Madam,

¹³⁷ breefe: of (variously spelled) Ff, brief of Pope. ¹⁴⁰ Not ... omitted. Theobald, No ... omitted. Daniel conj. ¹⁴⁴⁻¹⁴⁶ Madam ...
not. As by Capell; two lines in Ff, the first ending lippes ||.

I had rather seal my lips, than, to my peril,
Speak that which is not.

Cleo. What have I kept back?

Sel. Enough to purchase what you have made known.

Cæs. Nay, blush not, Cleopatra; I approve
150 Your wisdom in the deed.

Cleo. See, Cæsar! O, behold.
How pomp is follow'd! mine will now be yours;
And, should we shift estates, yours would be mine.
The ingratitude of this Seleucus does
Even make me wild: O slave, of no more trust 155 Than love that's hir'd! What, goest thou back? thou shalt

Go back, I warrant thee; but I'll catch thine eyes,
Though they had wings: slave, soulless villain, dog!
O rarely base!

Cæs. Good queen, let us entreat you.

Cleo. O Cæsar, what a wounding shame is this,
160 That thou, vouchsafing here to visit me,
Doing the honour of thy lordliness
To one so meek, that mine own servant should Parcel the sum of my disgraces by Addition of his envy! Say, good Cæsar,
165 That I some lady trifles have reserv'd,
Immoment toys, things of such dignity
As we greet modern friends withal; and say,
Some nobler token I have kept apart
For Livia and Octavia, to induce 170 Their mediation; must I be unfolded
With one that I have bred? The gods! it smites me
Beneath the fall I have. [To Seleucus] Prithee, go hence;
Or I shall show the cinders of my spirits
Through the ashes of my chance: wert thou a man,

¹⁷² [To Seleucus] Johnson, om. Ff.

175 Thou wouldst have mercy on me.

Cæs.

Forbear, Seleucus.

[Exit Seleucus.

Cleo. Be 't known, that we, the greatest, are mis-thought

For things that others do; and, when we fall,
We answer others' merits in our name,
Are therefore to be pitied.

Cæs.

Cleopatra,

180 Not what you have reserv'd, nor what acknowledg'd,
Put we i' the roll of conquest: still be 't yours,
Bestow it at your pleasure; and believe,
Cæsar's no merchant, to make prize with you
Of things that merchants sold. Therefore be cheer'd;
185 Make not your thoughts your prisons: no, dear queen;
For we intend so to dispose you as Yourself shall give us counsel. Feed, and sleep:
Our care and pity is so much upon you,
That we remain your friend; and so, adieu.

190 Cleo. My master, and my lord!

Cæs.

Not so. Adieu.

[Flourish. Exeunt Cæsar and his train.

Cleo. He words me, girls, he words me, that I should not

Be noble to myself: but, hark thee, Charmian.

[Whispers Charmian.

Iras. Finish, good lady; the bright day is done,
And we are for the dark.

Cleo.

Hie thee again:

195 I've spoke already, and it is provided;
Go put it to the haste.

Char.

Madam, I will.

¹⁷⁵ [Exit Seleucus.] Capell, om. Ff.

¹⁹⁵ I haue Ff, I've Dyce.

Re-enter DOLABELLA.

Dol. Where is the queen?

Char. Behold, Sir. [Exit.

Cleo. Dolabella!

Dol. Madam, as thereto sworn by your command,
Which my love makes religion to obey,
200 I tell you this: Cæsar through Syria
Intends his journey; and within three days
You with your children will he send before:
Make your best use of this: I have perform'd
Your pleasure and my promise.

Cleo. Dolabella,
205 I shall remain your debtor.

Dol. I your servant.
Adieu, good queen; I must attend on Cæsar.

Cleo. Farewell, and thanks. [Exit Dolabella.

Now, Iras, what think'st thou?
Thou, an Egyptian puppet, shalt be shown
In Rome, as well as I: mechanic slaves
210 With greasy aprons, rules, and hammers, shall Uplift us to the view; in their thick breaths,
Rank of gross diet, shall we be enclouded,
And forc'd to drink their vapour.

Iras. The gods forbid!

Cleo. Nay, 'tis most certain, Iras: saucy lictors
215 Will catch at us, like strumpets; and scald rhymers
Ballad us out o' tune: the quick comedians,
Extemporally will stage us, and present
Our Alexandrian revels; Antony

¹⁹⁷ Where's Ff, Where is Pope. — [Exit.] om. Ff. ^{204,205} Dolabella . . . debtor. As in Pope; one line in Ff. ²⁰⁷ Two lines in Ff, one in Rowe (and so ll. 236, 328). ²⁰⁸ shall F. ²¹⁶ Bal-

Shall be brought drunken forth, and I shall see 220 Some squeaking Cleopatra boy my greatness
 I' the posture of a whore.

Iras. O the good gods!

Cleo. Nay, that's certain.

Iras. I'll never see 't; for, I am sure, my nails
 Are stronger than mine eyes.

Cleo. Why, that's the way
 225 To fool their preparation, and to conquer
 Their most absurd intents.

Re-enter CHARMIAN.

Now, Charmian!
 Show me, my women, like a queen: go fetch
 My best attires: I am again for Cydnus,
 To meet Mark Antony: sirrah Iras, go.
 230 Now, noble Charmian, we'll dispatch indeed;
 And, when thou'st done this chare, I'll give thee leave
 To play till doomsday. Bring our crown and all.
 Wherefore's this noise? [Exit Iras. A noise within.]

Enter a Guardsman.

Guard. Here is a rural fellow
 That will not be denied your Highness' presence:
 235 He brings you figs.

Cleo. Let him come in. [Exit Guardsman.]

What poor an instrument

223 mine F¹, my the rest. 224-226 Why . . . Charmian. Divided

May do a noble deed! he brings me liberty.
 My resolution's plac'd, and I have nothing
 Of woman in me: now from head to foot
 240 I'm marble-constant; now the fleeting moon
 No planet is of mine.

Re-enter Guardsman, with Clown bringing in a basket.

Guard. This is the man.

Cleo. Avoid, and leave him. [Exit Guardsman.]
 Hast thou the pretty worm of Nilus there,
 That kills and pains not?

245 Clown. Truly, I have him: but I would not be the party that should desire you to touch him, for his biting is immortal; those that do die of it do seldom or never recover.

Cleo. Rememberest thou any that have died on 't?

250 Clown. Very many, men and women too. I heard of one of them no longer than yesterday: a very honest woman, but something given to lie; as a woman should not do, but in the way of honesty: how she died of the 255 biting of it, what pain she felt: truly, she makes a very good report o' the worm; but he that will believe all that they say, shall never be saved by half that they do: but this is most fallible, the worm's an odd worm.

260 Cleo. Get thee hence; farewell.

Clown. I wish you all joy of the worm.

[Setting down his basket.]

Cleo. Farewell.

Clown. You must think this, look you, that the worm will do his kind.

²⁴⁰ marble-constant hyphened by Capell. ²⁴¹ Enter Guardman, and Clowne. Ff. ²⁵⁸ falliable F. ²⁶¹ [Setting . . .] Capell, om.
 Ff.

265 Cleo. Ay, ay; farewell.

Clown. Look you, the worm is not to be trusted but in the keeping of wise people; for, indeed, there is no goodness in the worm.

Cleo. Take thou no care; it shall be heeded.

270 Clown. Very good. Give it nothing, I pray you, for it is not worth the feeding.

Cleo. Will it eat me?

Clown. You must not think I am so simple but I know the devil himself will not eat a woman: I know 275 that a woman is a dish for the gods, if the devil dress her not. But, truly, these same whoreson devils do the gods great harm in their women; for in every ten that they make, the devils mar five.

280 Cleo. Well, get thee gone; farewell.

Clown. Yes, forsooth: I wish you joy o' the worm.

[Exit.

Re-enter IRAS with a robe, crown &c.

Cleo. Give me my robe, put on my crown; I have Immortal longings in me: now no more
285 The juice of Egypt's grape shall moist this lip:
Yare, yare, good Iras; quick. Methinks I hear
Antony call; I see him rouse himself
To praise my noble act; I hear him mock
The luck of Cæsar, which the gods give men
290 To excuse their after wrath: husband, I come:
Now to that name my courage prove my title!
I'm fire and air; my other elements
I give to baser life. So; have you done?
Come then, and take the last warmth of my lips.

281 Re-enter . . .] Malone, om. Ff. 292 I am Ff, I'm Dyce.

295 Farewell, kind Charmian; Iras, long farewell.

[Kisses them. Iras falls and dies.]

Have I the aspic in my lips? Dost fall?

If thou and nature can so gently part,

The stroke of death is as a lover's pinch,

Which hurts, and is desir'd. Dost thou lie still?

300 If thus thou vanishest, thou tell'st the world

It is not worth leave-taking.

Char. Dissolve, thick cloud, and rain; that I may say,

The gods themselves do weep!

Cleo. This proves me base:

If she first meet the curled Antony,

305 He'll make demand of her, and spend that kiss

Which is my heaven to have.—Come, thou mortal wretch,

[To an asp, which she applies to her breast.]

With thy sharp teeth this knot intricate

Of life at once untie: poor venomous fool,

Be angry, and dispatch. O, couldst thou speak,

310 That I might hear thee call great Cæsar ass

Unpoliced!

Char. O eastern star!

Cleo. Peace, peace!

Dost thou not see my baby at my breast,

That sucks the nurse asleep?

Char. O, break! O, break!

Cleo. As sweet as balm, as soft as air, as gentle,—

315 O Antony!—Nay, I will take thee too:

[Applying another asp to her arm.]

What should I stay— [Dies.]

Char. In this vild world? So, fare thee well.

295 [Kisses . . .] Malone, om. Ff. 306 [To an asp . . .] om. Ff.

 A lass unparallel'd. Downy windows, close;
 320 And golden Phœbus never be beheld
 Of eyes again so royal! Your crown's awry;
 I'll mend it, and then play.

Enter the Guard, rushing in.

First Guard. Where is the queen?

Char. Speak softly, wake her not.

First Guard. Cæsar hath sent—

Char. Too slow a messenger.
[Applies an asp.]

325 O, come apace, dispatch! I partly feel thee.

First Guard. Approach, ho! All's not well: Cæsar's beguil'd.

Sec. Guard. There's Dolabella sent from Cæsar; call him.

First Guard. What work is here!—Charmian, is this well done?

Char. It is well done, and fitting for a princess 330 Descended of so many royal kings.

Ah, soldier! [Dies.]

Re-enter DOLABELLA.

Dol. How goes it here?

Sec. Guard. All dead.

Dol. Cæsar, thy thoughts
 Touch their effects in this: thyself art coming
 To see perform'd the dreaded act which thou
 335 So sought'st to hinder.

[Within 'A way there, a way for Cæsar!']

Re-enter CÆSAR and all his train; marching.

Dol. O, Sir, you are too sure an augurer;
That you did fear is done.

Cæs. Brav'st at the last,
She levell'd at our purposes, and being royal,
Took her own way.—The manner of their deaths?
340 I do not see them bleed.

Dol. Who was last with them?

First Guard. A simple countryman, that brought her figs:

This was his basket.

Cæs. Poison'd, then.

First Guard. O Cæsar,
This Charmian liv'd but now; she stood and spake:
I found her trimming up the diadem
345 On her dead mistress; tremblingly she stood
And on the sudden dropp'd.

Cæs. O noble weakness!
If they had swallow'd poison, 'twould appear
By external swelling: but she looks like sleep,
As she would catch another Antony
350 In her strong toil of grace.

Dol. Here, on her breast,
There is a vent of blood and something blown:
The like is on her arm.

First Guard. This is an asp's trail: and these fig-leaves
Have slime upon them, such as the asp's leaves
355 Upon the caves of Nile.

Cæs. Most probable
That so she died; for her physician tells me

³⁴⁸ By extern swelling. S. Walker conj. (Crit. Exam. III. 312).
^{353, 355} This . . . Nile. As by Johnson; three lines, ending traile ||

She hath pursu'd conclusions infinite
Of easy ways to die.—Take up her bed;
And bear her women from the monument:—
360 She shall be buried by her Antony:
No grave upon the earth shall clip in it
A pair so famous. High events as these Strike those that make them; and their story is No less in pity than his glory which 365 Brought them to be lamented. Our army shall
In solemn show attend this funeral;
And then to Rome.—Come, Dolabella, see
High order in this great solemnity. [Exeunt.

368 Exeunt omnes. Ff.

the best guard's consolation is that
Of every way to die - I take no part;
And bear her women from the monument -
The shall be buried by her side;
The grave upon the earth shall close in it;
A pair so famous high exalts in those Strike those that make them; and their story
No less in pity than in glory which I thought them to be famous; Ourselves shall
In solemn show attend this funeral;
And then to home - I am, I am, I am
High order in this great assembly.

CYMBELINE.

MEMORANDUM

INTRODUCTORY NOTICE.

Shakspeare's Cymbeline was first printed in the Folio of 1623, as the last of the 'Tragedies,' under the title of The Tragedie of Cymbeline. Considering the general character of the play, it is put in the wrong place, and ought to have been ranged among the 'Comedies,' before or after The Winter's Tale, to which in style and execution it bears a decided resemblance. The text of the folio is, comparatively speaking a correct one; though there is no lack of obscure passages puzzling to the commentator.

The earliest record of a performance of Cymbeline is found in Simon Forman's Book of the Plaies and Notes thereof (1610-1611). The exact date of the performance is not given; but, from internal evidence of metre and style, there is little doubt that the play was written a short time before, i. e. in 1609 or 1610. The vision of Posthumus (V. 4.) is considered by several critics as unworthy of Shakspeare's genius, and therefore spurious.

The story of the wager to test a lady's virtue, and Iachimo's following intrigue, is derived from some version of Boccaccio's Ninth Novel of the Second Day. A similar story, transferred on English ground, is told in a tract called Westwards for Smelts. The book was printed in 1620; but Malone mentions an Edition of 1603. However this statement seems to be erroneous; and besides, the few traits which Cymbeline has in common with Westward for Smelts alone, are of so trifling a nature that Shakspeare need not have known or used this version, even if it did appear in 1603.

The historical framework of the play is constructed on the data of Holinshed's Chronicle ('The historie of England', book III, chapters XIII-XVIII); in which last chapter the life of Kymbeline or Cimbeline the sonne of Theomantius is described. Posthumus' account of the battle (V. III. 4-51) is taken from another part of the Chronicle ('The historie of Scotland').

An additional source of Cymbeline has lately been discovered¹ in an old anonymous play, The Rare Triumphs of Love and Fortune (1589, reprinted in Hazlitt's ed. of Dodsley's Old English Plays, vol. VI.). The mutual relations between Imogen, Posthumus, Cloten, and Belarius are foreshadowed in this play, though beyond the mere plot and the suggestion of a name (Fidelia = Fidele-Imogen) there is nothing that Shakspeare could use for his own purposes.

Our play has recently received the attention of two of the most distinguished Shaksperian scholars, now unhappily no more among the living, Professor K. Elze, and C. M. Ingleby, LL. D. The former embodied his observations in a Letter to C. M. Ingleby, containing Notes and Emendations on Shakspeare's Cymbeline (Halle 1886); to the latter we owe a most valuable Edition with Notes of Cymbeline (London, 1886).¹ Both works were reviewed by Prof. Leo, in the Jahrbuch der Deutschen Shakespeare-Gesellschaft, vol. XXII., pp. 223 seqq.

¹ By Mr. R. W. Boodle of Montreal; see Notes and Queries 7th S. IV. 404, 405; and Shakespeare-Jahrbuch, vol. XXIII., pp. 344-347.

¹ Mr. Ingleby's edition has been re-edited by Holcombe Ingleby, M. A., London, 1889.

SCENE: Britain; Rome.

ACT I.

SCENE I. Britain. The garden of Cymbeline's palace.

Enter two Gentlemen.

First Gent. You do not meet a man but frowns: our bloods

No more obey the heavens than our courtiers'
Still seem as does the king's.

Sec. Gent. But what's the matter?

First Gent. His daughter, and the heir of 's kingdom, whom

5 He purpos'd to his wife's sole son—a widow
That late he married—hath referr'd herself
Unto a poor but worthy gentleman.
She's wedded; her husband banish'd; she imprison'd:
All is outward sorrow; though, I think, the king
10 Be touch'd at very heart.

Sec. Gent. None but the king?

Actus Primus. Scaena Prima. F¹. ² courtiers' Steevens, courtiers F¹. ³ kings F¹, king Knight (Tyrwhitt conj.). ^{7.9} Arr. as by Hanmer; Unto . . . wedded || Her . . . all || Is . . . king || F¹. ⁸ wedded F¹, wed Steevens conj. ⁹ All is F¹, All's Steevens conj. (Hanmer).

First Gent. He that hath lost her too: so is the queen,
That most desir'd the match; but not a courtier,
Although they wear their faces to the bent
Of the king's looks, hath a heart that is not 15 Glad at the thing they scowl at.

Sec. Gent. And why so?

First Gent. He that hath miss'd the princess is a thing
Too bad for bad report: and he that hath her—
I mean, that married her, alack, good man!
And therefore banish'd—is a creature such 20 As, to seek through the regions of the earth
For one his like, there would be something failing
In him that should compare:—I do not think
So fair an outward, and such stuff within Endows a man but he.

Sec. Gent. You speak him far.

25 First Gent. I do extend him, Sir, within himself,
Crush him together, rather than unfold
His measure duly.

Sec. Gent. What's his name and birth?

First Gent. I cannot delve him to the root: his father
Was call'd Sicilius, who did join his honour,
30 Against the Romans, with Cassibelan,
But had his titles by Tenantius, whom
He serv'd with glory and admir'd success,
So gain'd the sur-addition Leonatus;
And had, besides this gentleman in question,
35 Two other sons, who, in the wars o' the time,
Died with their swords in hand; for which their father,
Then old and fond of issue, took such sorrow,
That he quit being; and his gentle lady,

¹⁴ hath . . . not F¹, but hath . . . not Pope (1). Pope (2) omits not. ¹⁹ ioync F¹, win or gain Jervis conj. (Ingleby).

Big of this gentleman our theme, deceas'd
 40 As he was born. The king he takes the babe
 To his protection; calls him Posthúmus Leonatus;
 Breeds him, and makes him of his bed-chamber;
 Puts to him all the learnings that his time
 Could make him the receiver of; which he took,
 45 As we do air, fast as 'twas minister'd,
 And in 's spring became a harvest; liv'd in court—
 Which rare it is to do—most prais'd, most lov'd,
 A sample to the youngest; to the more mature
 A glass that feated them; and to the graver
 50 A child that guided dotards: to his mistress,
 For whom he now is banish'd,—her own price
 Proclaims how she esteem'd him and his virtue;
 By her election may be truly read
 What kind of man he is.

Sec. Gent.

I honour him

55 Even out of your report. But, pray you, tell me,
 Is she sole child to the king?

First Gent.

His only child.

He had two sons,—if this be worth your hearing,
 Mark it,—the eldest of them at three years old,
 I' the swathing-clothes the other, from their nursery
 60 Were stol'n; and to this hour no guess in knowledge
 Which way they went.

Sec. Gent.

How long is this ago?

First Gent. Some twenty years.

Sec. Gent. That a king's children should be so convey'd!

So slackly guarded! and the search so slow,
 65 That could not trace them!

First Gent.

Howsoe'er 'tis strange,

Or that the negligence may well be laugh'd at,

⁴¹ Pron. pro-tect-i-on, Posthúmus; Leonatus is extra versum.

⁴³ to him F¹, him to Reed. ⁵² him and his virtue: Capell, him:
and his virtue F¹.

Yet is it true, Sir.

Sec. Gent. I do well believe you.

First Gent. We must forbear: here comes the gentleman,

The queen, and princess. [Exeunt.]

Enter the QUEEN, POSTHUMUS, and IMOGEN.

70 Queen. No, be assur'd you shall not find me, daughter,
After the slander of most stepmothers,
Evil-ey'd unto you: you're my prisoner, but
Your gaoler shall deliver you the keys
That lock up your restraint.—For you, Posthúmus, 75 So soon as I can win the offended king,
I will be known your advocate: marry, yet
The fire of rage is in him, and 'twere good
You lean'd unto his sentence with what patience
Your wisdom may inform you.

Post. Please your Highness,
80 I will from hence to-day.

Queen. You know the peril.—
I'll fetch a turn about the garden, pitying
The pangs of barr'd affections; though the king
Hath charg'd you should not speak together. [Exit.]

Imo. O
Dissembling courtesy! How fine this tyrant
85 Can tickle where she wounds!—My dearest husband,
I something fear my father's wrath; but nothing—
Always reserv'd my holy duty—what
His rage can do on me: you must be gone;
And I shall here abide the hourly shot
90 Of angry eyes; not comforted to live,
But that there is this jewel in the world,
That I may see again.

Post.

My queen! my mistress!

O lady, weep no more, lest I give cause
 To be suspected of more tenderness
 95 Than doth become a man! I will remain
 The loyal'st husband that did e'er plight troth:
 My residence in Rome at one Philario's;
 Who to my father was a friend, to me
 Known but by letter: thither write, my queen, 100 And with mine eyes I'll drink the words you send,
 Though ink be made of gall.

Re-enter QUEEN.Queen.

Be brief, I pray you:

If the king come, I shall incur I know not How much of his displeasure.—[Aside] Yet I'll move
 him

To walk this way: I never do him wrong,
 105 But he does buy my injuries, to be friends;
 Pays dear for my offences. [Exit.]

Post.

Should we be taking leave

As long a term as yet we have to live,
 The loathness to depart would grow. Adieu!

Imo. Nay, stay a little:

110 Were you but riding forth to air yourself,
 Such parting were too petty. Look here, love;
 This diamond was my mother's: take it, heart;
 But keep it till you woo another wife,
 When Imogen is dead.

Post.

How, how! another?—

115 You gentle gods, give me but this I have,
 And sear up my embracements from a next
 With bonds of death!— [Putting on the ring.]
 Remain, remain thou here

105 injuries; to be friends, Daniel conj.113 But = 'only'.116 sear F¹, seal Singer.117, 123 Stagedirections add. Rowe.

While sense can keep it on! And, sweetest, fairest,
 As I my poor self did exchange for you,
 120 To your so infinite loss, so in our trifles
 I still win of you: for my sake wear this;
 It is a manacle of love; I'll place it
 Upon this fairest prisoner.

[Putting a bracelet upon her arm.]

Imo. O the gods!
 When shall we see again?

Enter CYMBELINE and Lords.

Post. Alack, the king!
 125 Cym. Thou basest thing, avoid! hence, from my sight!
 If after this command thou fraught the court
 With thy unworthiness, thou diest: away!
 Thou'rt poison to my blood.

Post. The gods protect you!
 And bless the good remainders of the court!
 130 I am gone. [Exit.]

Imo. There cannot be a pinch in death
 More sharp than this is.

Cym. O disloyal thing,
 That shouldst repair my youth, thou heap'st
 A year's age on me.

Imo. I beseech you, Sir,
 Harm not yourself with your vexation:
 135 I am senseless of your wrath; a touch more rare
 Subdues all pangs, all fears.

Cym. Past grace? obedience?

Imo. Past hope, and in despair; that way, past grace.

Cym. That mightst have had the sole son of my queen!

Imo. O blest, that I might not! I chose an eagle,

¹¹⁸ it on F¹, it own = its own Grant White conj. ^{132,133} heap'st
A yeares age on F¹, heapest many etc. Hanmer.

140 And did avoid a puttock.

Cym. Thou took'st a beggar; wouldst have made my throne

A seat for baseness.

Imo. No; I rather added

A lustre to it.

Cym. O thou vild one!

Imo. Sir,

It is your fault that I have lov'd Posthúmus:

145 You bred him as my playfellow; and he is

A man worth any woman; overbuys me

Almost the sum he pays.

Cym. What, art thou mad?

Imo. Almost, Sir: heaven restore me!—Would I were

A neat-herd's daughter, and my Leonatus

150 Our neighbour shep-herd's son!

Cym. Thou foolish thing!

Re-enter QUEEN.

They were again together: you have done,

Not after our command. Away with her,

And pen her up.

Queen. Beseech your patience.—Peace,

Dear lady daughter, peace!—Sweet sovereign,

155 Leave us to ourselves; and make yourself some comfort

Out of your best advice.

Cym. Nay, let her languish

A drop of blood a day; and, being aged,

Die of this folly! [Exeunt Cymbeline and Lords.]

Queen. Fie! you must give way.

Enter PISANIO.

Here is your servant.—How now, Sir! What news?

160 Pis. My lord your son drew on my master.

Queen. Ha!

No harm, I trust, is done?

Pis. There might have been,
But that my master rather play'd than fought,
And had no help of anger: they were parted
By gentlemen at hand.

Queen. I am very glad on't.

165 Imo. Your son 's my father's friend; he takes his part—

To draw upon an exile!—O brave Sir!
I would they were in Afric both together;
Myself by with a needle, that I might prick
The goer-back.—Why came you from your master?

170 Pis. On his command: he would not suffer me
To bring him to the haven; left these notes
Of what commands I should be subject to,
When 't pleas'd you to employ me.

Queen. This hath been
Your faithful servant: I dare lay mine honour
175 He will remain so.

Pis. I humbly thank your Highness.

Queen. Pray, walk awhile.

Imo. About some half-hour hence,
I pray you, speak with me: you shall at least
Go see my lord aboard: for this time leave me.

[Exeunt.]

SCENE II. The same. A public place.

Enter CLOTEN and two Lords.

First Lord. Sir, I would advise you to shift a shirt;
the violence of action hath made you reek as a sacri-

face: where air comes out, air comes in: there 's none
5 abroad so wholesome as that you vent.

Clo. If my shirt were bloody, then to shift it.—Have I hurt him?

Sec. Lord. [Aside] No, 'faith; not so much as his patience.

10 First Lord. Hurt him! his body's a passable carcass, if he be not hurt: it is a throughfare for steel, if it be not hurt.

Sec. Lord. [Aside] His steel was in debt; it went o' the backside the town.

15 Clo. The villain would not stand me.

Sec. Lord. [Aside] No; but he fled forward still, toward your face.

First Lord. Stand you! You have land enough of your own: but he added to your having; gave you some 20 ground.

Sec. Lord. [Aside] As many inches as you have oceans. Puppies!

Clo. I would they had not come between us.

Sec. Lord. [Aside] So would I, till you had measured 25 how long a fool you were upon the ground.

Clo. And that she should love this fellow and refuse me!

Sec. Lord. [Aside] If it be a sin to make a true
30 election, she is damned.

First Lord. Sir, as I told you always, her beauty and her brain go not together: she 's a good sign, but I have seen small reflection of her wit.

Sec. Lord. [Aside] She shines not upon fools, lest the 35 reflection should hurt her.

Clo. Come, I'll to my chamber. Would there had been some hurt done!

Sec. Lord. [Aside] I wish not so; unless it had been the fall of an ass, which is no great hurt.

40 Clo. You'll go with us?

First Lord. I'll attend your lordship.

Clo. Nay, come, let's go together.

Sec. Lord. Well, my lord.

[Exeunt.]

SCENE III. A room in Cymbeline's palace.

Enter IMOGEN and PISANIO.

Imo. I would thou grew'st unto the shores o' the haven,
 And question'dst every sail: if he should write,
 And I not have it, 'twere a paper lost,
 As offer'd mercy is. What was the last
 5 That he spake to thee?

Pis. It was, his queen, his queen!

Imo. Then wav'd his handkerchief?

Pis. And kiss'd it, Madam.

Imo. Senseless linen! happier therein than I!—
 And that was all?

Pis. No, Madam; for so long
 As he could make me with his eye, or I
 10 Distinguish him from others, he did keep
 The deck, with glove, or hat, or handkerchief,
 Still waving, as the fits and stirs of 's mind
 Could best express how slow his soul sail'd on,
 How swift his ship.

Imo. Thou shouldst have made him
 15 As little as a crow, or less, ere left

⁴³ Scena Quarta. F¹. ⁹ his F¹, this Warburton, the Keightley (Coleridge conj.), or Grant White conj., mine Ingleby. make . . . ear F¹, mark . . . I Hanmer. Hanmer's is, on the whole, the most satisfactory emendation. As from l. 6 all the reported actions of Posthumus appeal to the eye exclusively, ear must be the wrong word. Make would seem to have the meaning of 'make out, descry' (cp. the common nautical expression 'to make land'), here as well as below, l. 14.

To after-eye him.

Pis. Madam, so I did.

Imo. I would have broke mine eye-strings; crack'd them, but

To look upon him; till the diminution
Of space had pointed him sharp as my needle;
Nay, follow'd him, till he had melted from 20 The smallness of a gnat to air, and then
Have turn'd mine eye and wept.—But, good Pisanio,
When shall we hear from him?

Pis. Be assur'd, Madam,
With his next vantage.

Imo. I did not take my leave of him, but had 25 Most pretty things to say: ere I could tell him
How I would think on him, at certain hours,
Such thoughts and such; or I could make him swear
The shes of Italy should not betray
Mine interest and his honour, or have charg'd him,
30 At the sixth hour of morn, at noon, at midnight,
To encounter me with orisons, for then
I am in heaven for him; or ere I could Give him that parting kiss which I had set
Betwixt two charming words, comes in my father,
35 And like the tyrannous breathing of the north,
Shakes all our buds from growing.

Enter a Lady.

Lady. The queen, Madam,
Desires your Highness' company.

Imo. Those things I bid you do, get them dispatch'd.—
I will attend the queen.

40 Pis. Madam, I shall. [Exeunt.

SCENE IV. Rome. Philario's house.

Enter PHILARIO, IACHIMO, a Frenchman, a Dutchman, and a Spaniard.

Iach. Believe it, Sir, I have seen him in Britain: he was then of a crescent note; expected to prove so worthy as since he hath been allowed the name of: but I could then have looked on him without the help of admiration,
5 though the catalogue of his endowments had been tabled by his side, and I to peruse him by items.

Phi. You speak of him when he was less furnished than now he is with that which makes him both without 10 and within.

French. I have seen him in France: we had very many there could behold the sun with as firm eyes as he.

Iach. This matter of marrying his king's daughter—
15 wherein he must be weighed rather by her value than his own—words him, I doubt not, a great deal from the matter.

French. And then his banishment,—

Iach. Ay, and the approbation of those that weep 20 this lamentable divorce, under her colours, are wonderfully to extend him; be it but to fortify her judgment, which else an easy battery might lay flat, for taking a beggar without less quality. But how comes it he is 25 to sojourn with you? How creeps acquaintance?

Phi. His father and I were soldiers together; to whom I have been often bound for no less than my life.—Here comes the Briton: let him be so entertained amongst Scena Quinta. F¹. ²⁰ are F¹, is Keightley. ²³ less F¹, more Rowe, his Knight conj. (Hudson).

you as suits, with gentlemen of your knowing, to a 30 stranger of his quality.

Enter POSTHUMUS.

I beseech you all, be better known to this gentleman;
whom I commend to you as a noble friend of mine:
how worthy he is I will leave to appear hereafter, rather 35 than story him in his own hearing.

French. Sir, we have known together in Orleans.

Post. Since when I have been debtor to you for 40 courtesies, which I will be ever to pay and yet pay still.

French. Sir, you o'er-rate my poor kindness: I was glad I did atone my countryman and you; it had been pity you should have been put together with so mortal a purpose as then each bore, upon importance of so 45 slight and trivial a nature.

Post. By your pardon, Sir, I was then a young traveller; rather shunned to go even with what I heard than in my every action to be guided by others' experiences: but upon my mended judgment—if I offend 50 not to say it is mended—my quarrel was not altogether slight.

French. 'Faith, yes, to be put to the arbitrement of swords, and by such two that would by all likelihood 55 have confounded one the other, or have fallen both.

Iach. Can we, with manners, ask what was the difference?

French. Safely, I think: 'twas a contention in public, which may, without contradiction, suffer the report. It 60 was much like an argument that fell out last night, where each of us fell in praise of our country mistresses;
this gentleman at that time vouching—and upon warrant of bloody affirmation—his to be more fair, virtuous, wise,

^{49,50} offend not Rowe, offend F¹.

65 chaste, constant, qualified, and less attemptible, than any the rarest of our ladies in France.

Iach. That lady is not now living, or this gentleman's opinion, by this, worn out.

Post. She holds her virtue still, and I my mind.

70 Iach. You must not so far prefer her 'fore ours of Italy.

Post. Being so far provoked as I was in France, I would abate her nothing; though I profess myself her adorer, not her friend.

75 Iach. As fair and as good—a kind of hand-in-hand comparison—had been something too fair and too good for any lady in Britain. If she went before others I have seen, as that diamond of yours outlustres many I
80 have beheld, I could not believe she excelled many: but I have not seen the most precious diamond that is, nor you the lady.

Post. I praised her as I rated her: so do I my stone.

85 Iach. What do you esteem it at?

Post. More than the world enjoys.

Iach. Either your unparagoned mistress is dead, or she 's outprized by a trifle.

Post. You are mistaken: the one may be sold, or 90 given, or if there were wealth enough for the purchase, or merit for the gift: the other is not a thing for sale, and only the gift of the gods.

Iach. Which the gods have given you?

95 Post. Which, by their graces, I will keep.

Iach. You may wear her in title yours: but, you know, strange fowl light upon neighbouring ponds. Your ring may be stolen too: so, your brace of unprizable 100 estimations, the one is but frail and the other casual, a cunning thief, or a that way accomplished courtier, would hazard the winning both of first and last.

Post. Your Italy contains none so accomplished a courtier to convince the honour of my mistress; if, in 105 the holding or loss of that, you term her frail. I do nothing doubt you have store of thieves; notwithstanding,
I fear not my ring.

Phi. Let us leave here, gentlemen.

110 Post. Sir, with all my heart. This worthy signior, I thank him, makes no stranger of me; we are familiar at first.

Iach. With five times so much conversation, I should get ground of your fair mistress; make her go back, 115 even to the yielding, had I admittance, and opportunity to friend.

Post. No, no.

Iach. I dare thereupon pawn the moiety of my estate to your ring; which, in my opinion, o'ervalues it some-120 thing: but I make my wager rather against your confidence than her reputation; and, to bar your offence herein too, I durst attempt it against any lady in the world.

Post. You are a great deal abused in too bold a 125 persuasion; and I doubt not you sustain what you're worthy of by your attempt.

Iach. What's that?

Post. A repulse: though your attempt, as you call it, deserve more,—a punishment too.

130 Phi. Gentlemen, enough of this: it came in too suddenly; let it die as it was born, and, I pray you, be better acquainted.

¹⁰⁰ casual = 'liable to mischance' (Ingleby). ¹²⁵ you F¹, you'll Collier (Ingleby).

Iach. Would I had put my estate and my neighbour's
135 on the approbation of what I have spoke!

Post. What lady would you choose to assail?

Iach. Yours; whom in constancy you think stands so safe. I will lay you ten thousand ducats to your ring, that, commend me to the court where your lady is, with 140 no more advantage than the opportunity of a second conference, and I will bring from thence that honour of hers which you imagine so reserved.

Post. I will wage against your gold, gold to it: my 145 ring I hold dear as my finger; 'tis part of it.

Iach. You are afraid, and therein the wiser. If you buy ladies' flesh at a million a dram, you cannot preserve it from tainting: but I see you have some religion in you, that you fear.

150 Post. This is but a custom in your tongue; you bear a graver purpose, I hope.

Iach. I am the master of my speeches; and would undergo what's spoken, I swear.

Post. Will you?—I shall but lend my diamond till 155 your return:—let there be covenants drawn between 's:
my mistress exceeds in goodness the hugeness of your unworthy thinking: I dare you to this match: here 's my ring.

Phi. I will have it no lay.

160 Iach. By the gods, it is one.—If I bring you no sufficient testimony that I have enjoyed the dearest bodily part of your mistress, my ten thousand ducats are yours; so is your diamond too: if I come off, and 165 leave her in such honour as you have trust in, she your jewel, this your jewel, and my gold are yours;—provided I have your commendation for my more free entertainment.

¹⁴⁶ afraid Theobald, a friend F¹, afear'd Collier, her friend
Delius obs.

Post. I embrace these conditions; let us have articles betwixt us. Only, thus far you shall answer: if you 170 make your voyage upon her, and give me directly to understand you have prevailed, I am no further your enemy; she is not worth our debate: if she remain unseduced,—you not making it appear otherwise,—for 175 your ill opinion, and the assault you have made to her chastity, you shall answer me with your sword.

Iach. Your hand,—a covenant: we will have these things set down by lawful counsel, and straight away
 180 for Britain, lest the bargain should catch cold and starve: I will fetch my gold, and have our two wagers recorded.

Post. Agreed. [Exeunt Posthumus and Iachimo.]

French. Will this hold, think you?

Phi. Signior Iachimo will not from it. Pray, let us
 185 follow 'em. [Exeunt.]

SCENE V. Britain. A room in Cymbeline's palace.

Enter QUEEN, Ladies, and CORNELIUS.

Queen. Whiles yet the dew's on ground, gather those flowers;
 Make haste: who has the note of them?

First Lady.

I, Madam.

Queen. Dispatch.

[Exeunt Ladies.]

Now, master doctor, have you brought those drugs?

5 Cor. Pleaseth your Highness, ay: here they are,
 Madam:

[Presenting a small box.]

But I beseech your Grace, without offence,—

My conscience bids me ask,—wherefore you have

Commanded of me these most poisonous compounds,
Which are the movers of a languishing death;

10 But, though slow, deadly?

Queen. I wonder, doctor,
Thou ask'st me such a question. Have I not been Thy pupil long? Hast thou not learn'd me how To make perfumes? distil? preserve? yea, so
That our great king himself doth woo me oft 15 For my confections? Having thus far proceeded,— Unless thou think'st me devilish—is 't not meet
That I did amplify my judgment in Other conclusions? I will try the forces
Of these thy compounds on such creatures as 20 We count not worth the hanging,—but none human,—
To try the vigour of them, and apply
Allayments to their act; and by them gather
Their several virtues and effects.

Cor. Your Highness
Shall from this practice but make hard your heart:
25 Besides, the seeing these effects will be Both noisome and infectious.

Queen. O, content thee.—

Enter PISANIO.

[Aside] Here comes a flattering rascal; upon him
Will I first work: he 's for his master, and An enemy to my son.—How now, Pisanio!—
30 Doctor, your service for this time is ended;
Take your own way.

Cor. [Aside] I do suspect you, Madam;
But you shall do no harm.

Queen. [To Pisanio] Hark thee, a word.

¹⁰ I wonder F¹, I do wonder Theobald (Ingleby). ^{28,29} master, and An Ingleby (Anon. conj. ap. Camb. ed.), master, And F¹, master, An Daniel conj.

Cor. [Aside] I do not like her. She doth think she has

Strange lingering poisons: I do know her spirit, 35 And will not trust one of her malice with
A drug of such damn'd nature. Those she has
Will stupify and dull the sense awhile;
Which first, perchance, she'll prove on cats and dogs,
Then afterward up higher: but there is 40 No danger in what show of death it makes,
More than the locking-up the spirits a time,
To be more fresh, reviving. She is fool'd
With a most false effect; and I the truer,
So to be false with her.

Queen. No further service, doctor,
45 Until I send for thee.

Cor. I humbly take my leave. [Exit.

Queen. Weeps she still, say'st thou? Dost thou think in time

She will not quench, and let instructions enter
Where folly now possesses? Do thou work:
When thou shalt bring me word she loves my son,
50 I'll tell thee on the instant thou art then
As great as is thy master; greater,—for
His fortunes all lie speechless, and his name
Is at last gasp: return he cannot, nor Continue where he is: to shift his being 55 Is to exchange one misery with another;
And every day that comes comes to decay
A day's work in him. What shalt thou expect,
To be depender on a thing that leans,—
Who cannot be new built, nor has no friends,
60 So much as but to prop him?—

[The Queen drops the box: Pisanio takes it up.

Thou tak'st up

Thou know'st not what; but take it for thy labour:
It is a thing I made, which hath the king
Five times redeem'd from death: I do not know

What is more cordial:—nay, I prithee, take it;
 65 It is an earnest of a further good
 That I mean to thee. Tell thy mistress how
 The case stands with her; do 't as from thyself.
 Think what a chance thou changest on, but think
 Thou hast thy mistress still,—to boot, my son,
 70 Who shall take notice of thee: I'll move the king
 To any shape of thy preferment, such
 As thou'lt desire; and then myself, I chiefly,
 That set thee on to this desert, am bound
 To load thy merit richly. Call my women:
 75 Think on my words. [Exit Pisanio.]

A sly and constant knave,
 Not to be shak'd: the agent for his master
 And the remembrancer of her to hold
 The hand-fast to her lord.—I have given him that Which, if he take, shall quite unpeople her 80 Of liegers for her sweet; and which she after,
 Except she bend her humour, shall be assur'd
 To taste of too.

Re-enter PISANIO and Ladies.

So, so;—well done, well done:
 The violets, cowslips, and the primroses,
 Bear to my closet.—Fare thee well, Pisanio;
 85 Think on my words. [Exeunt Queen and Ladies]
Pis. And shall do:
 But when to my good lord I prove untrue,
 I'll choke myself: there 's all I'll do for you. [Exit]

SCENE VI. The same. Another room in the palace.

Enter IMOGEN.

Imo. A father cruel, and a step-dame false;
A foolish suitor to a wedded lady,
That hath her husband banish'd;—O, that husband!
My supreme crown of grief! and those repeated
5 Vexations of it! Had I been thief-stol'n,
As my two brothers, happy! but most miserable
Is the desire that 's glorious: blest be those,
How mean soe'er, that have their honest wills,
Which seasons comfort.—Who may this be? Fie!

Enter PISANIO and IACHIMO.

10 Pis. Madam, a noble gentleman of Rome,
Comes from my lord with letters.

Iach. Change you, Madam?
The worthy Leonatus is in safety,
And greets your Highness dearly. [Presents a letter.

Imo. Thanks, good Sir:
You're kindly welcome.

15 Iach. [Aside] All of her that is out of door most rich!

If she be furnish'd with a mind so rare,
She is alone the Arabian bird; and I
Have lost the wager. Boldness be my friend!
Arm me, audacity, from head to foot!

So far I read aloud:

But even the very middle of my heart
Is warm'd by the rest, and takes it thankfully.—
You are as welcome, worthy Sir, as I
30 Have words to bid you; and shall find it so
In all that I can do.

Iach. Thanks, fairest lady.—
What, are men mad? Hath nature given them eyes
To see this vaulted arch, and the rich crop
Of sea and land, which can distinguish 'twixt
35 The fiery orbs above and the twinn'd stones
Upon the unnumber'd beach? and can we not Partition make, with spectacles so precious,
'Twixt fair and foul?

Imo. What makes your admiration?

Iach. It cannot be i' th' eye; for apes and monkeys 40 'Twixt two such shes, would chatter this way, and Contemn with mows the other: nor i' the judgment;
For idiots, in this case of favour, would
Be wisely definite: nor i' th' appetite;
Sluttery, to such neat excellence oppos'd,
45 Should make desire vomit emptiness,
Not so allur'd to feed.

Imo. What is the matter, trow?

Imo. Continues well my lord?

Iach. Well, Madam.

Imo. Is he dispos'd to mirth? I hope he is.

Iach. Exceeding pleasant; none a stranger there
60 So merry and so gamesome: he is call'd
The Briton reveller.

Imo. When he was here,
He did incline to sadness, and oft-times
Not knowing why.

Iach. I never saw him sad.
There is a Frenchman his companion, one
65 An eminent monsieur, that, it seems, much loves
A Gallian girl at home; he furnaces
The thick sighs from him, whiles the jolly Briton—
Your lord, I mean—laughs from's free lungs, cries 'O,
Can my sides hold, to think that man,—who knows
70 By history, report, or his own proof,
What woman is, yea, what she cannot choose
But must be—will in's free hours languish for Assured bondage?'

Imo. Will my lord say so?

Iach. Ay, Madam, with his eyes in flood with laughter:

75 It is a recreation to be by,
And hear him mock the Frenchman. But, heavens know,
Some men are much to blame.

Imo. Not he, I hope.

Iach. Not he: but yet heaven's bounty towards him might

Be us'd more thankfully. In himself, 'tis much;
80 In you,—which I account his beyond all talents,—
Whilst I am bound to wonder, I am bound
To pity too.

Imo. What do you pity, Sir?

Iach. Two creatures heartily.

Imo. Am I one, Sir?

You look on me: what wrack discern you in me
85 Deserves your pity?

Iach. Lamentable! What,
To hide me from the radiant sun, and solace
I' the dungeon by a snuff?

Imo. I pray you, Sir,
Deliver with more openness your answers
To my demands. Why do you pity me?

90 Iach. That others do—
I was about to say—enjoy your——But
It is an office of the gods to venge it,
Not mine to speak on 't.

Imo. You do seem to know
Something of me, or what concerns me: pray you,—
95 Since doubting things go ill often hurts more
Than to be sure they do; for certainties
Either are past remedy, or, timely knowing,
The remedy's then born—discover to me

What both you spur and stop.

Iach. Had I this cheek
 100 To bathe my lips upon; this hand, whose touch,
 Whose every touch, would force the feeler's soul
 To the oath of loyalty; this object, which Takes prisoner the wild motion of mine eye,
 Fixing it only here;—should I,—damn'd then,— 105 Slaver with lips as common as the stairs
 That mount the Capitol; join gripes with hands
 Made hard with hourly falsehood—falsehood, as
 With labour; then by-peeping in an eye
 Base and ill-lustrous as the smoky light
 110 That's fed with stinking tallow;—it were fit
 That all the plagues of hell should at one time
 Encounter such revolt.

Imo. My lord, I fear,
 Has forgot Britain.

Iach. And himself. Not I,
 Inclined to this intelligence, pronounce
 115 The beggary of his change; but 'tis your graces
 That from my mutest conscience to my tongue
 Charms this report out.

Imo. Let me hear no more.

Iach. O dearest soul! your cause doth strike my heart
 With pity, that doth make me sick. A lady
 120 So fair, and fasten'd to an empery,
 Would make the great'st king double,—to be partner'd
 With tomboys hir'd with that self exhibition
 Which your own coffers yield! with diseas'd ventures
 That play with all infirmities, for gold,
 125 Which rottenness can lend nature! such boil'd stuff
 As well might poison poison! Be reveng'd;

Or she that bore you was no queen, and you
Recoil from your great stock.

Imo.

Reveng'd!

How should I be reveng'd? If this be true,—
130 As I have such a heart that both mine ears
Must not in haste abuse,—if it be true,
How should I be reveng'd?

Iach.

Should he make me

Live, like Diana's priest, betwixt cold sheets,
Whiles he is vaulting variable ramps,
135 In your despite, upon your purse? Revenge it.
I dedicate myself to your sweet pleasure;
More noble than that runagate to your bed;
And will continue fast to your affection,
Still close as sure.

Imo.

What, ho, Pisanio!

140 Iach. Let me my service tender on your lips.

Imo. Away!—I do condemn mine ears that have
So long attended thee.—If thou wert honourable,
Thou wouldst have told this tale for virtue, not
For such an end thou seek'st,—as base as strange.

145 Thou wrong'st a gentleman, who is as far
From thy report as thou from honour; and Solicit'st here a lady that disdains
Thee and the devil alike.—What ho, Pisanio!—
The king my father shall be made acquainted

150 Of thy assault: if he shall think it fit,
A saucy stranger in his court, to mart
As in a Romish stew, and to expound
His beastly mind to us,—he hath a court
He little cares for, and a daughter who 155 He not respects at all.—What, ho, Pisanio!

For the most worthiest fit! Give me your pardon.
I have spoke this, to know if your affiance
Were deeply rooted; and shall make your lord,
165 That which he is, new o'er: and he is one
The truest manner'd; such a holy witch
That he enchants societies into him;
Half all men's hearts are his.

Imo. You make amends.

Iach. He sits 'mongst men like a descended god:
170 He hath a kind of honour sets him off,
More than a mortal seeming. Be not angry,
Most mighty princess, that I have adventur'd
To try your taking of a false report; which hath Honour'd with confirmation your great judgment
175 In the election of a sir so rare,
Which you know cannot err: the love I bear him
Made me to fan you thus; but the gods made you,
Unlike all others, chaffless. Pray, your pardon.

Imo. All's well, Sir: take my power i' the court for yours.

180 Iach. My humble thanks. I had almost forgot
To entreat your Grace but in a small request,
And yet of moment too, for it concerns
Your lord; myself, and other noble friends
Are partners in the business.

185 Iach. Some dozen Romans of us and your lord—
The best feather of our wing—have mingled sums
To buy a present for the emperor;
Which I, the factor for the rest, have done
In France: 'tis plate of rare device, and jewels
190 Of rich and exquisite form; their values great;
And I am something curious, being strange,
To have them in safe stowage: may it please you
To take them in protection?

Imo. Willingly;
And pawn mine honour for their safety: since
195 My lord hath interest in them, I will keep them
In my bedchamber.

Iach. They are in a trunk,
Attended by my men: I will make bold
To send them to you, only for this night;
I must aboard to-morrow.

Imo. O, no, no.
200 Iach. Yes, I beseech; or I shall short my word
By lengthening my return. From Gallia
I cross'd the seas on purpose and on promise
To see your Grace.

Imo. I thank you for your pains:
But not away to-morrow!

Iach. O, I must, Madam:
205 Therefore I shall beseech you, if you please
To greet your lord with writing, do 't to-night:
I have outstood my time; which is material
To the tender of our present.

Imo. I will write.
Send your trunk to me; it shall safe be kept,
210 And truly yielded you. You're very welcome. [Exeunt.]

SCENE I. Britain. Before Cymbeline's palace.

Enter CLOTEN and two Lords.

Clo. Was there ever man had such luck! when I kissed the jack upon an up-cast, to be hit away! I had a hundred pound on 't: and then a whoreson jackanapes
5 must take me up for swearing; as if I borrowed mine oaths of him, and might not spend them at my pleasure.

First Lord. What got he by that? You have broke his pate with your bowl.

Sec. Lord. [Aside] If his wit had been like him that 10 broke it, it would have run all out.

Clo. When a gentleman is disposed to swear, it is not for any standers-by to curtail his oaths, ha?

Sec. Lord. No, my lord; [Aside] nor crop the ears of 15 them.

Clo. Whoreson dog!—I give him satisfaction? Would he had been one of my rank!

Sec. Lord. [Aside] To have smelt like a fool.

Clo. I am not vexed more at any thing in the earth,—
20 A pox on 't! I had rather not be so noble as I am;

Actus Secundus. Scena Prima. F¹. ¹⁴ No, my lord assigned to the 1st Lord by Johnson. ¹⁶ give F², gave F¹.

they dare not fight with me, because of the queen my mother: every Jack-slave hath his bellyful of fighting, and I must go up and down like a cock that nobody can match.

25 Sec. Lord. [Aside] You are cock and capon too; and you crow, cock, with your comb on.

Clo. Sayest thou?

Sec. Lord. It is not fit your lordship should under-30 take every companion that you give offence to.

Clo. No, I know that: but it is fit I should commit offence to my inferiors.

Sec. Lord. Ay, it is fit for your lordship only.

Clo. Why, so I say.

35 First Lord. Did you hear of a stranger that's come to court to-night?

Clo. A stranger, and I not know on 't!

Sec. Lord. [Aside] He's a strange fellow himself, and knows it not.

40 First Lord. There's an Italian come; and, 'tis thought, one of Leonatus' friends.

Clo. Leonatus! a banished rascal; and he's another, whatsoever he be. Who told you of this stranger?

45 First Lord. One of your lordship's pages.

Clo. Is it fit I went to look upon him? is there no derogation in 't?

Sec. Lord. You cannot derogate, my lord.

Clo. Not easily, I think.

50 Sec. Lord. [Aside] You are a fool granted; therefore your issues, being foolish, do not derogate.

Clo. Come, I'll go see this Italian: what I have lost
55 to-day at bowls I'll win to-night of him. Come, go.

Sec. Lord. I'll attend your lordship.

[Exeunt Cloten and First Lord.]

That such a crafty devil as his mother
Should yield the world this ass! a woman that Bears all down with her brain; and this her son
60 Cannot take two from twenty, for his heart,
And leave eighteen. Alas, poor princess,
Thou divine, Imogen, what thou endur'st,
Betwixt a father by thy step-dame govern'd,
A mother hourly coining plots, a wooer
65 More hateful than the foul expulsion is
Of thy dear husband, than that horrid act
Of the divorce he'd make! The heavens hold firm
The walls of thy dear honour, keep unshak'd
That temple, thy fair mind, that thou mayst stand,
70 To enjoy thy banish'd lord and this great land! [Exit.]

SCENE II. *Imogen's bedchamber in Cymbeline's palace:
a trunk in one corner of it.*

IMOGEN in bed, reading; a Lady attending.

Imo. Who 's there? my woman Helen?

Lady. Please you, Madam.

Imo. What hour is it?

Lady. Almost midnight, Madam.

Imo. I have read three hours then: mine eyes are weak:

Fold down the leaf where I have left: to bed:

⁵⁷ as Pope, as is F¹. ⁶⁶ husband, than F⁴, husband. Then F¹, husband, then F². Scena Secunda. Enter Imogen, in her Bed,
and a Lady. F¹.

5 Take not away the taper, leave it burning;
 And if thou canst awake by four o' the clock,
 I prithee, call me. Sleep hath seiz'd me wholly.

[Exit Lady.]

To your protection I commend me, gods.
 From fairies and the tempters of the night

10 Guard me, beseech ye!

[Sleeps. Iachimo comes from the trunk.]

Iach. The crickets sing, and man's o'er-labour'd sense Repairs itself by rest. Our Tarquin thus
 Did softly press the rushes, ere he waken'd
 The chastity he wounded.—Cytherea,
 15 How bravely thou becom'st thy bed, fresh lily,
 And whiter than the sheets! That I might touch!
 But kiss; one kiss!—Rubies unparagon'd,
 How dearly they do't!—'Tis her breathing that Perfumes the chamber thus: the flame o' the taper
 20 Bows toward her; and would under-peep her lids,
 To see the enclosed lights, now canopied
 Under these windows, white and azure, lac'd
 With blue of heaven's own tinct.—But my design,
 To note the chamber: I will write all down:—
 25 Such and such pictures;—there the window;—such
 The adornment of her bed;—the arras, figures,
 Why, such and such;—and the contents o' the story,—
 Ah, but some natural notes about her body,
 Above ten thousand meaner moveables
 30 Would testify, to enrich mine inventory.
 O sleep, thou ape of death, lie dull upon her!
 And be her sense but as a monument,
 Thus in a chapel lying!—Come off, come off;—

[Taking off her bracelet.]

As slippery as the Gordian knot was hard!—

² design Steevens, designe. F¹, design's F³ F⁴.

³² sense F¹, selfe Gould conj.

35 'Tis mine; and this will witness outwardly,
 As strongly as the conscience does within,
 To the madding of her lord.—On her left breast
 A mole cinque-spotted, like the crimson drops
 I' the bottom of a cowslip: here 's a voucher,
 40 Stronger than ever law could make: this secret
 Will force him think I have pick'd the lock, and ta'en
 The treasure of her honour. No more. To what end?
 Why should I write this down, that's riveted,
 Screw'd to my memory?—She hath been reading late
 45 The tale of Tereus: here the leaf's turn'd down
 Where Philomel gave up.—I have enough:
 To the trunk again, and shut the spring of it.—
 Swift, swift, you dragons of the night, that dawning
 May bare the raven's eye! I lodge in fear;
 50 Though this a heavenly angel, hell is here.

[Clock strikes.

One, two, three,—Time, time!

[Goes into the trunk. The scene closes.

SCENE III. An ante-chamber adjoining Imogen's apartments.

Enter CLOTEN and Lords.

First Lord. Your lordship is the most patient man in loss, the most coldest that ever turned up ace.

Clo. It would make any man cold to lose.

Clo. Winning will put any man into courage. If I
10 could get this foolish Imogen, I should have gold enough.
It's almost morning, is't not?

First Lord. Day, my lord.

Clo. I would this music would come: I am advised to give her music o' mornings; they say it will penetrate.—

Enter Musicians.

15 Come on; tune: if you can penetrate her with your fingering, so; we'll try with tongue too: if none will do, let her remain; but I'll never give o'er. First, a very excellent good-conceited thing; after, a wonderful sweet air, with admirable rich words to it,—and then let her 20 consider.

SONG.

*Hark, hark! the lark at heaven's gate sings,
And Phæbus 'gins arise,
His steeds to water at those springs
25 On chalic'd flowers that lies;
And winking Mary-buds begin
To ope their golden eyes:
With every thing that pretty is,
My lady sweet, arise:
30 Arise, arise!*

Clo. So, get you gone. If this penetrate, I will con-

 35 of unpaved eunuch to boot, can never amend.

[Exeunt Musicians.]

Sec. Lord. Here comes the king.

Clo. I am glad I was up so late; for that 's the reason I was up so early; he cannot choose but take this service I have done fatherly.

Enter CYMBELINE and QUEEN.

40 Good morrow to your Majesty and to my gracious mother.

Cym. Attend you here the door of our stern daughter?

Will she not forth?

Clo. I have assailed her with musics, but she vouch-
 45 safes no notice.

Cym. The exile of her minion is too new;
 She hath not yet forgot him: some more time
 Must wear the print of his remembrance out,
 And then she's yours.

Queen. You are most bound to the king,
 50 Who lets go by no vantages that may Prefer you to his daughter. Frame yourself
 To orderly solicits, and be friended
 With aptness of the season; make denials
 Increase your services; so seem as if 55 You were inspir'd to do those duties which
 You tender to her; that you in all obey her,
 Save when command to your dismissal tends,
 And therein you are senseless.

Clo. Senseless! not so.

Enter a Messenger.

Mess. So like you, Sir, ambassadors from Rome;
60 The one is Caius Lucius.

Cym. A worthy fellow,
Albeit he comes on angry purpose now;
But that 's no fault of his: we must receive him
According to the honour of his sender;
And towards himself, his goodness forespent on us,
65 We must extend our notice.—Our dear son,
When you have given good morning to your mistress,
Attend the queen and us; we shall have need
To employ you towards this Roman.—Come, our queen.
[Exeunt all but Cloten.]

Clo. If she be up, I'll speak with her; if not, 70 Let her lie still and dream.—[Knocks] By your leave, ho!—

I know her women are about her: what
If I do line one of their hands? 'Tis gold
Which buys admittance; oft it doth; yea, and makes Diana's rangers false themselves, yield up
75 Their deer to the stand o' the stealer; and 'tis gold
Which makes the true man kill'd and saves the thief;
Nay, sometime hangs both thief and true man: what Can it not do and undo? I will make
One of her women lawyer to me; for 80 I yet not understand the case myself.—
[Knocks] By your leave.

Enter a Lady.

Lady. Who's there that knocks?

Clo.

A gentleman.

Lady. No more?

Clo. Yes, and a gentlewoman's son.

Lady. That's more

Than some, whose tailors are as dear as yours,
85 Can justly boast of. What's your lordship's pleasure?

Clo. Your lady's person: is she ready?

Lady. Ay,
To keep her chamber.

Clo. There is gold for you;
Sell me your good report.

Lady. How! my good name? or to report of you
90 What I shall think is good?—The princess!

Enter IMOGEN.

Clo. Good morrow, fairest sister; your sweet hand.

[Exit Lady.

Imo. Good morrow, Sir. You lay out too much pains
For purchasing but trouble: the thanks I give
Is telling you that I am poor of thanks,
95 And scarce can spare them.

Clo. Still, I swear I love you.

Imo. If you but said so, 'twere as deep with me:
If you swear still, your recompense is still
That I regard it not.

Clo. This is no answer.

Imo. But that you shall not say, I yield being silent,
100 I would not speak. I pray you, spare me: 'faith,
I shall unfold equal discourtesy
To your best kindness: one of your great knowing
Should learn, being taught, forbearance.

Clo. To leave you in your madness, 'twere my sin:
105 I will not.

Imo. Fools cure not mad folks.

⁹¹ fairest, sister your F¹, fairest: sister, your F¹. Our text is pointed by Ingleby. cure Theobald, Warburton conj. are F¹.

Clo.

Do you call me fool?

Imo. As I am mad, I do:

If you'll be patient, I'll no more be mad;
 That cures us both. I am much sorry, Sir,
 110 You put me to forget a lady's manners,
 By being so verbal: and learn now, for all,
 That I, which know my heart, do here pronounce,
 By the very truth of it, I care not for you,
 And am so near the lack of charity,—
 115 To accuse myself,—I hate you; which I had rather
 You felt, than make't me boast.

Clo.

You sin against Obedience, which you owe your father. For
 The contract you pretend with that base wretch,—
 One bred of alms, and foster'd with cold dishes,
 120 With scraps o' the court,—it is no contract, none:
 And though it be allow'd in meaner parties—
 Yet who than he more mean?—to knit their souls—
 On whom there is no more dependency
 But brats and beggary—in self-figur'd knot;
 125 Yet you are curb'd from that enlargement by
 The consequence o' the crown; and must not soil
 The precious note of it with a base slave,
 A hilding for a livery, a squire's cloth,
 A pantler, not so eminent.

Imo.

Profane fellow!

130 Wert thou the son of Jupiter, and no more
 But what thou art besides, thou wert too base
 To be his groom: thou wert dignified enough,
 Even to be the point of envy, if'twere made
 Comparative for your virtues, to be styl'd
 135 The under-hangman of his kingdom; and hated
 For being preferr'd so well.

Clo.

The south-fog rot him!

¹²⁶ soil Hanmer, foyle F¹, 'file Ingleby conj.

Imo. He never can meet more mischance than come
To the but nam'd of thee. His meanest garment,
That ever hath but clipp'd his body, is dearer
140 In my respect than the hairs above thee,
Were they all made such men.—How now, Pisanio!

Enter PISANIO.

Clo. 'His garment!' Now, the devil—

Imo. To Dorothy my woman hie thee presently—

Clo. 'His garment!'

Imo. I am sprited with a fool,
145 Frighted, and anger'd worse:—go bid my woman
Search for a jewel that too casually
Hath left mine arm: it was thy master's; 'shrew me,
If I would lose it for a revenue
Of any king's in Europe. I do think 150 I saw't this morning: confident I am
Last night 'twas on mine arm; I kiss'd it:
I hope it be not gone to tell my lord
That I kiss aught but he.

Pis. 'Twill not be lost.

Imo. I hope so: go and search. [Exit Pisanio.

Clo. You have abus'd me:—

155 'His meanest garment!'

Imo. Ay, I said so, Sir:
If you will make't an action, call witness to't.

Clo. I will inform your father..

Imo. Your mother too:
She's my good lady; and will conceive, I hope,
But the worst of me. So, I leave you, Sir,
To the worst of discontent. [Exit.

SCENE IV. Rome. Philario's house.Enter POSTHUMUS and PHILARIO.

Post. Fear it not, Sir: I would I were so sure
To win the king, as I am bold her honour
Will remain hers.

Phi. What means do you make to him?

Post. Not any; but abide the change of time;
5 Quake in the present winter's state, and wish
That warmer days would come; in these fear'd hopes,
I barely gratify your love; they failing
I must die much your debtor.

Phi. Your very goodness and your company
10 O'erpays all I can do. By this, your king
Hath heard of great Augustus: Caius Lucius
Will do's commission throughly: and I think
He'll grant the tribute, send the arrearages,
Or look upon our Romans, whose remembrance
15 Is yet fresh in their grief.

Post. I do believe—
Statist though I am none, nor like to be—
That this will prove a war; and you shall hear
The legions now in Gallia sooner landed
In our not-fearing Britain than have tidings
20 Of a penny tribute paid. Our countrymen
Are men more order'd than when Julius Cæsar
Smil'd at their lack of skill, but found their courage
Worthy his frowning at: their discipline,

⁶ hopes F², hope F¹. scar'd Tyrwitt conj.; fear'd hopes = 'hopes dashed with fear'. ¹⁸ legions Theobald, legion F¹. ²⁰ a Ingleby, any F¹.

Now mingled with their courage, will make known 25 To their approvers they are people such
 That mend upon the world.

Enter IACHIMO.

Phi. See! Iachimo!

Post. The swiftest harts have posted you by land;
 And winds of all the corners kiss'd your sails,
 To make your vessel nimble.

Phi. Welcome, Sir.

30 Post. I hope the briefness of your answer made
 The speediness of your return.

Iach. Your lady
 Is one of the fairest that I have look'd upon.

Post. And therewithal the best; or let her beauty
 Look through a casement to allure false hearts,
 35 And be false with them.

Iach. Here are letters for you.

Post. Their tenour good, I trust.

Iach. 'Tis very like.

Phi. Was Caius Lucius in the Britain Court
 When you were there?

Iach. He was expected then,
 But not approach'd.

Post. All is well yet.—
 40 Sparkles this stone as it was wont? or is 't not Too dull for your good wearing?

Iach. If I had lost it,
 I should have lost the worth of it in gold.
 I'll make a journey twice as far, to enjoy
 A second night of such sweet shortness which 45 Was mine in Britain; for the ring is won.

⁴¹ have F¹, had Dyce.

Post. The stone 's too hard to come by.

Iach. Not a whit,
Your lady being so easy.

Post. Make not, Sir,
Your loss your sport: I hope you know that we Must not continue friends.

Iach. Good Sir, we must,
50 If you keep covenant. Had I not brought
The knowledge of your mistress home, I grant
We were to question further: but I now
Profess myself the winner of her honour,
Together with your ring; and not the wronger
55 Of her or you, having proceeded but
By both your wills.

Post. If you can make't apparent
That you have tasted her in bed, my hand
And ring is yours; if not, the foul opinion
You had of her pure honour gains or loses
60 Your sword or mine, or masterless leaves both
To who shall find them.

Iach. Sir, my circumstances,
Being so near the truth as I will make them,
Must first induce you to believe: whose strength
I will confirm with oath; which, I doubt not,
65 You'll give me leave to spare, when you shall find
You need it not.

Post. Proceed.

Iach. First, her bedchamber,—
Where, I confess, I slept not; but profess
Had that was well worth watching,—it was hang'd
With tapestry of silk and silver; the story
70 Proud Cleopatra, when she met her Roman,
And Cydnus swell'd above the banks, or for
The press of boats or pride: a piece of work
So bravely done, so rich, that I did strive

⁷ not F², note F¹.

In workmanship and value; which I wonder'd
 75 Could be so rarely and exactly wrought,
 Since the true life on't was—

Post. This is true;
 And this you might have heard of here, by me,
 Or by some other.

Iach. More particulars
 Must justify my knowledge.

Post. So they must,
 Or do your honour injury.

80 Iach. The chimney
 Is south the chamber; and the chimney-piece
 Chaste Dian bathing: never saw I figures
 So likely to report themselves: the cutter
 Was as an other nature, dumb; outwent her,
 85 Motion and breath left out.

Post. This is a thing
 Which you might from relation likewise reap,
 Being, as it is, much spoke of.

Iach. The roof o' the chamber
 With golden cherubins is fretted: her andirons—
 I had forgot them—were two winking Cupids
 90 Of silver, each on one foot standing, nicely
 Depending on their brands.

Post. This is her honour!—
 Let it be granted you have seen all this—and praise
 Be given to your remembrance,—the description
 Of what is in her chamber nothing saves.
 95 The wager you have laid.

Iach. Then if you can
 Be pale, I beg but leave to air this jewel: see—
[Showing the bracelet.]
 And now 'tis up again: it must be married
 To that your diamond; I'll keep them.

^{95,96} Pointed as in F¹; can, Be pale; Capell.

Post.

Jove!—

Once more let me behold it: is it that
Which I left with her?

100 Iach. Sir,—I thank her,—that:
She stripp'd it from her arm; I see her yet;
Her pretty action did outsell her gift,
And yet enrich'd it too: she gave it me and said
She priz'd it once.

Post. May be she pluck'd it off
To send it me.

105 Iach. She writes so to you, doth she?

Post. O, no, no, no! 'tis true. Here, take this too;
[Gives the ring.]

It is a basilisk unto mine eye,
Kills me to look on't.—Let there be no honour
Where there is beauty; truth, where semblance; love,
110 Where there's another man: the vows of women
Of no more bondage be, to where they are made,
Than they are to their virtues; which is nothing.
O, above measure false!

Phi. Have patience, Sir,
And take your ring again; 'tis not yet won:
115 It may be probable she lost it; or
Who knows if one of her women, being corrupted
Hath stol'n it from her?

Post. Very true;
And so, I hope, he came by't.—Back my ring:
Render to me some corporal sign about her,
120 More evident than this: for this was stolen.

Iach. By Jupiter, I had it from her arm.

Post. Hark you, he swears; by Jupiter he swears.
'Tis true;—nay, keep the ring,—'tis true; I am sure
She would not lose it: her attendants are 125 All sworn and honourable:—they induc'd to steal it!

¹¹⁶ one of her women F², one her women F¹, one, her woman Collier⁽²⁾ (S. Walker conj.).

And by a stranger!—No, he hath enjoy'd her:
The cognizance of her incontinency
Is this,—she hath bought the name of whore thus dearly.—
There, take thy hire; and all the friends of hell
130 Divide themselves between you!

Phi. Sir, be patient:
This is not strong enough to be believ'd
Of one persuaded well of—

Post. Never talk on't;
She hath been colted by him.

Iach. If you seek
For further satisfying, under her breast—
135 Worthy the pressing—lies a mole, right proud
Of that most delicate lodging: by my life,
I kiss'd it; and it gave me present hunger
To feed again, though full. You do remember
This stain upon her?

Post. Ay, and it doth confirm 140 Another stain, as big as hell can hold,
Were there no more but it.

Iach. Will you hear more?

Post. Spare your arithmetic: never count the turns;
Once, and a million!—

Iach. I'll be sworn—

Post. No swearing.
If you will swear you have not done't, you lie;
145 And I will kill thee, if thou dost deny
Thou 'st made me cuckold.

Iach. I'll deny nothing.

Post. O, that I had her here, to tear her limb-meal!
I will go there and do't; i' the court; before
Her father:—I'll do something— [Exit.

Phi. Quite besides
150 The government of patience! You have won:

135 the Rowe, her F¹.144 you lie F¹, you'll lie Ingleby.

Let's follow him, and pervert the present wrath
He hath against himself.

Iach.

With all my heart. [Exeunt.

SCENE V. Another room in Philario's house.

Enter POSTHUMUS.

Post. Is there no way for men to be, but women
Must be half-workers? We are all bastards:
And that most venerable man which I Did call my father, was I know not where 5 When I was stamp'd: some coiner with his tools
Made me a counterfeit: yet my mother seem'd
The Dian of that time: so doth my wife
The nonpareil of this.—O, vengeance, vengeance!—
Me of my lawful pleasure she restrain'd,
10 And pray'd me oft forbearance; did it with
A pudency so rosy, the sweet view on't
Might well have warm'd old Saturn; that I thought her
As chaste as unsunn'd snow:—O, all the devils!—
This yellow Iachimo, in an hour,—was't not?— 15 Or less,—at first?—perchance he spoke not, but,
Like a full-acorn'd boar, a German one,
Cried 'O!' and mounted; found no opposition
But what he look'd for should oppose, and she Should from encounter guard.—Could I find out
20 The woman's part in me! For there's no motion
That tends to vice in man, but I affirm
It is the woman's part: be it lying, note it,
The woman's; flattering, hers; deceiving, hers;

¹⁵¹ pervert = 'avert'. ¹⁵² The scene is continued in F¹, Scene V.
Capell. ¹⁶ a German one Rowe, a Iarmen on F¹.

Lust and rank thoughts, hers, hers; revenges, hers;
25 Ambitions, covetings, change of prides, disdain,
Nice-longing, slanders, mutability,
All faults that have a name, nay, that hell knows,
Why, hers, in part or all; but rather, all;
For even to vice
30 They are not constant, but are changing still
One vice, but of a minute old, for one
Not half so old as that. I'll write against them,
Detest them, curse them:—yet 'tis greater skill
In a true hate, to pray they have their will:
35 The very devils cannot plague them better. [Exit.

SCENE I. Britain. A hall in Cymbeline's palace.

Enter in state, CYMBELINE, QUEEN, CLOTEN, and Lords at one door, and at another, CAIUS LUCIUS and Attendants.

Cym. Now say, what would Augustus Cæsar with us?

Luc. When Julius Cæsar—whose remembrance yet
Lives in men's eyes, and will to ears and tongues
Be theme and hearing ever—was in this Britain
5 And conquer'd it, Cassibelan, thine uncle,—
Famous in Cæsar's praises, no whit less
Than in his feats deserving it,—for him
And his succession granted Rome a tribute,
Yearly three thousand pounds; which by thee lately
Is left untender'd.

10 Queen. And, to kill the marvel,
Shall be so ever.

Clo. There be many Cæsars,
Ere such another Julius. Britain is A world by itself; and we will nothing pay
For wearing our own noses.

Queen. That opportunity
15 Which then they had to take from's, to resume

We have again.—Remember, Sir, my liege,
The kings your ancestors; together with
The natural bravery of your isle, which stands
As Neptune's park, ribbed and paled in 20 With rocks unscaleable and roaring waters;
With sands that will not bear your enemies' boats,
But suck them up to the topmast. A kind of conquest Cæsar made here; but made not here his brag of 'Came' and 'saw' and 'overcame:' with shame—
25 The first that ever touch'd him—he was carried
From off our coast, twice beaten; and his shipping—
Poor ignorant baubles!—on our terrible seas,
Like egg-shells mov'd upon their surges, crack'd
As easily 'gainst our rocks: for joy whereof
30 The fam'd Cassibelan, who was once at point—
O giglot fortune!—to master Cæsar's sword,
Made Lud's town with rejoicing fires bright,
And Britons strut with courage.

Clo. Come, there 's no more tribute to be paid: our 35 kingdom is stronger than it was at that time; and, as I said, there is no moe such Cæsars: other of them may have crook'd noses, but to owe such straight arms, none.

Cym. Son, let your mother end.

40 Clo. We have yet many among us can gripe as hard as Cassibelan: I do not say I am one; but I have a hand.—Why tribute? why should we pay tribute? If Cæsar can hide the sun from us with a blanket, or put the moon in his pocket, we will pay him tribute for 45 light; else, Sir, no more tribute, pray you now.

Cym. You must know,
Till the injurious Romans did extort
This tribute from us, we were free: Cæsar's ambition,—
50 Which swell'd so much, that it did almost stretch

²⁰ rocks Hanmer, (Seward conj.) Oakes F¹. ³³ Britons Hanmer, Britaines F¹.

The sides o' the world,—against all colour here
 Did put the yoke upon's; which to shake off
 Becomes a warlike people, whom we reckon
 Ourselves to be. We do say, then, to Cæsar, 55 Our ancestor was that Mulmutius which Ordain'd our laws,—whose use the sword of Cæsar
 Hath too much mangled; whose repair and franchise
 Shall by the power we hold, be our good deed, Though Rome be therefore angry:—Mulmutius made our laws,

60 Who was the first of Britain which did put His brows within a golden crown, and call'd himself a king.

Luc. I am sorry, Cymbeline,
 That I am to pronounce Augustus Cæsar—
 Cæsar, that hath more kings his servants than 65 Thyself domestic officers—thine enemy:
 Receive it from me, then:— war and confusion
 In Cæsar's name pronounce I 'gainst thee: look
 For fury not to be resisted.—Thus defied,
 I thank thee for myself.

Cym. Thou art welcome, Caius.
 70 Thy Cæsar knighted me; my youth I spent Much under him; of him I gather'd honour:
 Which he to seek of me again, perforce,
 Behoves me keep at utterance. I am perfect
 That the Pannonians and the Dalmatians for 75 Their liberties are now in arms,—a precedent
 Which not to read would show the Britons cold:
 So Cæsar shall not find them.

Luc. Let proof speak.

⁵⁴ We do say Malone, be, we do. Say F¹, be. Clo. We do.
Cym. Say Dyce, be. Clo. and Lords. We do. Cym. Say Globe and Camb. Edit. ⁷³ at utterance—'ready to be put out, or staked, like money at interest, and therefore, ready to be championed and fought for.' (Ingleby).

Clo. His Majesty bids you welcome. Make pastime with us a day our two, or longer: if you seek us afterwards in other terms, you shall find us in our salt-water girdle: if you beat us out of it, it is yours; if you fall in the adventure, our crows shall fare the better for you; and there's an end.

Luc. So, Sir.

85 Cym. I know your master's pleasure and he mine:
All the remain is, 'Welcome!' [Exeunt.

SCENE II. Another room in the palace.

Enter PISANIO, with a letter.

Pis. How! of adultery? Wherefore write you not What monster 's her accuser?—Leonatus!
O master! what a strange infection
Is fallen into thy ear! What false Italian,
5 As poisonous-tongu'd as handed, hath prevail'd
On thy too ready hearing?—Disloyal! No:
She 's punish'd for the truth; and undergoes,
More goddess-like, than wifelike, such assaults
As would take in some virtue.—O my master!
10 Thy mind to her is now as low as were
Thy fortunes.—How! that I should murder her?
Upon the love, and truth, and vows, which I
Have made to thy command?—I, her?—her blood?
If it be so to do good service, never 15 Let me be counted serviceable. How look I,
That I should seem to lack humanity
So much as this fact comes to? [Reading] 'Do 't: the 20 Black as the ink that's on thee! Senseless bauble,

 Art thou a feodary for this act, and look'st
 So virgin-like without?—Lo, here she comes.
 I am ignorant in what I am commanded.

Enter IMOGEN.

Imo. How now, Pisanio!

25 Pis. Madam, here is a letter from my lord.

Imo. Who? thy lord? that is my lord,—Leonatus!
 O, learn'd indeed were that astronomer
 That knew the stars as I his characters;
 He'd lay the future open.—You good gods,
 30 Let what is here contain'd relish of love
 Of my lord's health, of his content,—yet not
 That we two are asunder,—let that grieve him,—
 Some griefs are med'cinable; that is one of them,
 For it doth physic love;—of his content,
 35 All but in that!—Good wax, thy leave:—blest be
 You bees that make these locks of counsel! Lovers,
 And men in dangerous bonds, pray not alike:
 Though forfeiters you cast in prison, yet
 You clasp young Cupid's tables.—Good news, gods!

40 [Reads]. '*Justice, and your father's wrath, should he take me in his dominion, could not be so cruel to me, as you, O the dearest of creatures, would even renew me with your eyes. Take notice that I am in Cambria, at Milford-Haven: what your own love will, out of this, advise you,

50 O, for a horse with wings!— Hear'st thou, Pisanio?
 He is at Milford-Haven: read, and tell me
 How far 'tis thither. If one of mean affairs
 May plod it in a week, why may not I
 Glide thither in a day?—Then, true Pisanio,—
 55 Who long'st, like me, to see thy lord; who long'st,—
 O, let me bate,—put not like me;—yet long'st,—
 But in a fainter kind;—O, not like me;
 For mine's beyond beyond,—say, and speak thick;—
 Love's counsellor should fill the bores of hearing, 60 To the smothering of the sense,—how far it is
 To this same blessed Milford: and, by the way
 Tell me how Wales was made so happy as
 To inherit such a haven: but, first of all,
 How we may steel from hence; and for the gap
 65 That we shall make in time, from our hence-going
 And our return, to excuse:—but first, how get hence:
 Why should excuse be born or e'er begot?
 We'll talk of that hereafter. Prithee, speak,
 How many score of miles may we well ride
 70 'Twixt hour and hour?

Pis.

One score 'twixt sun and sun,
 Madam, 's enough for you: [Aside] and too much too.

Imo.

Why, one that rode to's execution, man,
 Could never go so slow: I have heard of riding wagers,
 Where horses have been nimbler than the sands
 75 That run i' the clock's behalf:—but this is foolery:—
 Go bid my woman feign a sickness; say
 She'll home to her father: and provide me presently
 A riding-suit, no costlier than would fit
 A franklin's housewife.

Pis.

Madam, you're best consider.

 Accessible is none but Milford way. [Exeunt.]

SCENE III. Wales: a mountainous country with a cave.

Enter, from the cave, BELARIUS; GUIDERIUS; and ARVIRAGUS following.

Bel. A goodly day not to keep house, with such Whose roof's as low as ours! Stoop, boys: this gate
 Instructs you how to adore the heavens, and bows you
 To a morning's holy office: the gates of monarchs
 5 Are arch'd so high, that giants may jet through
 And keep their impious turbans on, without Good morrow to the sun,—Hail, thou fair heaven!
 We house i' the rock, yet use thee not so hardly
 As prouder livers do.

Gui. Hail, heaven!

Arv. Hail, heaven!

10 Bel. Now for our mountain sport: up to yond hill;
 Your legs are young; I'll tread these flats. Consider,
 When you above perceive me like a crow,
 That it is place which lessens and sets off;
 And you may then revolve what tales I have told you 15 Of courts, of princes, of the tricks in war:
 This service is not service, so being done,
 But being so allow'd: to apprehend thus,
 Draws us a profit of all things we see;
 And often, to our comfort, shall we find

 Is nobler than attending for a check,
 Richer than doing nothing for a babe
 Prouder than rustling in unpaid-for silk:
 25 Such gains the cap of him, that makes him fine,
 Yet keeps his book uncross'd: no life to ours.

Gui. Out of your proof you speak: we, poor unfledg'd,
 Have never wing'd from view o' the nest, nor know not What air's from home. Haply this life is best,
 30 If quiet life be best; sweeter to you
 That have a sharper known; well corresponding With your stiff age: but unto us it is
 A cell of ignorance: travelling a-bed;
 A prison for a debtor, that not dares
 35 To stride a limit.

Arv. What should we speak of
 When we are old as you? when we shall hear
 The rain and wind beat dark December, how,
 In this our pinching cave, shall we discourse
 The freezing hours away? We have seen nothing:
 40 We are beastly; subtle as the fox for prey;
 Like warlike as the wolf for what we eat:
 Our valour is to chase what flies; our cage
 We make a quire, as doth the prison'd bird,
 And sing our bondage freely.

Bel. How you speak!
 45 Did you but know the city's usuries
 And felt them knowingly: the art o' the court,
 As hard to leave as keep: whose top to climb
 Is certain falling, or so slippery that

 As record of fair act; nay, many times,
 Doth ill deserve by doing well: what's worse,
 55 Must court'sy at the censure: O boys, this story
 The world may read in me: my body's mark'd
 With Roman swords; and my report was once
 First with the best of note: Cymbeline lov'd me;
 And when a soldier was the theme, my name
 60 Was not far off: then was I as a tree
 Whose boughs did bend with fruit: but in one night,
 A storm or robbery, call it what you will,
 Shook down my mellow hangings, nay, my leaves,
 And left me bare to weather.

Gui.

Uncertain favour!

65 Bel. My fault being nothing,—as I have told you oft,—
 But that two villains, whose false oaths prevail'd
 Before my perfect honour, swore to Cymbeline
 I was confederate with the Romans: so,
 Follow'd by banishment; and this twenty years,
 70 This rock and these demesnes have been my world:
 Where I have liv'd at honest freedom: paid
 More pious debts to heaven than in all
 The fore-end of my time.—But, up to the mountains!
 This is not hunters' language:—he that strikes
 75 The venison first shall be the lord o' the feast;
 To him the other two shall minister;
 And we will fear no poison, which attends
 In place of greater state. I'll meet you in the valleys.

[Exeunt Guiderius and Arviragus.]

How hard it is to hide the sparks of nature!

 The heir of Cymbeline and Britain, who
 The king his father call'd Guiderius,—Jove!
 When on my three-foot stool I sit, and tell
 90 The warlike feats I have done, his spirits fly out
 Into my story: say 'Thus mine enemy fell,
 And thus I set my foot on's neck;' even then
 The princely blood flows in his cheek, he sweats,
 Strains his young nerves, and puts himself in posture
 95 That acts my words. The younger brother, Cadwal,
 Once Arviragus,—in as like a figure,
 Strikes life into my speech, and shows much more
 His own conceiving.—Hark, the game is rous'd!—
 O Cymbeline! heaven and my conscience knows
 100 Thou didst unjustly banish me: whereon,
 At three and two years old, I stole these babes;
 Thinking to bar thee of succession, as Thou reft'st me of my lands. Euriphile,
 Thou wast their nurse; they took thee for their mother,
 And every day do honour to her grave:
 105 Myself, Belarius, that am Morgan call'd,
 They take for natural father.—The game is up. [Exit.

SCENE IV. Country near Milford-Haven.

 Where is Posthúmus? What is in thy mind,
 5 That makes thee stare thus? Wherefore breaks that sigh
 From the inward of thee? One, but painted thus,
 Would be interpreted a thing perplex'd
 Beyond self-explication; put thyself
 Into a haviour of less fear, ere wildness
 10 Vanquish my staid senses. What's the matter?
 Why tender'st thou that paper to me, with
 A look untender? If't be summer news,
 Smile to't before: if winterly, thou need'st
 But keep that countenance still.—My husband's hand!
 15 That drug-damn'd Italy hath out-craftied him,
 And he's at some hard point.—Speak, man: thy tongue
 May take off some extremity, which to read
 Would be even mortal to me.

Pis. Please you, read;
 20 And you shall find me, wretched man, a thing
 The most disdain'd of fortune.

Imo. [Reads] *'Thy mistress, Pisanio, hath played the

Imo. False to his bed! What is it to be false?
To lie in watch there, and to think on him?
To weep 'twixt clock and clock? if sleep charge nature,
45 To break with a fearful dream of him,
And cry myself awake? that's false to's bed, is it?

Pis. Alas, good lady!

Imo. I false! Thy conscience witness:—Iachimo
Thou didst accuse him of incontinency;
50 Thou then look'dst like a villain; now, methinks,
Thy favour's good enough.—Some jay of Italy
Whose mother was her painting, hath betray'd him:
Poor I am stale, a garment out of fashion;
And, for I am richer than to hang by the walls,
55 I must be ripp'd:—to pieces with me!—O,
Men's vows are women's traitors! All good seeming,
By thy revolt, O husband, shall be thought
Put on for villany; not born where't grows,
But worn a bait for ladies.

Pis. Good Madam, hear me.

60 Imo. True honest men being heard, like false Æneas,
Were, in his time, thought false; and Sinon's weeping
Did scandal many a holy tear, took pity
From most true wretchedness: so thou, Posthúmus,
Wilt lay the leaven on all proper men;
65 Goodly and gallant shall be false and perjur'd
From thy great fail.—Come, fellow, be thou honest:
Do thou thy master's bidding: when thou see'st him,
A little witness my obedience: look!
I draw the sword myself: take it and hit

⁴⁶ false F², falfe F¹. ⁵² On this passage, see Ingleby, note ad loc.

70 The innocent mansion of my love, my heart:
 Fear not; 'tis empty of all things but grief:
 Thy master is not there, who was, indeed,
 The riches of it: do his bidding; strike,
 Thou mayst be valiant in a better cause;
 75 But now seem'st a coward.

Pis. Hence, vile instrument!

Thou shalt not damn my hand.

Imo. Why, I must die;

And if I do not by thy hand, thou art
 No servant of thy master's. Against self-slaughter
 There is a prohibition so divine
 80 That cravens my weak hand. Come, here's my heart:—
 Something's afore't:—soft, soft! we'll no defence;
 Obedient as the scabbard.—What is here?
 The scriptures of the loyal Leonatus,
 All turn'd to heresy? Away, away,
 85 Corrupters of my faith! you shall no more
 Be stomachers to my heart. Thus may poor fools
 Believe false teachers: though those that are betray'd
 Do feel the reason sharply, yet the traitor
 Stands in worse case of woe. And thou, Posthúmus, 90 That didst set up
 My disobedience 'gainst the king my father,
 And make me put into contempt the suits
 Of princely fellows, shalt hereafter find
 It is no act of common passage, but 95 A strain of rareness: and I grieve myself
 To think, when thou shalt be disedg'd by her
 That now thou tir'st on, how thy memory
 Will then be pang'd by me.—Prithee, dispatch:
 The lamb entreats the butcher: where's thy knife?

100 Thou art too slow to do thy master's bidding,
When I desire it too.

Pis. O gracious lady,
Since I receiv'd command to do this business
I have not slept one wink.

Imo. Do't, and to bed then.

Pis. I'll wake my eye-balls out first.

Imo. Wherefore, then,
105 Didst undertake it? Why hast thou abus'd
So many miles with a pretence? this place?
Mine action and thine own? our horses' labour?
The time inviting thee? the perturb'd court
For my being absent? whereunto I never 110 Purpose return. Why hast thou gone so far,
To be unbent when thou hast ta'en thy stand,
The elected deer before thee?

Pis. But to win time
To lose so bad employment; in the which I have consider'd of a course. Good lady,
115 Hear me with patience.

Imo. Talk thy tongue weary; speak:
I have heard I am a strumpet; and mine ear,
Therein false struck, can take no greater wound,
Nor tent to bottom that. But speak.

Pis. Then, Madam,
I thought you would not back again.

Imo. Most like,
120 Bringing me here to kill me.

Pis. Not so, neither:
But if I were as wise as honest, then
My purpose would prove well. It cannot be
But that my master is abus'd:
Some villain, ay, and singular in his art,
125 Hath done you both this cursed injury,

¹⁰⁴ eye-balls out first Johnson conj., eye-balls first F¹, eye-balls blind first Hanmer.

Imo. Some Roman courtezan—

Pis. No, on my life.

I'll give but notice you are dead, and send him
Some bloody sign of it; for 'tis commanded
I should do so: you shall be miss'd at court,
And that will confirm it.

130 Imo. Why, good fellow,
What shall I do the while? where bide? how live?
Or in my life what comfort, when I am
Dead to my husband?

Pis. If you'll back to the court,—

Imo. No court, no father; nor no more ado
135 With that harsh, noble, simple nothing,
That Cloten, whose love-suit hath been to me
As fearful as a siege.

Pis. If not at court,
Then not in Britain must you bide.

Imo. Where then?
Hath Britain all the sun that shines? Day, night,
140 Are they not but in Britain? I' the world's volume
Our Britain seems as of it, but not in't;
In a great pool a swan's nest: prithee, think
There's livers out of Britain.

Pis. I am most glad
You think of other place. The ambassador,
145 Lucius the Roman, comes to Milford-Haven
To-morrow: now, if you could wear a mind
Dark as your fortune is, and but disguise
That which, to appear itself, must not yet be
But by self-danger, you should tread a course 150 Pretty and full of view; yea, happily, near

The residence of Posthumus,— so nigh at least
That though his actions were not visible, yet
Report should render him hourly to your ear
As truly as he moves.

Imo. O, for such means!

¹⁵⁵ Though peril to my modesty, not death on't,
I would adventure.

Pis. Well, then, here's the point:

You must forget to be a woman; change
Command into obedience; fear and niceness—
The handmaids of all women, or, more truly,
¹⁶⁰ Woman it pretty self—into a waggish courage;
Ready in gibes, quick-answer'd, saucy, and
As quarrelous as the weasel; nay, you must Forget that rarest treasure of your cheek,
Exposing it—but, O, the harder heart!
¹⁶⁵ Alack, no remedy!—to the greedy touch
Of common-kissing Titan; and forget
Your laboursome and dainty trims, wherein
You made great Juno angry.

Imo. Nay, be brief:

I see into thy end, and am almost
A man already.

¹⁷⁰ Pis. First, make yourself but like one.
Fore-thinking this, I have already fit—
'Tis in my cloak-bag—doublet, hat, hose, all
That answer to them: would you, in their serving,
And with what imitation you can borrow
¹⁷⁵ From youth of such a season, 'fore noble Lucius
Present yourself, desire his service, tell him
Wherein you're happy,—which will make him know,
If that his head have ear in music,—doubtless
With joy he will embrace you; for he's honourable ¹⁸⁰ And, doubling that, most holy. Your means abroad,

¹⁶⁰ it—'its.' ¹⁶⁴ heart F¹, hap Theobald (Warburton). ¹⁷⁷ happy—
'accomplished.'—will F¹, you'll Hanmer.

You have me, rich; and I will never fail
Beginning nor supplyment.

Imo. Thou art all the comfort
The gods will diet me with. Prithee, away:
There's more to be consider'd; but we'll even 185 All that good time will give us: this attempt
I am soldier to, and will abide it with
A prince's courage. Away, I prithee.

Pis. Well, Madam, we must take a short farewell,
Lest being miss'd, I be suspected of 190 Your carriage from the court. My noble mistress,
Here is a box; I had it from the queen:
What's in't is precious; if you are sick at sea,
Or stomach-qualm'd at land, a dram of this
Will drive away distemper.—To some shade,
195 And fit you to your manhood:—May the gods
Direct you to the best!

Imo. Amen: I thank thee. [Exeunt, severally.]

SCENE V. A room in Cymbeline's palace.

Enter CYMBELINE, QUEEN, CLOTEN, LUCIUS, Lords, and Attendants.

Cym. Thus far; and so farewell.

Luc. Thanks, royal Sir.
My emperor hath wrote; I must from hence;
And am right sorry that I must report ye
My master's enemy.

Gym. Our subjects, Sir,
5 Will not endure his yoke; and for ourself

¹⁸⁴ we'll even all = 'we'll do even all' (Ingleby), or, = 'we'll settle all' (Nicholson).— Scena Quinta. F¹.

To show less sovereignty than they, must needs
Appear unkinglike.

Luc. So, Sir: I desire of you

A conduct over-land to Milford-Haven:

Madam, all joy befall your Grace, and you!

¹⁰ Gym. My lords, you are appointed for that office;
The due of honour in no point omit.—
So farewell noble Lucius.

Luc. Your hand, my lord.

Glo. Receive it friendly; but from this time forth
I wear it as your enemy.

Luc. Sir, the event

¹⁵ Is yet to name the winner: fare you well.

Gym. Leave not the worthy Lucius, good my lords,
Till he have cross'd the Severn.—Happiness!

[Exeunt Lucius and Lords.]

Queen. He goes hence frowning: but it honours us
That we have given him cause.

Glo. 'Tis all the better;

²⁰ Your valiant Britons have their wishes in it.

Gym. Lucius has wrote already to the emperor
How it goes here. It fits us therefore ripely

Our chariots and horsemen be in readiness:

The powers that he already hath in Gallia

²⁵ Will soon be drawn to head, from whence he moves
His war for Britain.

Queen. 'Tis not sleepy business;

But must be look'd to speedily and strongly.

Gym. Our expectation that it would be thus Hath made us forward. But, my gentle queen,

³⁰ Where is our daughter? She hath not appear'd
Before the Roman, nor to us hath tender'd

The duty of the day: she looks us like

A thing more made of malice, than of duty:

⁹ So F¹; and yours! Capell, grace! Queen. And you! Camb. Edd.,
—and you. [to Cloten.] Anon conj. ³² looks Johnson, looke F¹.

We have noted it.—Call her before us; for 35 We have been too slight in sufferance. [Exit an Attendant.]

Queen. Royal Sir,
 Since the exile of Posthúmus, most retir'd
 Hath her life been; the cure whereof, my lord,
 'Tis time must do. Beseech your Majesty,
 Forbear sharp speeches to her: she's a lady
 40 So tender of rebukes, that words are strokes,
 And strokes death to her.

Re-enter Attendant.

Gym. Where is she, Sir? How
 Can her contempt be answer'd?

Atten. Please you, Sir,
 Her chambers are all lock'd; and there's no answer
 That will be given to the loudest noise we make.

45 Queen. My lord, when last I went to visit her,
 She pray'd me to excuse her keeping close;
 Whereto constrain'd by her infirmity,
 She should that duty leave unpaid to you,
 Which daily she was bound to proffer: this 50 She wish'd me to make known; but our great court
 Made me to blame in memory.

Gym. Her doors lock'd?
 Not seen of late? Grant, heavens, that which I fear
 Prove false!

Queen. Son, I say, follow the king.

Clot. That man of hers, Pisanio, her old servant,
 55 I have not seen these two days.

Queen. Go, look after. [Exit Cloten.]
 Pisanio, thou that stand'st so for Posthúmus!—
 He hath a drug of mine; I pray his absence
 Proceed by swallowing that; for he believes

⁴⁰ strokes, F², stroke; F¹.

⁴¹ sir F¹, sirrah Ingleby conj.

⁴⁴ loudest Rowe, lowd of F¹, loud'st of Capell, loud Collier ⁽¹⁾.

It is a thing most precious. But for her,
60 Where is she gone? Haply, despair hath seiz'd her;
Or, wing'd with fervour of her love, she's flown,
To her desir'd Posthúmus: gone she is
To death or to dishonour; and my end
Can make good use of either: she being down,
65 I have the placing of the British crown.

Re-enter CLOTEN.

How now, my son!

Glo. 'Tis certain she is fled.
Go in and cheer the king: he rages; none
Dare come about him.

Queen. [Aside] All the better: may
This night forestall him for the coming day! [Exit.

70 Glo. I love and hate her: for she's fair and royal,
And that she hath all courtly parts more exquisite
Than lady, ladies, woman; from every one
The best she hath, and she, of all compounded, Outsells them all,—I love her therefore: but 75 Disdaining me and throwing favours on
The low Posthúmus slanders so her judgment
That what's else rare is chok'd; and in that point
I will conclude to hate her, nay, indeed,
To be reveng'd upon her. For when fools
80 Shall—

Enter PISANIO.

Who is here? What, are you packing, Sirrah?
Come hither: ah, you precious pandar! Villain,
Where is thy lady? In a word; or else
Thou art straightway with the fiends.

Pis.

O, good my lord!—

⁷¹ that she hath F¹, hath Ingleby conj.

Glo. Where is thy lady? or, by Jupiter,
 85 I will not ask again. Close villain,
 I'll have this secret from thy heart, or rip
 Thy heart to find it. Is she with Posthúmus?
 From whose so many weights of baseness cannot
 A dram of worth be drawn.

Pis. Alas, my lord,
 90 How can she be with him? When was she miss'd?
 He is in Rome.

Glo. Where is she, Sir? Come nearer;
 No further halting: satisfy me home
 What is become of her.

Pis. O, my all-worthy lord!—

Glo. All-worthy villain!
 95 Discover, where thy mistress is at once,
 At the next word,—no more of 'worthy lord!'
 Speak, or thy silence on the instant is Thy condemnation and thy death.

Pis. Then, Sir,
 This paper is the history of my knowledge
 100 Touching her flight. [Presenting a letter.]

Glo. Let's see't.—I will pursue her
 Even to Augustus' throne.

Pis. [Aside.] Or this, or perish.
 She's far enough; and what he learns by this,
 May prove his travel, not her danger.

Glo. Humph!

Pis. [Aside.] I'll write to my lord she's dead. O
 Imogen,
 105 Safe mayst thou wander, safe return again!

Glo. Sirrah, is this letter true?

Pis. Sir, as I think.

Glo. It is Posthumus' hand; I know't.—Sirrah, if thou wouldst not be a villain, but do me true service,

¹⁰¹ Or . . . perish assigned to Pis. by F¹, to Glo. by Johnson.
¹⁰³ Humph! Johnson, Humh F¹, Hum! Dyce.

110 undergo those employments wherein I should have cause to use thee with a serious industry, — that is, what villany soe'er I bid thee do, to perform it directly and truly, — I would think thee an honest man: thou shouldst neither want my means for thy relief, nor my voice for 115 thy preferment.

Pis. Well, my good lord.

Glo. Wilt thou serve me? — for since patiently and constantly thou hast stuck to the bare fortune of that beggar Posthumus, thou canst not, in the course of 120 gratitude, but be a diligent follower of mine — wilt thou serve me?

Pis. Sir, I will.

Glo. Give me thy hand; here's my purse. Hast any of thy late master's garments in thy possession?

125 Pis. I have, my lord, at my lodging, the same suit he wore when he took leave of my lady and mistress.

Glo. The first service thou dost me, fetch that suit hither: let it be thy first service; go.

Pis. I shall, my lord.

[Exit.

130 Glo. Meet thee at Milford-Haven! — I forgot to ask him one thing; I'll remember't anon: — even there, thou villain Posthumus, will I kill thee. — I would these garments were come. She said upon a time — the bitterness of it I now belch from my heart — that she held 135 the very garment of Posthumus in more respect than my noble and natural person, together with the adornment of my qualities. With that suit upon my back, will I ravish her: first kill him, and in her eyes; there shall she see my valour, which will then be a torment to 140 her contempt. He on the ground, my speech of insult-ment ended on his dead body, and when my lust hath dined, — which, as I say, to vex her I will execute in the clothes that she so praised, — to the court I'll knock her back, foot her home again. She hath despised me 145 rejoicingly, and I'll be merry in my revenge.

Re-enter PISANIO with the clothes.

Be those the garments?

Pis. Ay, my noble lord.

Glo. How long is't since she went to Milford-Haven?

150 Pis. She can scarce be there yet.

Glo. Bring this apparel to my chamber; that is the second thing that I have commanded thee: the third is, that thou wilt be a voluntary mute to my design. Be but duteous and true, preferment shall tender itself to 155 thee.—My revenge is now at Milford: would I had wings to follow it!—Come, and be true. [Exit.

Pis. Thou bid'st me to my loss: for, true to thee Were to prove false, which I will never be To him that is most true.—To Milford go, 160 And find not her whom thou pursu'st.—Flow, flow, You heavenly blessings, on her!—This fool's speed Be cross'd with slowness; labour be his meed! [Exit.

SCENE VI. Wales. Before the cave of Belarius.

Enter IMOGEN in boy's clothes.

Imo. I see a man's life is a tedious one:
I have tir'd myself; and for two nights together
Have made the ground my bed. I should be sick,
But that my resolution helps me.—Milford,
5 When from the mountain-top Pisanio show'd thee,
Thou wast within a ken: O Jove! I think
Foundations fly the wretched; such, I mean,
Where they should be reliev'd. Two beggars told me
I could not miss my way: will poor folks lie,

¹⁵⁴ duteous and true, S. Walker, dutious, and true F¹. — Scena Sexta. F¹.—

- 10 That have afflictions on them, knowing 'tis
A punishment or trial? Yes; no wonder,
When rich ones scarce tell true . To lapse in fulness
Is sorer than to lie for need; and falsehood
Is worse in kings than beggars.—My dear lord!
15 Thou art one o' the false ones: now I think on thee
My hunger's gone; but even before, I was
At point to sink for food.—But what is this?
Here is a path to't: 'tis some savage hold:
I were best not call; I dare not call: yet famine,
20 Ere clean it o'erthrow nature, makes it valiant.
Plenty and peace breeds cowards; hardness ever
Of hardness is mother.—Ho! who's here?
If anything that's civil, speak; if savage,
Take or lend. Ho! No answer? Then I'll enter.
25 Best draw my sword; and if mine enemy
But fear the sword like me, he'll scarcely look on't.
Such a foe, good heavens! Exit, to the cave.

Enter BELARIUS, GUIDERIUS, and ARVIRAGUS.

- Bel.* You, Polydore, have prov'd best woodman and Are master of the feast: Cadwal and I
30 Will play the cook and servant; 'tis our match:
The sweat of industry would dry and die,
But for the end it works to. Come, our stomachs
Will make what's homely savoury: weariness
Can snore upon the flint, when resty sloth
35 Finds the down pillow hard.—Now, peace be here,
Poor house, that keep'st thyself!

Gui. I am thoroughly weary.

Arv. I am weak with toil, yet strong in appetite.

- Gui.* There is cold meat i' the cave; we'll browse on that,
40 Whilst what we have kill'd be cook'd.

Bel. [Looking into the cave] Stay; come not in.

But that it eats our victuals, I should think
Here were a fairy.

Gui. What's the matter, Sir?

Bel. By Jupiter, an angel! or, if not,
45 An earthly paragon!—Behold divineness
No elder than a boy!

Re-enter IMOGEN.

Imo. Good masters, harm me not:
Before I enter'd here, I call'd; and thought
To have begg'd or bought, what I have took: good troth,
I have stol'n nought, nor would not, though I had found
50 Gold strew'd i' the floor. Here's money for my meat:
I would have left it on the board, so soon
As I had made my meal; and parted
With prayers for the provider.

Gui. Money, youth?

Arv. All gold and siver rather turn to dirt!
55 As 'tis no better reckon'd, but of those Who worship dirty gods.

Imo. I see you're angry:
Know, if you kill me for my fault, I should Have died had I not made it.

Bel. Whither bound?

Imo. To Milford-Haven.

60 Bel. What's your name?

Imo. Fidele, Sir. I have a kinsman who Is bound for Italy; he embark'd at Milford;
To whom being going, almost spent with hunger,
I am fall'n in this offence.

65 Bel. Prithee, fair youth,
Think us no churls, nor measure our good minds
By this rude place we live in. Well encounter'd!
'Tis almost night: you shall have better cheer
Ere you depart; and thanks to stay and eat it.—
Boys, bid him welcome.

70 Gui. Were you a woman, youth,
I should woo hard but be your groom in honesty,
I bid for you as I'd buy.

Arv. I'll make't my comfort
He is a man; I'll love him as my brother:—
And such a welcome as I'd give to him
75 After long absence, such is yours: most welcome!
Be sprightly, for you fall 'mongst friends.

Imo. 'Mongst friends
If brothers.—[Aside] Would it had been so, that they Had been my father's sons! then had my prize
Been less; and so more equal ballasting
To thee, Posthúmus.

Bel. He wrings at some distress.

80 Gui. Would I could free't!

Arv. Or I, whate'er it be,
What pain, it cost, what danger! Gods!

Bel. Hark, boys. [Whispering.]

Imo. Great men,
That had a court no bigger than this cave,
85 That did attend themselves, and had the virtue
Which their own conscience seal'd them,—laying by
That nothing-gift of differing multitudes,—
Could not out-peer these twain. Pardon me, gods!
I'd change my sex to be companion with them,
Since Leonatus's false.

90 Bel. It shall be so.
Boys, we'll go dress our hunt.—Fair youth, come in:
Discourse is heavy, fasting; when we have supp'd,
We'll mannerly demand thee of thy story,
So far as thou wilt speak it.

Gui. Pray, draw near.

⁷⁰ groom, in honesty: I F¹, groom. In honesty I Steevens (Tyrwhitt conj.) ⁷¹ I...as I do buy F¹. Ay, . . . as I'd buy Ingleby conj., as I'd buy Steevens (Tyrwhitt conj.), as I'd buy Camb. Ed.

Arv. The night to the owl, and morn to the lark, less welcome.

95 Imo. Thanks, Sir.

Arv. I pray, draw near. [Exeunt.]

SCENE VII. Rome. A public place.

Enter two Senators and Tribunes.

First Sen. This is the tenour of the emperor's writ,—
That since the common men are now in action
'Gainst the Pannonians and Dalmatians;
And that the legions now in Gallia are 5 Full weak to undertake our wars against
The fall'n-off Britons; that we do incite
The gentry to his business. He creates
Lucius proconsul: and to you the tribunes,
For this immediate levy, he commands
10 His absolute commission. Long live Cæsar!

First Tri. Is Lucius general of the forces?

Sec. Sen. Ay.

First Tri. Remaining now in Gallia?

First Sen. With those legions
Wich I have spoke of, whereunto your levy
Must be supplyant: the words of your commission
15 Will tie you to the numbers, and the time
Of their dispatch.

First Tri. We will discharge our duty. [Exeunt.]

⁹⁶ Exeunt. Scena Octava. ⁹ commands F¹, commends Theobald.
¹⁴ supplyant Capell, suppliant F¹.

A C T IV.

SCENE I. Wales: near the cave of Belarius.Enter CLOTEN.

Glo. I am near the place where they should meet, if Pisanio have mapped it truly. How fit his garments serve me! Why should his mistress, who was made by him that made the tailor, not be fit too? the rather—
5 saving reverence of the word—for 'tis said a woman's fitness comes by fits. Therein I must play the workman. I dare speak it to myself,—for it is not vain-glory for a man and his glass to confer in his own chamber—I mean, the lines of my body are as well drawn as his;
10 no less young, more strong, not beneath him in fortunes, beyond him in the advantage of the time, above him in birth, alike conversant in general services, and more remarkable in single oppositions: yet this imperseverant thing loves him in my despite. What mortality is!
15 Posthumus, thy head, which now is growing upon thy shoulders, shall within this hour be off; thy mistress enforced; thy garments cut to pieces before thy face:

Actus Quartus. Scena Prima. F¹. ¹³ imperseverant = 'undiscerning'. (Ingleby), or, 'most obstinate.' (Nicholson). ¹⁷ thy face F¹, her face Hanmer (Warburton).

and all this done, spurn her home to her father; who may haply be a little angry for my so rough usage; 20 but my mother, having power of her testiness, shall turn all into my commendations. My horse is tied up safe: out, sword, and to a sore purpose! Fortune put them into my hand! This is the very description of their meeting-place; and the fellow dares not deceive me. [Exit.

SCENE II. Before the cave of Belarius.

Enter, from the cave, BELARIUS, GUIDERIUS, ARVIRAGUS, and IMOGEN.

Bel. [To Imogen] You are not well: remain here in the cave;

We'll come to you after hunting.

Arv. [To Imogen] Brother, stay here:

Are we not brothers?

Imo. So man and man should be;
But clay and clay differs in dignity,
5 Whose dust is both alike. I am very sick.

Gui. Go you to hunting; I'll abide with him.

Imo. So sick I am not,—yet I am not well;
But not so citizen a wanton as
To seem to die ere sick: so please you, leave me;
10 Stick to your journal course: the breach of custom
Is breach of all. I am ill; but your being by me
Cannot amend me; society is no comfort
To one not sociable: I am not very sick,
Since I can reason of it. Pray you, trust me here:
15 I'll rob none but myself; and let me die,
Stealing so poorly.

Gui. I love thee; I have spoke it:

How much the quantity, the weight as much,
As I do love my father.

Bel. What? how! how!

Arv. If it be sin to say so, Sir, I yoke me
20 In my good brother's fault: I know not why
I love this youth; and I have heard you say,
Love's reason 's without reason: the bier at door,
And a demand who is't shall die, I'd say,
'My father, not this youth.'

Bel. [Aside] O noble strain!
25 O worthiness of nature! breed of greatness!
Cowards father cowards, and base things sire base:
Nature hath meal and bran, contempt and grace.
I'm not their father; yet who this should be,
Doth miracle itself, lov'd before me.—

30 'Tis the ninth hour o' the morn.

Arv. Brother, farewell.

Imo. I wish ye sport.

Arv. You health.—So please you, Sir.

Imo. [Aside] These are kind creatures. Gods, what lies I have heard!

Our courtiers say all's savage but at court:

Experience, O, thou disprov'st report!

35 The imperious seas breed monsters; for the dish

Poor tributary rivers as sweet fish.

I am sick still, heart-sick:—Pisanio,

I'll taste of thy drug. [Swallows some.]

Gui. I could not stir him:

He said he was gentle, but unfortunate;

40 Dishonestly afflicted, but yet honest.

Arv. Thus did he answer me: yet said, hereafter
I might no more.

Bel. To the field, to the field!

We'll leave you for this time: go in and rest.

³¹ Arvi. you health. — So please you Sir. F¹, Arv. you health.
Imo. So please you, sir. Tyrwhitt conj.

Arv. We'll not be long away.

Bel. Pray, be not sick,
45 For you must be our houswife.

Imo. Well or ill,
I am bound to you.

Bel. And shalt be ever. [Exit Imogen, to the cave.]
This youth, howe'er distress'd, appears he hath had Good ancestors.

Arv. How angel-like he sings!

Gui. But his neat cookery! he cuts our roots in characters;
50 And sauc'd our broths, as Juno had been sick
And he her dieter.

Arv. Nobly he yokes
A smiling with a sigh,—as if the sigh
Was that it was, for not being such a smile;
The smile mocking the sigh, that it would fly
55 From so divine a temple, to commix
With winds that sailors rail at.

Gui. I do note
That grief and patience, rooted in him both,
Mingle their spurs together.

Arv. Grow patience!
And let the stinking elder, grief, untwine
60 His perishing root with the increasing vine!

Bel. It is great morning. Come, away!—Who's there?

Enter CLOTEN.

Glo. I cannot find those runagates; that villain
Hath mock'd me:—I am faint.

Bel. 'Those runagates!'
Means he not us? I partly know him; 'tis

49-51 he cut . . dieter assigned to Arvi. by F¹. 50 sawc't F² sawc'st F¹. 57 him Pope, them F¹. 58 Grow patience Rowe, Grow, patience! Theobald, Grow patient, F¹. 60 with='from'.

65 Cloten, the son o' the queen. I fear some ambush.
I saw him not these many years, and yet
I know 'tis he.—We are held as outlaws: hence!

Gui. He is but one: you and my brother search
What companies are near: pray you, away;
Let me alone with him. [Exeunt Belarius and Arviragus.

70 Glo. Soft!—What are you
That fly me thus? some villain mountaineers?
I have heard of such.—What slave art thou?

Gui. A thing
More slavish did I ne'er than answering
A 'slave' without a knock.

Glo. Thou art a robber,
75 A law-breaker, a villain: yield thee, thief.

Gui. To who? to thee? What art thou? Have not I
An arm as big as thine? a heart as big?
Thy words, I grant, are bigger; for I wear not My dagger in my mouth. Say what thou art, 80 Why I should yield to thee?

Glo. Thou villain base,
Know'st me not by my clothes?

Gui. No, nor thy tailor, rascal,
Who is thy grandfather: he made those clothes,
Which as it seems, make thee.

Glo. Thou precious varlet,
My tailor made them not.

Gui. Hence, then, and thank 85 The man that gave them thee. Thou art some fool:
I am loath to beat thee.

Glo. Thou injurious thief,
Hear but my name, and tremble.

Gui. What's thy name?

Glo. Cloten, thou villain.

Gui. Cloten, thou double villain, be thy name,

⁷¹ villain mountaineers Malone, villaine-Mountainers F¹. ⁸² grand- father: F², grandfather? F¹.

90 I cannot tremble at it: were it Toad, or Adder, Spider,
'Twould move me sooner.

Glo. To thy further fear,
Nay, to thy mere confusion, thou shalt know
I am son to the queen.

Gui. I am sorry for't; not seeming
So worthy as thy birth.

Glo. Art not afeard?

95 Gui. Those that I reverence those I fear,—the wise:
At fools I laugh, not fear them.

Glo. Die the death:
When I have slain thee with my proper hand,
I'll follow those that even now fled hence,
And on the gates of Lud's-town set your heads:
100 Yield, rustic mountaineer. [Exeunt fighting.]

Re-enter BELARIUS and ARVIRAGUS.

Bel. No companies abroad?

Arv. None in the world; you did mistake him, sure.

Bel. I cannot tell:—long is it since I saw him,
But time hath nothing blurr'd those lines of favour 105 Which then he wore; the snatches in his voice,
And burst of speaking, were as his: I am absolute
'Twas very Cloten.

Arv. In this place we left them:
I wish my brother make good time with him,
You say he is so fell.

Bel. Being scarce made up,
110 I mean, to man, he had not apprehension
Of roaring terrors; for the defect of judgment
Is oft the cause of fear.—But, see, my brother.

¹⁰¹ companies Camb. Ed., Companie's F¹. ^{111,112} So F¹; effect Theobald, defect . . . cure Hanmer conj., defect . . . cease Ingleby conj. Perhaps a line after l. 111 has been lost. — Rolfe explains fear = 'defect of fear.' ¹¹² see, thy Theobald, see thy F¹.

Re-enter GUIDERIUS, with CLOTEN's head.

Gui. This Cloten was a fool, an empty purse,—
There was no money in't: not Hercules
115 Could have knock'd out his brains, for he had none:
Yet I not doing this, the fool had borne
My head as I do his.

Bel. What hast thou done?

Gui. I am perfect what: cut off one Cloten's head,
Son to the queen, after his own report;
120 Who call'd me 'traitor mountaineer'; and swore
With his own single hand he 'ld take us in,
Displace our heads where—thank the gods!—they grow,
And set them on Lud's-town.

Bel. We are all undone.

Gui. Why, worthy father, what have we to lose,
125 But that he swore to take, our lives? The law
Protects not us: then why should we be tender
To let an arrogant piece of flesh threat us,
Play judge and executioner all himself,
For we do fear the law? What company
Discover you abroad?

130 Bel. No single soul
Can we set eye on; but in all safe reason
He must have some attendands. Though his humour
Was nothing but mutation.—ay, and that
From one bad thing to worse; not frenzy, not 135 Absolute madness could so far have rav'd,
To bring him here alone: although, perhaps,
It may be heard at court, that such as we
Cave here, hunt here, are outlaws, and in time
May make some stronger head; the which he hearing—
140 As it is like him—might break out, and swear

120 traitor mountaineer Ingleby, Traitor, Mountaineer F¹ 122 thank Steevens, thanks F¹. 128, 129 himself? . . . the law. F¹, himself? . . .
no law. F². 132 humour Theobald, houor F¹.

He'd fetch us in; yet is't not probable
 To come alone, either he so undertaking,
 Or they so suffering: then on good ground we fear,
 If we do fear this body hath a tail,
 More perilous than the head.

145 Arv. Let ordinance
 Come as the gods forsay it: howsoe'er,
 My brother hath done well.

Bel. I had no mind
 To hunt this day: the boy Fidele's sickness
 Did make my way long forth.

Gui. With his own sword,
 150 Which he did wave against my throat, I have ta'en
 His head from him: I'll throw't into the creek
 Behind our rock; and let it to the sea,
 And tell the fishes he is the queen's son, Cloten:
 That's all I reck. [Exit.]

Bel. I fear 'twill be reveng'd:
 155 Would, Polydore, thou hadst not done't! though valour
 Becomes thee well enough.

Arv. Would I had done't,
 So the revenge alone pursu'd me!—Polydore,
 I love thee brotherly; but envy much
 160 Thou hast robb'd me of this deed: I would revenges,
 That possible strength might meet, would seek us through,
 And put us to our answer.

Bel. Well, 'tis done:—
 We'll hunt no more to-day, nor seek for danger
 Where there's no profit. I prithee, to our rock;
 165 You and Fidele play the cooks: I'll stay
 Till hasty Polydore return, and bring him
 To dinner presently.

Arv. Poor sick Fidele!
 I'll willingly to him: to gain his colour

163 I F¹, Hie Ingleby conj.

I'd let a parish of such Clotens blood,
And praise myself for charity.

[Exit.

Bel. O thou goddess,
170 Thou devine Nature, thou thyself thou blazon'st
In these two princely boys! They are as gentle
As zephyrs, blowing below the violet,
Not wagging his sweet head; and yet as rough,
Their royal blood enchain'd, as the rud'st wind,
175 That by the top doth take the mountain pine,
And make him stoop to the vale. 'Tis wonder
That an invisible instinct should frame them
To royalty unlearn'd; honour untaught;
Civility not seen from other; valour
180 That wildly grows in them, but yields a crop
As if it had been sow'd. Yet still it's strange
What Cloten's being here to us portends,
Or what his death will bring us.

Re-enter GUIDERIUS.

Gui. Where's my brother?
I have sent Cloten's clotpoll down the stream,
185 In embassy to his mother: his body's hostage
For his return. [Solemn music.

Bel. My ingenious instrument!
Hark, Polydore, it sounds! But what occasion
Hath Cadwal now to give it motion? Hark!

Gui. Is he at home?

Bel. He went hence even now.

190 Gui. What does he mean? since death of my dear'st
mother

It did not speak before. All solemn things
Should answer solemn accidents. The matter?
Triumphs for nothing, and lamenting toys,

¹⁷⁰ thou thy selfe F¹, how thyself Pope. ¹⁷⁴ rud'st F¹, rudest
Camb. Ed. ¹⁸⁶ ingenious Rowe, ingenuous F¹.

Is jollity for apes, and grief for boys.
 195 Is Cadwal mad?

Bel. Look, here he comes,
 And brings the dire occasion in his arms
 Of what we blame him for.

Re-enter ARVIRAGUS, with IMOGEN, as dead, bearing her in his arms.

Arv. The bird is dead
 That we have made so much on. I had rather Have skipp'd from sixteen years of age to sixty,
 200 To have turn'd my leaping-time into a crutch,
 Than have seen this.

Gui. O sweetest, fairest lily!
 My brother wears thee not one half so well
 As when thou grew'st thyself.

Bel. O melancholy!
 Who ever yet could sound thy bottom? find
 205 The ooze, to show what coast thy sluggish crare
 Might easiliest harbour in?—Thou blessed thing!
 Jove knows what man thou mightst have made; but ay!
 Thou diedst, a most rare boy, of melancholy!—
 How found you him?

Arv. Stark, as you see:
 210 Thus smiling, as some fly had tickled slumber,
 Not as death's dart, being laugh'd at; his right cheek
 Reposing on a cushion.

Gui. Where?

Arv. O' the floor;
 His arms thus leagu'd: I thought he slept; and put My clouted brogues from off my feet, whose rudeness
 215 Answer'd my steps too loud.

²⁰² one Rowe (2) the one F¹. ²⁰⁵ crare Steevens (Simpson conj.), care F¹. ²⁰⁶ Might easilest F², Mightst easilest F¹. ²⁰⁷ Ay!
 [i. e. Ah!] Nicholson conj., I F¹.

Gui.

Why, he but sleeps:

If he be gone, he'll make his grave a bed;
 With female fairies will his tomb be haunted,
 And worms will not come to thee.

Arv.

With fairest flowers

Whilst summer lasts, and I live here, Fidele, 220 I'll sweeten thy sad grave: thou shalt not lack
 The flower that's like thy face, pale primrose, nor
 The azur'd harebell, like thy veins; no, nor
 The leafy eglantine, whom not to slander,
 Out-sweeten'd not thy breath: the ruddock would,
 225 With charitable bill,—O bill, sore-shaming
 Those rich-left heirs that let their fathers lie
 Without a monument!—bring thee all this;
 Yea, and furr'd moss besides, when flowers are none,
 To winter-ground thy corse.

Gui.

Prithee, have done;

230 And do not play in wench-like words with that
 Which is so serious. Let us bury him,
 And not protract with admiration what
 Is now due debt.—To the grave!

Arv.

Say, where shall's lay him?

Gui. By good Euriphile, our mother.Arv.

Be't so:

235 And let us, Polydore, though now our voices
 Have got the mannish crack, sing him to the ground,
 As once our mother; use like note and words,
 Save that Euriphile must be Fidele.

Gui. Cadwal,

240 I cannot sing: I'll weep, and word it with thee;
 For notes of sorrow out of tune are worse
 Than priests and fanes that lie.

Arv.

We'll speak it, then.

²²³ leafy Collier, leaf of F¹. ²²⁴ ruddock Hanmer, raddocke F¹.

²²⁹ winter-ground F¹, winter-guard Collier, twine around Ingleby conj., wind around Elze conj. ²³⁷ our Pope, to our F¹. ²⁴² fanes Pope, phanes F¹, vanes the later folios.

Bel. Great griefs, I see, medicine the less; for Cloten
Is quite forgot. He was a queen's son, boys:
And though he came our enemy, remember
245 He was paid for that: though mean and mighty, rotting
Together, have one dust, yet reverence,—
That angel of the world—doth make distinction
Of place 'tween high and low. Our foe was princely;
250 And though you took his life, as being our foe,
Yet bury him as a prince.

Gui. Pray you, fetch him hither.
Thersites' body is as good as Ajax',
When neither are alive.

Arv. If you'll go fetch him,
We'll say our song the whilst.—Brother, begin. [Exit Belarius.

255 Gui. Nay, Cadwal, we must lay his head to the east;
My father hath a reason for't.

Arv. 'Tis true.

Gui. Come on then, and remove him.

Arv. So.—Begin.

SONG.

Gui. Fear no more the heat o' the sun,
Nor the furious winter's rages;
260 Thou thy worldly task hast done,
Home art gone, and ta'en thy wages:
Golden lads and girls all must,
As chimney-sweepers, come to dust.

Arv. Fear no more the frown o' the great;
265 Thou art past the tyrant's stroke;
Care no more to clothe and eat;
To thee the reed is as the oak:
The sceptre, learning, physic, must
All follow this and come to dust.

270 Gui. Fear no more the lightning-flash,
Arv. Nor the all-dreaded thunder-stone;

Gui. Fear not slander, censure rash;

Arv. Thou hast finish'd joy and moan;

Both. All lovers young, all lovers must 275 Consign to thee and come to dust.

Gui. No exorciser harm thee!

Arv. Nor no witchcraft charm thee!

Gui. Ghost unlaïd forbear thee!

Arr. Nothing ill come near thee!

280 Both. Quiet consummation have;
And renowned be thy grave!

Re-enter BELARIUS, with the body of CLOTEN.

Gui. We have done our obsequies: come, lay him down.

Bel. Here's a few flowers; but 'bout midnight, more:
The herbs that have on them cold dew o' the night
285 Are strewings fitt'st for graves.—Upon their faces—
You were as flowers, now wither'd: even so
These herblets shall, which we upon you strew.—
Come on, away: apart upon our knees.

The ground that gave them first has them again:
 290 Their pleasures are past, so is their pain. [Exeunt Belarius,
Guiderius, and Arviragus.]

Imo. [Awaking] Yes, Sir, to Milford-Haven; which is the way?—

I thank you.—By yond bush?—Pray, how far thither?
'Ods pittikins! can it be six mile yet?—

I have gone all night:—'faith, I'll lie down and sleep.
295 But, soft! no bedfellow!—O gods and goddesses! [Seeing the body of Cloten.]

These flowers are like the pleasures of the world;
This bloody man, the care on't.—I hope I dream;
For so I thought I was a cave-keeper,

²⁷⁴ lovers F¹, loved Elze conj.

²⁷⁵ thee F^1 , this Johnson conj.

290 is Pope, are F¹.

300 And cook to honest creatures: but 'tis not so;
 'Twas but a bolt of nothing, shot at nothing,
 Which the brain makes of fumes: our very eyes
 Are sometimes like our judgments, blind. Good faith,
 I tremble still with fear: but if there be 305 Yet left in heaven as small a drop of pity
 As a wren's eye, fear'd gods, a part of it!
 The dream's here still: even when I wake, it is Without me, as within me; not imagin'd, felt.
 A headless man!—The garments of Posthumus!
 I know the shape of's leg: this is his hand;
 310 His foot Mercurial; his Martial thigh;
 The brawns of Hercules; but his Jovial face—
 Murder in heaven?—How!—'Tis gone.—Pisanio,
 All curses madded Hecuba gave the Greeks,
 And mine to boot, be darted on thee! Thou,
 315 Conspir'd with that irregulous devil, Cloten,
 Hath here cut off my lord.—To write and read
 Be henceforth treacherous!—Damn'd Pisanio
 Hath with his forged letters,—damn'd Pisanio—
 320 From this most bravest vessel of the world
 Struck the main-top! O Posthumus! alas,
 Where is thy head? where's that? Ay me! where's that?
 Pisanio might have kill'd thee at the heart,
 And left this head on.—How should this be? Pisanio?
 325 'Tis he and Cloten: malice and lucre in them
 Have laid his woe here. O, 'tis pregnant, pregnant!
 The drug he gave me, which he said was precious
 And cordial to me, have I not found it
 Murderous to the senses? That confirms it home:
 This is Pisanio's deed, and Cloten's: O!—
 330 Give colour to my pale cheek with thy blood,
 That we the horrid may seem to those Which chance to find us: O, my lord, my lord!
[Falls on the body.]

³¹⁶ Hath F¹, Hast Pope.

³²⁹ Cloten's Pope, Cloten F¹.

Enter LUCIUS, a Captain and other Officers, and a Sooth-sayer.

Cap. To them the legions garrison'd in Gallia,
After your will, have cross'd the sea; attending 335 You here at Milford-Haven with your ships:
They are in readiness.

Luc. But what from Rome?

Cap. The senate hath stirr'd up the confiners
And gentlemen of Italy; most willing spirits,
That promise noble service: and they come 340 Under the conduct of bold Iachimo,
Syenna's brother.

Luc. When expect you them?

Cap. With the next benefit o' the wind.

Luc. This forwardness
Makes our hopes fair. Command our present numbers
Be muster'd; bid the captains look to't.—Now, Sir, 345 What have you dream'd of late of this war's purpose?

Sooth. Last night the very gods show'd me a vision—
I fast and pray'd for their intelligence,—thus:
I saw Jove's bird, the Roman eagle, wing'd
From the spongy south to this part of the west,
350 There vanish'd in the sunbeams: which portends—
Unless my sins abuse my divination—
Success to the Roman host.

Luc. Dream often so,
And never false.—Soft, ho! what trunk is here
Without his top? The ruin speaks that sometime
355 It was a worthy building.—How! a page!—
Or dead, or sleeping on him? But dead, rather;
For nature doth abhor to make his bed
With the defunct, or sleep upon the dead.—
Let's see the boy's face.

³⁴⁷ fast, and pray'd F¹, fasting pray'd Hanmer.

Cap.

He's alive, my lord.

360 Luc. He'll then instruct us of this body.—Young one,
 Inform us of thy fortunes; for it seems
 They crave to be demanded. Who is this Thou mak'st thy bloody pillow? Or who was he
 That, otherwise than noble nature did,
 365 Hath alter'd that good picture? What's thy interest
 In this sad wreck? How came it? Who is it?
 What art thou?

Imo.

I am nothing; or if not,
 Nothing to be were better. This was my master,
 A very valiant Briton and a good,
 370 That here by mountaineers lies slain:—alas!
 There is no more such masters: I may wander
 From east to occident, cry out for service,
 Try many, all good, serve truly, never Find such another master.

Luc.

'Lack, good youth!

375 Thou mov'st no less with thy complaining than Thy master in bleeding: say his name, good friend.

Imo. Richard du Champ.—[Aside] If I do lie, and do
 No harm by it, though the gods hear, I hope
 They'll pardon it.—Say you, Sir?

Luc.

Thy name?

Imo.

Fidele, Sir.

380 Luc. Thou dost approve thyself the very same:
 Thy name well fits thy faith, thy faith thy name.
 Wilt take thy chance with me? I will not say
 Thou shalt be so well master'd; but, be sure,
 No less belov'd. The Roman emperor's letters,
 385 Sent by a consul to me, should not sooner
 Than thine own worth prefer thee: go with me.

Imo. I'll follow, Sir. But first, an't please the gods,

³⁶⁶ came it? who is it? Steevens, came't? who is't? F¹. ³⁸⁷ an't
 F², and't F¹.

I'll hide my master from the flies, as deep
 As these poor pickaxes can dig: and when 390 With wild wood-leaves and weeds I ha' strew'd his grave,
 And on it said a century of prayers,
 Such as I can, twice o'er, I'll weep and sigh;
 And leaving so his service, follow you,
 So please you entertain me.

Luc. Ay, good youth;
 395 And rather father thee than master thee.—
 My friends,
 The boy hath taught us manly duties: let us
 Find out the prettiest daisied plot we can,
 And make him with our pikes and partisans
 400 A grave: come, arm him.—Boy, he is preferr'd
 By thee to us; and he shall be interr'd
 As soldiers can. Be cheerful; wipe thine eyes:
 Some falls are means the happier to arise. [Exeunt.]

SCENE III. A room in Cymbeline's palace.

Enter CYMBELINE, Lords, PISANIO, and Attendants.

Cym. Again; and bring me word how 'tis with her.
 [Exit an Attendant.]

A fever with the absence of her son;
 A madness, of which her life's in danger,—Heavens,
 How deeply you at once do touch me! Imogen,
 5 The great part of my comfort, gone; my queen
 Upon a desperate bed, and in a time
 When fearful wars point at me; her son gone,
 So needful for his present: it strikes me, past
 The hope of comfort.—But for thee, fellow,

400 he is F², hee's F¹.—Scena Tertia. F¹.

10 Who needs must know of her departure, and Dost seem so ignorant, we'll enforce it from thee
By a sharp torture.

Pis. Sir, my life is yours;
I humbly set it at your will: but, for my mistress,
I nothing know where she remains, why gone,
15 Nor when she purposes return. Beseech your Highness,
Hold me your loyal servant.

First Lord. Good my liege,
The day that she was missing he was here:
I dare be bound he's true, and shall perform
All parts of his subjection loyally. For Cloten, 20 There wants no diligence in seeking him,
And will, no doubt, be found.

Cym. The time is troublesome.
[To Pisanio] We'll slip you for a season; but our jealousy
Does yet depend.

First Lord. So please your Majesty,
The Roman legions, all from Gallia drawn,
25 Are landed on your coast, with a supply
Of Roman gentlemen, by the senate sent.

Cym. Now for the counsel of my son and queen!—
I am amaz'd with matter.

First Lord. Good my liege,
Your preparation can affront no less 30 Than what you hear of: come more, for more you're ready:

The want is but to put those powers in motion
That long to move.

Cym. I thank you. Let's withdraw;
And meet the time as it seeks us. We fear not What can from Italy annoy us; but 35 We grieve at chances here.—Away! [Exeunt all but Pisanio.]

Pis. I've had no letter from my master since

¹¹ enforce F¹, force Pope.

³⁶ I've had Hanmer, I heard F¹.

I wrote him Imogen was slain: 'tis strange:
 Nor hear I from my mistress, who did promise
 To yield me often tidings; neither know I
 40 What is betide to Cloten; but remain
 Perplex'd in all:—the heavens still must work.
 Wherein I am false I am honest; not true, to be true.
 These present war shall find I love my country,
 Even to the note o' the king, or I'll fall in them.
 45 All other doubts, by time let them be clear'd:
 Fortune brings in some boats that are not steer'd. [Exit.]

SCENE IV. Wales: before the cave of Belarius.

Enter BELARIUS, GUIDERIUS, and ARVIRAGUS.

Gui. The noise is round about us.

Bel. Let us from it.

Arv. What pleasure, Sir, find we in life, to lock it
 From action and adventure?

Gui. Nay, what hope
 Have we in hiding us? This way, the Romans
 5 Must or for Britons slay us, or receive us
 For barbarous and unnatural revolts
 During their use, and slay us after.

Bel. Sons,
 We'll higher to the mountains; there secure us.
 To the king's party there's no going: newness
 10 Of Cloten's death—we being not known, not muster'd
 Among the bands — may drive us to a render Where we have liv'd; and so extort from's that
 Which we have done, whose answer would be death
 Drawn on with torture.

⁴⁰ betide F¹, betid Hanmer. Scena Quarta. F¹. ² find we F², we finde F¹.

Gui. This is, Sir, a doubt
 15 In such a time nothing becoming you,
 Nor satisfying us.

Arv. It is not likely
 That when they hear the Roman horses neigh,
 Behold their quarter'd fires, have both their eyes
 And ears so cloy'd importantly as now,
 20 That they will waste their time upon our note,
 To know from whence we are.

Bel. O, I am known
 Of many in the army: many years,
 Though Cloten then but young, you see, not wore him
 From my remembrance. And, besides, the king
 25 Hath not deserv'd my service nor your loves;
 Who find in my exile the want of breeding,
 The certainty of this hard life; aye hopeless
 To have the courtesy your cradle promis'd,
 But to be still hot summer's tanlings, and 30 The shrinking slaves of winter.

Gui. Than be so
 Better to cease to be. Pray, Sir, to the army:
 I and my brother are not known; yourself
 So out of thought, and thereto so o'ergrown,
 Cannot be question'd.

Arv. By this sun that shines,
 35 I'll thither: what thing is it that I never Did see man die! scarce ever look'd on blood,
 But that of coward hares, hot goats, and venison!
 Never bestrid a horse, save one that had
 A rider like myself, who ne'er wore rowel
 40 Nor iron on his heel! I am asham'd
 To look upon the holy sun, to have
 The benefit of his blest beams, remaining
 So long a poor unknown.

¹⁷ the Rowe, their F¹. ¹⁹ cloyed importantly = 'guttet with affairs of moment.' ³⁵ is it F², is't F¹.

Gui. By heavens, I'll go:
If you will bless me, Sir, and give me leave,
45 I'll take the better care; but if you will not,
The hazard therefore due fall on me by
The hands of Romans!

Arv. So say I,—amen.

Bel. No reason I, since of your lives you set
So slight a valuation, should reserve
50 My crack'd one to more care. Have with you, boys!
If in your country wars you chance to die,
That is my bed too, lads, and there I'll lie:
Lead, lead.—[Aside] The time seems long; their blood thinks scorn,
Till it fly out, and show them princes born. [Exeunt.

A C T V.

SCENE I. Britain. The Roman camp.

Enter POSTHUMUS with a bloody handkerchief.

Post. Yea, bloody cloth, I'll keep thee; for I'm wish'd
 Thou shouldst be colour'd thus. You married ones,
 If each of you should take this course, how many Must murder wives much better than themselves
 5 For wrying but a little!—O Pisanio!
 Every good servant does not all commands:
 No bond but to do just ones.—Gods! if you Should have ta'en vengeance on my faults, I never Had liv'd to put on this: so had you sav'd
 10 The noble Imogen to repent, and struck
 Me, wretch more worth your vengeance. But, alack,
 You snatch some hence for little faults; that's love,
 To have them fall no more: you some permit
 To second ill with ill, each elder worse,

Actus Quintus. Scena Prima. F¹. Enter . . . with a bloody handkerchief Rowe, Enter Posthumus alone F¹. ¹ I am wisht Ff, I wish'd Rowe, I have wish'd Keightley (Collier conj.); I am wish'd = 'I am possessed by the wish;' see Abbott, § 294.

15 And make them dread it, to the doers' thrift.
 But Imogen is your own: do your best wills,
 And make me blest to obey!—I am brought hither
 Among the Italian gentry, and to fight
 20 Against my lady's kingdom: 'tis enough
 That, Britain, I have kill'd thy mistress; peace!
 I'll give no wound to thee. Therefore, good heavens,
 Hear patiently my purpose:—I'll disrobe me
 Of these Italian weeds, and suit myself
 25 As does a Briton peasant: so I'll fight Against the part I come with; so I'll die
 For thee, O Imogen, even for whom my life
 Is, every breath, a death: and thus, unknown,
 Pitied nor hated, to the face of peril
 30 Myself I'll dedicate. Let me make men know
 More valour in me than my habits show.
 Gods, put the strength o' the Leonati in me!
 To shame the guise o' the world, I will begin
 The fashion,—less without and more within. [Exit.

SCENE II. Field of battle between the British and Roman camps.

Enter, from one side, LUCIUS, IACHIMO, and the Roman Army; from the other side, the British Army; LEONATUS POSTHUMUS following, like a poor soldier. They march over and go out. Then enter again, in skirmish, IACHIMO

¹⁵ dread it F¹, dreaded Theobald; doers' Theobald, dooers F¹; thrift F¹, trist Nicholson conj. See Ingleby, note ad loc. ¹⁶ Imogen F¹, Judgment or Vengeance Watkiss Lloyd. ²⁰ mistress: peace F¹. mistress-piece Staunton. ²⁶ even for F¹, for Ingleby conj. — Scena Secunda. F¹.

and POSTHUMUS: he vanquisheth and disarmeth IACHIMO, and then leaves him.

Iach. The heaviness and guilt within my bosom
Takes off my manhood: I have belied a lady;
The princess of this country, and the air on't
Revengingly enfeebles me; or could this carl,
5 A very drudge of nature's, have subdu'd me
In my profession? Knighthoods and honours, borne
As I wear mine, are titles but of scorn.
If that thy gentry, Britain, go before
This lout as he exceeds our lords, the odds
Is, that we scarce are men, and you are gods. [Exit.

10

*The battle continues; the Britons fly; CYMBELINE is taken:
then enter, to his rescue, BELARIUS, GUIDERIUS, and ARVIRAGUS.*

Bel. Stand, stand! We have the advantage of the ground;
The lane is guarded: nothing routs us but
The villany of our fears.
Gui. } Stand, stand, and fight!
Arv. }

Re-enter POSTHUMUS, and seconds the Britons: they rescue CYMBELINE, and exeunt. Then re-enter LUCIUS, and IACHIMO, with IMOGEN.

Luc. Away, boy, from the troops, and save thyself;
15 For friends kill friends, and the disorder's such
As war were all hoodwink'd.

Iach. 'Tis their fresh supplies.

Luc. It is a day turn'd strangely: or betimes
Let's re-inforce, or fly. [Exeunt.

SCENE III. Another part of the field.

Enter POSTHUMUS and a British Lord.

Lord. Cam'st thou from where they made the stand?

Post. I did:

Though you, it seems, come from the fliers.

Lord. I did.

Post. No blame be to you, Sir; for all was lost,
But that the heavens fought; the king himself
5 Of his wings destitute, the army broken,
And but the backs of Britons seen, all flying
Through a strait lane: the enemy full-hearted,
Lolling the tongue with slaughtering, having work
More plentiful than tools to do't, struck down
10 Some mortally, some slightly touch'd, some falling
Merely through fear; that the strait pass was damm'd
With dead men hurt behind, and cowards living
To die with lengthen'd shame.

Lord. Where was this lane?

Post. Close by the battle, ditch'd, and wall'd with turf;

15 Which gave advantage to an ancient soldier,—
An honest one, I warrant; who deserv'd
So long a breeding as his white beard came to,
In doing this for's country:—athwart the lane,
He, with two striplings,— lads, more like to run
20 The country base than to commit such slaughter;
With faces fit for masks, or rather fairer
Than those for preservation cas'd, or shame,—
Made good the passage; cried to those that fled,

'Our Britain's harts die flying, not our men:
 25 To darkness fleet souls that fly backwards! Stand;
 Or we are Romans, and will give you that
 Like beasts, which you shun beastly, and may save,
 But to look back in frown: stand, stand!' These three,
 Three thousand confident, in act as many,— 30 For three performers are the file when all
 The rest do nothing—with this word, 'Stand, stand,'
 Accommodated by the place, more charming
 With their own nobleness,—which could have turn'd
 A distaff to a lance,—gilded pale looks,
 35 Part shame, part spirit renew'd; that some, turn'd coward
 But by example,—O, a sin in war,
 Damn'd in the first beginners!—gan to look
 The way, that they did, and to grin like lions
 Upon the pikes o' the hunters. Then began
 40 A stop i' the chaser, a retire, anon
 A rout, confusion thick; forthwith they fly
 Chickens, the way which they stoop'd eagles; slaves
 The strides they victors made: and now our cowards—
 Like fragments in hard voyages—became 45 The life o' the need: having found the back-door open
 Of the unguarded hearts, heavens, how they wound!
 Some slain before; some dying; some their friends
 O'er-borne i' the former wave: ten, chas'd by one,
 Are now each one the slaughter-man of twenty:
 50 Those that would die or ere resist are grown
 The mortal bugs o' the field.

Lord.

This was strange chance:

A narrow lane, an old man, and two boys.

Post. Nay, do not wonder at it: you are made
 Rather to wonder at the things you hear

55 Than to work any. Will you rhyme upon't,

²¹ harts Pope⁽²⁾, hearts F¹. ⁴² stoop'd Rowe⁽²⁾, stopt F¹. ⁴³ they victors Theobald, the victors F¹. ⁵³ not wonder F¹, you wonder?
 Ingleby conj.

And vent it for mockery? Here is one:

'Two boys, an old man twice a boy, a lane,
Preserv'd the Britons, was the Romans' bane.'

Lord. Nay, be not angry, Sir.

Post. 'Lack, to what end?

60 Who dares not stand his foe, I'll be his friend;
For if he'll do as he is made to do,
I know he'll quickly fly my friendship too.
You have put me into rhyme.

Lord. Farewell; you're angry.

Post. Still going? [Exit Lord.] This is a lord!

O noble misery,

65 To be i' the field, and ask, what news, of me!
To-day how many would have given their honours
To have sav'd their carcasses! took heel to do't,
And yet died too! I, in mine own woe charm'd,
Could not find death where I did hear him groan,
70 Nor feel him where he struck: being an ugly monster,
'Tis strange he hides him in fresh cups, soft beds,
Sweet words; or hath more ministers than we
That draw his knives i' the war. Well, I will find him:
Fortune being now a favourer to the Briton,
75 No more a Briton, I have resum'd again
The part I came in: fight I will no more,
But yield me to the veriest hind that shall Once touch my shoulder. Great the slaughter is Here made by the Roman; great the answer be 80 Britons must take. For me, my ransom's death;
On either side I come to spend my breath;
Which neither here I'll keep nor bear again,
But end it by some means for Imogen.

⁷⁴ Fortune Brae conj., For F¹, Briton F¹, Roman Hanmer. Capell and Arrowsmith, retaining the Folio text, refer being a favourer to the Briton to him (i. e. death).

Enter two British Captains and Soldiers.

First Cap. Great Jupiter be prais'd! Lucius is taken:
85 'Tis thought the old man and his sons were angels.

Sec. Cap. There was a fourth man, in a silly habit,
That gave the affront with them.

First Cap. So 'tis reported:
But none of 'em can be found.—Stand! who's there?

Post. A Roman,
90 Who had not now been drooping here, if seconds
Had answer'd him.

Sec. Cap. Lay hands on him; a dog!—
A leg of Rome shall not return to tell
What crows have peck'd them here:—he brags his service
As if he were of note: bring him to the king.

Enter CYMBELINE, BELARIUS, GUIDERIUS, ARVIRAGUS, PISANIO, Soldiers, Attendants, and Roman Captives. The Captains present POSTHUMUS to CYMBELINE, who delivers him over to a Gaoler: then exeunt omnes.

SCENE IV. A British prison.

Enter POSTHUMUS and two Gaolers.

First Gaol. You shall not now be stol'n, you have locks upon you;
So graze as you find pasture.

Sec. Gaol. Ay, or a stomach. [Exeunt Gaolers.

Post. Most welcome, bondage! for thou art a way,
I think, to liberty: yet am I better
5 Than one that's sick o' the gout; since he had rather Groan so in perpetuity than be cur'd

⁹² leg F¹, lag Daniel.conj. ⁹⁴ Enter . . . Gaoler F¹. Scena Quarta. F¹.

By the sure physician, death, who is the key
 To unbar these locks. My conscience, thou art fetter'd
 More than my shanks and wrists: you good gods, give me
 10 The penitent instrument to pick that bolt,
 Then, free for ever! Is't enough I am sorry?
 So children temporal fathers do appease;
 Gods are more full of mercy. Must I repent?
 I cannot do it better than in gyves,
 15 Desir'd more than constrain'd. To satisfy?
 If of my freedom 'tis the main part, take
 No stricter render of me than my all.
 I know you are more clement than vile men,
 Who of their broken debtors take a third,
 20 A sixth, a tenth, letting them thrive again
 On their abatement: that's not my desire:
 For Imogen's dear life take mine; and though
 'Tis not so dear, yet 'tis a life; you coin'd it:
 'Tween man and man they weigh not every stamp;
 25 Though light, take pieces for the figure's sake:
 You rather mine, being yours: and so, great powers,
 If you will take this audit, take this life,
 And cancel these cold bonds.—O Imogen!
 I'll speak to thee in silence.

[Sleeps.]

Solemn music. Enter, as in an apparition, SICILIUS LEONATUS, father to Posthumus, an old man, attired like a warrior; leading in his hand an ancient matron, his wife, and mother to Posthumus, with music before them: then, after other music, follow the two young LEONATI, brothers to Posthumus, with wounds as they died in wars. They circle POSTHUMUS round, as he lies sleeping.

30 Sici. No more, thou thunder-master, show
 Thy spite on mortal flies:

¹⁵ To satisfy? Ingleby, to satisfie F¹, satisfy? Brae conj. ¹⁷ stricter = 'more restricted, less exacting, see Ingleby, note ad loc.

With Mars fall out, with Juno chide,
 That thy adulteries
 Rates and revenges.
 35 Hath my poor boy done aught but well,
 Whose face I never saw?
 I died whilst in the womb he stay'd
 Attending nature's law:
 Whose father then, as men report
 40 Thou orphans' father art,
 Thou shouldst have been, and shielded him
 From this earth-vexing smart.

Moth. Lucina lent not me her aid,
 But took me in my throes;
 45 That from me was Posthúmus ript,
 Came crying 'mongst his foes,
 A thing of pity!

Sici. Great nature, like his ancestry,
 Moulded the stuff so fair,
 50 That he deserv'd the praise o' the world,
 As great Sicilius' heir.

First Bro. When once he was mature for man,
 In Britain where was he
 That could stand up his parallel;
 55 Or fruitful object be
 In eye of Imogen, that best
 Could deem his dignity?

Moth. With marriage wherefore was he mock'd,
 To be exil'd, and thrown
 60 From Leonati seat, and cast

⁴⁵ me was F¹, my womb Johnson conj.

From her his dearest one,
Sweet Imogen?

Sici. Why did you suffer Iachimo,
Slight thing of Italy,
65 To taint his nobler heart and brain
With needless jealousy;
And to become the geck and scorn
O' th' other's villany?

Sec. Bro. For this, from stiller seats we came,
70 Our parents and us twain,
That striking in our country's cause
Fell bravely and were slain;
Our fealty and Tenantius' right
With honour to maintain.

75 First Bro. Like hardiment Posthúmus hath
To Cymbeline perform'd:
Then, Jupiter, thou king of gods,
Why hast thou thus adjourn'd
The graces for his merits due;
80 Being all to dolours turn'd?

Sici. Thy crystal window ope; look out;
No longer exercise
Upon a valiant race thy harsh
And potent injuries.

85 Moth. Since, Jupiter, our son is good,
Take off his miseries.

Sici. Peep through thy marble mansion; help;
Or we poor ghosts will cry

⁸¹ look out F², looke, looke out F¹.

90 To the shining synod of the rest
 Against thy deity.

Both Bro. Help, Jupiter; or we appeal,
 And from thy justice fly.

JUPITER descends in thunder and lightning, sitting upon an eagle: he throws a thunderbolt. The Ghosts fall on their knees.

Jup. No more, you petty spirits of region low,
 Offend our hearing; hush! How dare you ghosts
95 Accuse the thunderer, whose bolt, you know,
 Sky-planted, batters all rebelling coasts?
 Poor shadows of Elysium, hence; and rest
 Upon your never-withering banks of flowers:
 Be not with mortal accidents opprest;
100 No care of yours it is; you know 'tis ours.
 Whom best I love I cross; to make my gift,
 The more delay'd, delighted. Be content;
 Your low-laid son our godhead will uplift:
 His comforts thrive, his trials well are spent.
105 Our Jovial star reign'd at his birth, and in Our temple was he married.—Rise, and fade.—
 He shall be lord of lady Imogen,
 And happier much by his affliction made.
 This tablet lay upon his breast; wherein 110 Our pleasure his full fortune doth confine:
 And so, away! no further with your din
 Express impatience, lest you stir up mine.—
 Mount, eagle, to my palace crystalline. [Ascends.]

Sici. He came in thunder; his celestial breath
115 Was sulphurous to smell: the holy eagle
 Stoop'd, as to foot us: his ascension is
 More sweet than our blest fields: his royal bird
 Prunes the immortal wing, and cloyes his beak,
 As when his god is pleas'd.

All.

Thanks, Jupiter!

120 Sici. The marble pavement closes, he is enter'd
His radiant roof.—Away! and, to be blest,
Let us with care perform his great behest. [The Ghosts vanish.]

Post. [Waking] Sleep, thou hast been a grandsire, and begot

A father to me; and thou hast created

125 A mother and two brothers: but—O scorn!—
Gone! they went hence as soon as they were born:
And so I am awake.—Poor wretches that depend
On greatness' favour dream as I have done,
Wake, and find nothing.—But, alas, I swerve:

130 Many dream not to find, neither deserve,
And yet are steep'd in favours; so am I,
That have this golden chance, and know not why.
What fairies haunt this ground? A book? O rare one!
Be not, as is our fangled world, a garment
135 Nobler than that it covers: let thy effects
So follow, to be most unlike our courtiers,
As good as promise.

[Reads] 'Whenas a lion's whelp shall, to himself unknown, without seeking find, and be embraced by a piece
140 of tender air; and when from a stately cedar shall be lopped branches, which, being dead many years, shall after revive, be jointed to the old stock and freshly grow; then shall Posthumus end his miseries, Britain be fortunate, and flourish in peace and plenty.'

145 'Tis still a dream, or else such stuff as madmen
Tongue and brain not: either both, or nothing:
Or senseless speaking, or a speaking such
As sense cannot untie. Be what it is,
The action of my life is like it, which 150 I'll keep, if but for sympathy.

Re-enter Gaoler.Gaol. Come, Sir, are you ready for death?Post. Over-roasted rather; ready long ago.

Gaol. Hanging is the word, Sir: if you be ready for that, you are well cooked.

155 Post. So, if I prove a good repast to the spectators, the dish pays the shot.

Gaol. A heavy reckoning for you, Sir. But the comfort is, you shall be called to no more payments, fear no more tavern-bills; which are as often the sadness
160 of parting, as the procuring of mirth: you come in faint for want of meat, depart reeling with too much drink; sorry that you have paid too much, and sorry that you are paid too much; purse and brain both empty,—the brain the heavier for being too light, the purse too
165 light, being drawn of heaviness: of this contradiction you shall now be quit.—O, the charity of a penny cord! it sums up thousands in a trice: you have no true debtor and creditor but it; of what's past, is, and to come, the discharge:—your neck, Sir, is pen, book, and counters;
170 so the acquittance follows.

Post. I am merrier to die than thou art to live.

Gaol. Indeed, Sir, he that sleeps feels not the tooth-ache: but a man that were to sleep your sleep, and a hangman to help him to bed, I think he would change 175 places with his officer; for, look you, Sir, you know not which way you shall go.

Post. Yes, indeed do I, fellow.

Gaol. Your death has eyes in 's head then; I have not seen him so pictured: you must either be directed 180 by some that take upon them to know, or do take upon yourself that which I am sure you do not know; or jump the after inquiry on your own peril: and how you shall speed in your journey's end, I think you'll never return to tell one.

185 Post. I tell thee, fellow, there are none want eyes

¹⁵⁹ as often Anon. often F¹. ¹⁶⁵ of this Globe Edd., Oh of this F¹. ¹⁶⁹ sir F², sie F¹.

to direct them the way I am going, but such as wink and will not use them.

Gaol. What an infinite mock is this, that a man should have the best use of eyes to see the way of 190 blindness! I am sure, hanging 's the way of winking.

Enter a Messenger.

Mess. Knock off his manacles; bring your prisoner to the king.

Post. Thou bringst good news,—I am called to be made free.

195 Gaol. I'll be hang'd, then.

Post. Thou shalt be then freer than a gaoler; no bolts for the dead. [Exeunt all but the Gaoler.

Gaol. Unless a man would marry a gallows, and beget young gibbets, I never saw one so prone. Yet, 200 on my conscience, there are verier knaves desire to live, for all he be a Roman: and there be some of them too that die against their wills; so should I, if I were one. I would we were all of one mind, and one mind good; O, there were desolation of gaolers and gallowses! I
205 speak against my present profit; but my wish hath a preferment in't. [Exit

SCENE V. Cymbeline's tent.

Enter CYMBELINE, BELARIUS, GUIDERIUS, ARVIRAGUS, PISANIO, Lords, Officers, and Attendants.

Cym. Stand by my side, you whom the gods have made Preservers of my throne. Woe is my heart That the poor soldier, that so richly fought,

Whose rags sham'd gilded arms, whose naked breast
 5 Stepp'd before targes of proof, cannot be found:
 He shall be happy that can find him, if
 Our grace can make him so.

Bel. I never saw
 Such noble fury in so poor a thing;
 Such precious deeds in one that promis'd nought
 10 But beggary and poor looks.

Cym. No tidings of him?

Pis. He hath been search'd among the dead and living,
 But no trace of him.

Cym. To my grief, I am
 The heir of his reward; [To Belarius, Guiderius, and Arviragus] which I will add
 To you, the liver, heart, and brain of Britain,
 15 By whom I grant she lives. 'Tis now the time
 To ask of whence you are:—report it.

Bel. Sir,
 In Cambria are we born, and gentlemen:
 Further to boast were neither true nor modest,
 Unless I add, we are honest.

Gym. Bow your knees.
 20 Arise my knights o' the battle: I create you
 Companions to our person, and will fit you
 With dignities becoming your estates.

Enter CORNELIUS and Ladies.

There's business in these faces.—Why so sadly
 Greet you our victory? you look like Romans,
 25 And not o' the court of Britain.

Cor. Hail, great king!
 To sour your happiness, I must report
 The queen is dead.

Gym. Who worse than a physician

²⁷ Who F¹, Whom the later folios.

Would this report become? But I consider,
By medicine life may be prolong'd, yet death
30 Will seize the doctor too.—How ended she?

Cor. With horror, madly dying, like her life;
Which, being cruel to the world, concluded
Most cruel to herself. What she confess'd
I will report, so please you: these her women
35 Can trip me, if I err; who with wet cheeks
Were present, when she finish'd.

Cym. Prithee, say.

Cor. First, she confess'd she never lov'd you; only Affected greatness got by you, not you:
Married your royalty, was wife to your place;
40 Abhorr'd your person.

Cym. She alone knew this;
And, but she spoke it dying, I would not Believe her lips in opening it. Proceed.

Cor. Your daughter, whom she bore in hand to love
With such integrity, she did confess
45 Was as a scorpion to her sight; whose life,
But that her flight prevented it, she had Ta'en off by poison.

Cym. O most delicate fiend!
Who is't can read a woman?—Is there more?

Cor. More, Sir, and worse. She did confess she had 50 For you a mortal mineral; which, being took,
Should by the minute feed on life, and lingering,
By inches waste you: in which time she purpos'd,
By watching, weeping, tendance, kissing, to O'ercome you with her show; and in time,
55 When she had fitted you with her craft, to work
Her son into the adoption of the crown:
But, failing of her end by his strange absence,

⁵⁴ in time F¹, in due time Keightley, yes and in time F², and so in time Jervis conj., and then in time Nicholson conj.

Grew shameless-desperate; open'd, in despite
 Of heaven and men, her purposes; repented
 60 The evils she hatch'd were not effected; so,
 Despairing, died.

Cym. Heard you all this, her women?

First Lady. We did, so please your Highness.

Cym. Mine eyes
 Were not in fault, for she was beautiful;
 Mine ears, that heard her flattery; nor my heart,
 65 That thought her like her seeming; it had been vicious
 To have mistrusted her: yet, O my daughter!
 That it was folly in me, thou mayst say,
 And prove it in thy feeling. Heaven mend all!

Enter LUCIUS, IACHIMO, the Soothsayer, and other Roman Prisoners, guarded; POSTHUMUS behind, and IMOGEN.

Thou com'st not, Caius, now for tribute; that 70 The Britons have raz'd out, though with the loss
 Of many a bold one; whose kinsmen have made suit
 That their good souls may be appeas'd with slaughter
 Of you their captives, which ourself have granted:
 So think of your estate.

75 Luc. Consider, Sir, the chance of war: the day
 Was yours by accident; had it gone with us,
 We should not, when the blood was cool, have threaten'd
 Our prisoners with the sword. But since the gods
 Will have it thus, that nothing but our lives
 80 May be call'd ransom, let it come: sufficeth
 A Roman with a Roman's heart can suffer:
 Augustus lives to think on't: and so much
 For my peculiar care. This one thing only
 I will entreat; my boy, a Briton born,
 85 Let him be ransom'd: never master had

⁵⁸ shameless-desperate hyphenated by Capell. ⁶⁴ heard F³, heare F¹.
⁷⁰ raz'd Theobald, rac'd F¹.

A page so kind, so duteous, diligent,
 So tender over his occasions, true,
 So feat, so nurse-like: let his virtue join
 With my request, which I'll make bold your Highness
 90 Cannot deny; he hath done no Briton harm,
 Though he have serv'd a Roman: save him, Sir,
 And spare no blood beside.

Cym. I have surely seen him:
 His favour is familiar to me. Boy,
 Thou hast look'd thyself into my grace,
 95 And art mine own.—I know not why, wherefore
 To say 'live, boy:' ne'er thank thy master; live:
 And ask of Cymbeline what boon thou wilt,
 Fitting my bounty and thy state, I'll give it;
 Yea, though thou do demand a prisoner,
 100 The noblest ta'en.

Imo. I humbly thank your Highness.

Luc. I do not bid thee beg my life, good lad;
 And yet I know thou wilt.

Imo. No, no: alack,
 There's other work in hand: I see a thing
 Bitter to me as death: your life, good master,
 105 Must shuffle for itself.

Luc. The boy disdains me,
 He leaves me, scorns me: briefly die their joys
 That place them on the truth of girls and boys.

Cym. Why stands he so perplex'd? What wouldst thou, boy?

I love thee more and more: think more and more 110 What's best to ask. Know'st him thou lookst on? speak;
 Wilt have him live? Is he thy kin, thy friend?

Imo. He is a Roman; no more kin to me

Than I to your Highness; who, being born your vassal,
Am something nearer.

Cym. Wherefore ey'st him so?

115 Imo. I'll tell you, Sir, in private, if you please
To give me hearing.

Cym. Ay, with all my heart,
And lend my best attention. What's thy name?

Imo. Fidele, Sir.

Cym. Thou'rt my good youth, my page;
I'll be thy master: walk with me; speak freely.

[Cymbeline and Imogen converse apart.]

120 Bel. Is not this boy reviv'd from death?

Arv. One sand another
Not more resembles that sweet rosy lad
Who died, and was Fidele.—What think you?

Gui. The same dead thing alive.

Bel. Peace, peace! see further; he eyes us not; forbear;

125 Creatures may be alike: were't he, I am sure
He would have spoke to us.

Gui. But we saw him dead.

Bel. Be silent; let's see further.

Pis. [Aside] It is my mistress:
Since she is living, let the time run on
To good or bad. [Cymbeline and Imogen come forward.]

Cym. Come, stand thou by our side;
Make thy demand aloud.—[To Iachimo] Sir, step you 130 forth;

Give answer to this boy, and do it freely;
Or, by our greatness, and the grace of it,
Which is our honour, bitter torture shall Winnow the truth from falsehood.—On, speak to him.

120.122 S. Walker supposes the loss of some words to this effect:
Not more resembles [Than he resembles] that sweet etc. 126 saw
Rowe, see F¹. 134 On, speak F³, One speake F¹.

135 Imo. My boon is, that this gentleman may render
Of whom he had this ring.

Post. [Aside] What's that to him?

Cym. That diamond upon your finger, say
How came it yours?

Iach. Thou'lt torture me to leave unspoken that 140 Which, to be spoke, would torture thee.

Cym. How! me?

Iach. I am glad to be constrain'd to utter that Which torments me to conceal. By villany
I got this ring: 'twas Leonatus' jewel;
Whom thou didst banish; and—which more may grieve thee,

145 As it doth me—a nobler Sir ne'er liv'd
'Twixt sky and ground. Wilt thou hear more, my lord?

Cym. All that belongs to this.

Iach. That paragon, thy daughter,—
For whom my heart drops blood, and my false spirits
Quail to remember.—Give me leave; I faint.

150 Cym. My daughter! what of her? Renew thy strength:
I had rather thou shouldst live while nature will
Than die ere I hear more: strive, man, and speak.

Iach. Upon a time,—unhappy was the clock
That struck the hour!—it was in Rome,—accurs'd 155 The mansion where!—'twas at a feast,—O, would
Our viands had been poison'd, or at least
Those which I heav'd to head!—the good Posthúmus—
What should I say? he was too good to be Where ill men were; and was the best of all 160 Amongst the rar'st of good ones,—sitting sadly,
Hearing us praise our loves of Italy
For beauty that made barren the swell'd boast
Of him that best could speak; for feature, laming

The shrine of Venus, or straight-pight Minerva,
 Postures beyond brief nature, for condition,
 165 A shop of all the qualities that man
 Loves woman for; besides that hook of wiving,
 Fairness which strikes the eye,—

Cym. I stand on fire:
 Come to the matter.

Iach. All too soon I shall,
 Unless thou wouldst grieve quickly.—This Posthúmus,
 170 Most like a noble lord in love, and one
 That had a royal lover, took his hint;
 And, not dispraising whom we prais'd,—therein
 He was as calm as virtue,—he began
 His mistress' picture; which by his tongue being 175 made,

And then a mind put in 't, either our brags
 Were crack'd of kitchen-trulls, or his description
 Prov'd us unspeaking sots.

Gym. Nay, nay, to the purpose.

Iach. Your daughter's chastity—there it begins.
 180 He spake of her, as Dian had hot dreams,
 And she alone were cold: whereat I, wretch,
 Made scruple of his praise; and wager'd with him
 Pieces of gold 'gainst this which then he wore
 Upon his honour'd finger, to attain
 185 In suit the place of's bed, and win this ring
 By hers and mine adultery. He, true knight,
 No lesser of her honour confident
 Than I did truly find her, stakes this ring;
 And would so, had it been a carbuncle
 190 Of Phœbus' wheel, and might so safely, had it
 Been all the worth of's car. Away to Britain
 Post I in this design:—well may you, Sir,
 Remember me at court; where I was taught
 Of your chaste daughter the wide difference

¹⁶⁴ shrine F¹, swim Elze, stride Leo.

195 'Twixt amorous and villanous. Being thus quench'd
Of hope, not longing, mine Italian brain
'Gan in your duller Britain operate
Most vildly; for my vantage, excellent:
And, to be brief, my practice so prevail'd,
200 That I return'd with simular proof enough
To make the noble Leonatus mad,
By wounding his belief in her renown
With tokens thus, and thus; averring notes
Of chamber-hanging, pictures, this her bracelet,— 205 O cunning, how I got it!—nay, some marks
Of secret on her person, that he could not
But think her bond of chastity quite crack'd,
I having ta'en the forfeit. Whereupon—
Methinks, I see him now—

Post. [Advancing] Ay, so thou dost,
210 Italian fiend!—Ay me, most credulous fool,
Egregious murderer, thief, any thing
That's due to all the villain's past, in being,
To come!—O, give me cord, or knife, or poison,
Some upright justicer! Thou, king, send out
15 For torturers ingenious: it is I
That all the abhorred things o' the earth, amend
By being worse than they. I am Posthúmus,
That kill'd thy daughter:—villain-like, I lie—
That caus'd a lesser villain than myself,
220 A sacrilegious thief, to do 't:—the temple
Of virtue was she; yea, and she herself.
Spit, and throw stones, cast mire upon me, set
The dogs o' the street to bay me: every villain
Be call'd Posthúmus Leonatus; and 23 Be villany less than 'twas!—O Imogen!
My queen, my life, my wife! O Imogen,
Imogen, Imogen!

197 operate F², operare F¹. 205 got it F², got F¹.

Imo. Peace, my lord; hear, hear—

Post. Shall's have a play of this? Thou scornful page,

There lie thy part. [Striking her: she falls.]

Pis. O, gentlemen, help!

230 Mine and your mistress!—O, my lord Posthúmus!
You ne'er kill'd Imogen till now.—Help, help!
Mine honour'd lady!

Gym. Does the world go round?

Post. How come these staggers on me?

Pis. Wake, my mistress!

Cym. If this be so, the gods do mean to strike me
235 To death with mortal joy.

Pis. How fares my mistress?

Imo. O, get thee from my sight;
Thou gav'st me poison: dangerous fellow, hence!
Breathe not where princes are.

Gym. The tune of Imogen!

Pis. Lady,

240 The gods throw stones of sulphur on me, if
That box I gave you was not thought by me
A precious thing: I had it from the queen.

Gym. New matter still?

Imo. It poison'd me.

Cor. O gods!

I left out one thing which the queen confess'd,
245 Which must approve thee honest: 'If Pisanio
Have,' said she, 'given his mistress that confection
Which I gave him for cordial, she is serv'd
As I would serve a rat.'

Gym. What's this, Cornelius?

Cor. The queen, Sir, very oft importun'd me
250 To temper poisons for her, still pretending
The satisfaction of her knowledge only

Of no esteem: I, dreading that her purpose
Was of more danger, did compound for her
255 A certain stuff, which, being ta'en, would cease
The present power of life; but in short time
All offices of nature should again
Do their due functions.—Have you ta'en of it?

Imo. Most like I did, for I was dead.

Bel. My boys,
260 There was our error.

Gui. This is, sure, Fidele.

Imo. Why did you throw your wedded lady from you?

Think that you are upon a rock; and now
Throw me again. [Embracing him.]

Post. Hang there like fruit, my soul,
Till the tree die!

Cym. How now, my flesh, my child!
265 What, mak'st thou me a dullard in this act?
Wilt thou not speak to me?

Imo. [Kneeling] Your blessing, Sir.

Bel. [To Guiderius and Arviragus] Though you did love this youth, I blame ye not;
You had a motive for 't.

Cym. My tears that fall
Prove holy water on thee! Imogen,
270 Thy mother's dead.

Imo. I am sorry for 't, my lord.

Cym. O, she was naught; and long of her it was
That we meet here so strangely: but her son
Is gone, we know not how nor where.

Pis. My lord,
Now fear is from me, I'll speak troth. Lord Cloten,
275 Upon my lady's missing, came to me

²⁶¹ from Rowe, fro F¹. ²⁶³ Stage-dir. add. Steevens.

With his sword drawn; foam'd at the mouth, and swore,
If I discover'd not which way she was gone,
It was my instant death. By accident,
I had a feigned letter of my master's 280 Then in my pocket; which directed him
To seek her on the mountains near to Milford;
Where, in a frenzy, in my master's garments,
Which he enforc'd from me, away he posts
With unchaste purpose and with oath to violate
285 My lady's honour: what became of him
I further know not.

Gui. Let me end the story:
I slew him there.

Cym. Marry, the gods forfend!
I would not thy good deeds should from my lips
Pluck a hard sentence: prithee, valiant youth,
290 Deny 't again.

Gui. I have spoke it, and I did it.

Cym. He was a prince.

Gui. A most incivil one: the wrongs he did me
Were nothing prince-like: for he did provoke me
With language that would make me spurn the sea,
295 If it could so roar to me: I cut off's head;
And am right glad he is not standing here
To tell this tale of mine.

Cym. I am sorry for thee:
By thine own tongue thou art condemn'd, and must Endure our law: thou 'rt dead.

Imo. That headless man
300 I thought had been my lord.

Cym. Bind the offender,
And take him from our presence.

Bel. Stay, Sir king:
This man is better, than the man he slew,

²⁹⁷ sorry F³, sorrow F¹.

As well descended as thyself; and hath
 More of thee merited than a band of Clotens
 305 Had ever scar for.—[To the Guard] Let his arms alone;
 They were not born for bondage.

Gym. Why, old soldier,
 Wilt thou undo the worth thou art unpaid for,
 By tasting of our wrath? How of descent
 As good as we?

Arv. In that he spake too far.

310 Cym. And thou shalt die for't.

Bel. We will die all three,
 But I will prove that two on's are as good
 As I have given out him.—My sons, I must,
 For mine own part, unfold a dangerous speech,
 Though, haply, well for you.

Arv. Your danger's ours.

315 Gui. And our good his.

Bel. Have at it, then!—By leave.—
 Thou hadst, great king, a subject who Was call'd Belarius.

Cym. What of him? he is
 A banish'd traitor.

Bel. He it is that hath
 Assum'd this age; indeed, a banish'd man;
 320 I know not how a traitor.

Cym. Take him hence:
 The whole world shall not save him.

Bel. Not too hot:
 First pay me for the nursing of thy sons;
 And let it be confiscate all, so soon
 As I have receiv'd it.

Cym. Nursing of my sons!

310 Bel. We will die all three, F¹, We will die all three. Elze

325 Bel. I am too blunt and saucy: here's my knee:
 Ere I arise, I will prefer my sons:
 Then spare not the old father. Mighty Sir,
 These two young gentlemen, that call me father
 And think they are my sons, are none of mine;
 330 They are the issue of your loins, my liege,
 And blood of your begetting.

Cym. How! my issue!

Bel. So sure as you your fathers. I, old Morgan,
 Am that Belarius whom you sometime banish'd:
 Your pleasure was my mere offence, my punishment
 335 Itself, and all my treason: that I suffer'd
 Was all the harm I did. These gentle princes—
 For such and so they are—these twenty years
 Have I train'd up: those arts they have as I Could put into them; my breeding was, Sir, as 340 Your Highness knows. Their nurse, Euriphile,
 Whom for the theft I wedded, stole these children
 Upon my banishment: I mov'd her to't,
 Having receiv'd the punishment before,
 For that which I did then: beaten for loyalty
 345 Excited me to treason: their dear loss,
 The more of you 'twas felt, the more it shap'd
 Unto my end of stealing them. But, gracious Sir,
 Here are your sons again; and I must lose
 Two of the sweet'st companions of the world.
 350 The benediction of these covering heavens
 Fall on their heads like dew! for they are worthy
 To inlay heaven with stars.

Gym. Thou weep'st, and speak'st.
 The service that you three have done is more 355 Unlike than this thou tell'st. I lost my children:
 If these be they, I know not how to wish
 A pair of worthier sons.

334 mere Rann (Tyrwhitt conj.), neere F¹.

Bel.

Be pleas'd awhile.—

This gentleman, whom I call Polydore,
 Most worthy prince, as yours, is true Guiderius:
 This gentleman, my Cadwal, Arviragus,
 360 Your younger princely son; he, Sir, was lapp'd
 In a most curious mantle, wrought by the hand
 Of his queen mother, which for more probation
 I can with ease produce.

Gym.

Guiderius had

Upon his neck a mole, a sanguine star;

365 It was a mark of wonder.

Bel.

This is he;

Who hath upon him still that natural stamp:
 It was wise nature's end in the donation,
 To be his evidence now.

Gym.

O, what, am I

A mother to the birth of three? Ne'er mother 370 Rejoic'd deliverance more.—Blest pray you be,
 That, after this strange starting from your orbs,
 You may reign in them now!—O Imogen,
 Thou hast lost by this a kingdom.

Imo.

No, my lord;

I have got two worlds by't. O my gentle brothers,
 375 Have we thus met? O, never say hereafter
 But I am truest speaker: you call'd me brother,
 When I was but your sister; I you brothers,
 When ye were so indeed.

Cym.

Did you e'er meet?

Arv. Ay, my good lord.Gui.

And at first meeting lov'd;

380 Continu'd so, until we thought he died.

Cor. By the queen's dram she swallow'd.Cym.

O rare instinct!

When shall I hear all through? This fierce abridgment

368 O what am I? Hanmer, Oh, what am I F¹.
 may Rowe. 377 ye Rowe (2), we F¹.

370 pray F¹,

Hath to it circumstantial branches, which Distinction should be rich in.—Where? how liv'd you?
 385 And when came you to serve our Roman captive?
 How parted with your brothers? how first met them?
 Why fled you from the court? and whither? These,
 And your three motives to the battle, with
 I know not how much more, should be demanded;
 390 And all the other by-dependencies,
 From chance to chance: but nor the time nor place
 Will serve our long inter'gatories. See,
 Posthúmus anchors upon Imogen,
 And she, like harmless lightning, throws her eye
 395 On him, her brothers, me, her master, hitting
 Each object with a joy: the counterchange
 Is severally in all.—Let's quit this ground,
 And smoke the temple with our sacrifices.—

[To Belarius] Thou art my brother; so we'll hold thee ever.

400 Imo. You are my father too; and did relieve me,
 To see this gracious season.

Cym. All o'erjoy'd,
 Save these in bonds: let them be joyful too,
 For they shall taste our comfort.

Imo. My good master,
 I will yet do you service.

Luc. Happy be you!

405 Cym. The forlorn soldier, that so nobly fought,
 He would have well becom'd this place, and grac'd
 The thankings of a king.

Post. I am, Sir,
 The soldier that did company these three
 In poor beseeming; 'twas a fitment for 410 The purpose I then follow'd.—That I was he, Speak, Iachimo: I had you down; and might Have made you finish.

³⁸⁷ whither? These Theobald, whether these? F¹. ⁴⁰⁵ so F², no F¹.
⁴⁰⁷ Sir F¹, great sir Keightley, sir king Anon. ⁴¹² you F¹, your F².

Iach. [Kneeling] I am down again:
But now my heavy conscience sinks my knee,
As then your force did. Take that life, beseech you,
415 Which I so often owe: but your ring first;
And here the bracelet of the truest princess
That ever swore her faith.

Post. Kneel not to me:
The power that I have on you is to spare you;
The malice towards you to forgive you: live,
420 And deal with others better.

Cym. Nobly doom'd!
We'll learn our freeness of a son-in-law;
Pardon's the word to all.

Arr. You help us, Sir,
As you did mean indeed to be our brother;
Joy'd are we that you are.

425 Post. Your servant, princes. Good my lord of Rome,
Call forth your soothsayer: as I slept, methought
Great Jupiter, upon his eagle back'd,
Appear'd to me, with other spritely shows
Of mine own kindred: when I wak'd, I found 430 This label on my bosom; whose containing Is so from sense in hardness, that I can Make no collection of it: let him show
His skill in the construction.

Luc. Philarmonus!

Sooth. Here, my good lord.

Luc. Read, and declare the meaning.

435 Sooth. [Reads] 'Whenas a lions whelp shall, to himself unknown, without seeking find, and be embraced by a piece of tender air; and when from a stately cedar shall be lopped branches, which, being dead many years, shall after revive, be jointed to the old stock, and freshly grow; 440 then shall Posthumus end his miseries, Britain be fortunate and flourish in peace and plenty.'

Thou, Leonatus, art the lion's whelp;
The fit and apt construction of thy name,

Being Leo-natus, doth import so much.

445 [To Cymbeline] The piece of tender air, thy virtuous
daughter,

Which we call 'mollis aer;' and 'mollis aer'
We term it 'mulier;' which 'mulier' I divine
Is this most constant wife; who, even now,
Answering the letter of the oracle,

450 Unknown to you, unsought, were clipp'd about
With this most tender air.

Cym. This hath some seeming.

Sooth. The lofty cedar, royal Cymbeline,
Personates thee: and thy lopp'd branches point
Thy two sons forth; who, by Belarius stol'n,
455 For many years thought dead, are now reviv'd,
To the majestic cedar join'd; whose issue
Promises Britain peace and plenty.

Cym. Well;
My peace we will begin:—and, Caius Lucius,
Although the victor, we submit to Cæsar,
460 And to the Roman empire; promising
To pay our wonted tribute, from the which
We were dissuaded by our wicked queen;
Whom heavens, in justice, both on her and hers,
Have laid most heavy hand.

465 Sooth. The fingers of the powers above do tune
The harmony of this peace. The vision
Which I made known to Lucius, ere the stroke
Of this yet scarce-cold battle, at this instant
Is full accomplish'd; for the Roman eagle,
470 From south to west on wing soaring aloft,
Lessen'd herself, and in the beams o' the sun
So vanish'd; which foreshow'd our princely eagle,
The imperial Cæsar, should again unite

⁴⁴⁸ this F¹, thy Capell. ⁴⁵⁸ By Hanmer, My F¹, Thy Delius
conj. ⁴⁶⁸ this yet F³, yet this F¹.

His favour with the radiant Cymbeline,
475 Which shines here in the west.

Gym. Laud we the gods;
And let our crooked smokes climb to their nostrils
From our blest altars. Publish we this peace
To all our subjects. Set we forward: let
A Roman and a British ensign wave
480 Friendly together: so through Lud's-town march:
And in the temple of great Jupiter
Our peace we'll ratify: seal it with feasts.—
Set on there!—Never was a war did cease,
Ere bloody hands were wash'd, with such a peace.

[Exeunt.
